BUCKNER HONDURAS

Roatan

Emergency Shelter

Program Description:	Short-term residential center which provides care for children while conducting a full clinical assessment of physical, psychological, intellectual and behavioral health, as well as family history ensures children are placed in the foster home or residential program that best meets their needs. There is a need of legal services to investigate and if need be prosecute the alleged perpetrators is slow to non-existent which is creating a bottle neck on returning these adolescent girls to a place of safety on the island. Therefore, these young ladies have continued to reside in the program until appropriate measures are provided to them to keep them in a safe setting.
Program Objectives:	Buckner-Honduras will continue to strive to develop a continuum of care for this population including transitional group care, foster care and community based services utilizing its Community Transformation Model.
Key Buckner Staff:	CTC Coordinator

Formal School

Program Description:	The Formal School is a component of Buckner's emergency/transitional home on the island of Roatan. Children entering into this program are assessed for educational placement. They are initially placed in the formal school until they are able to catch up to their age appropriate grade and/or have made significant gains not only educationally, but emotionally and behaviorally and can make a transition into the public school system.
Program Objectives:	The Formal School assesses children's education level, provides a certified educational program and prepares them for public school enrollment.

San Pedro Sula

Foster Care

Program Description:	Temporary residential services designed to care for children in the home of an unrelated family. Some children may require special services to meet their emotional, behavioral or physical needs.
Program Objectives:	Our goal is to have a minimum of 20 foster families providing care to children in Honduras by the end of 2011.
Key Buckner Staff:	Program Director

Transitional Home

Program Description:	Transitional homes target youth ages 18-21 with the primary goal of moving to a more independent, self-sufficient stage in life. Youth coming from the public child welfare system are often without appropriate family support due to previously identified concerns. To help the youth successfully transition, services including housing, education (formal and vocation), life skills, and career planning are provided. Offered in a group home environment the home is staffed by a houseparent. Each resident is provided with a life for each resident (typically 8-10 youth) the 24-36 month program is located in the community near local education and vocational training programs.
Program Objectives:	The transitional homes have been in place for about 3 years. The youth in these homes are completing their basic education and have the opportunity to begin transitioning into adult life by working, or pursing vocational or educational programs unique to their abilities and desires. There are now youth employed and pursuing a higher education.
