Division of Student Life BodyIQ Work Team and Pi Phi Sponsoring "Eaten Alive"

Thursday, November 19, 7:30-9 p.m. at Waco Hall. Eaten Alive, performed by Eva van Dok, is a one-woman theater piece that presents the lives of five women in different stages of life, all of whom suffer from different eating disorders. Nominated for NACA Lecture of the Year, this piece shows the behaviors, thought processes and lifestyles of the women in a way that illuminates the emotional dynamic of each character as they live and function with their disorder. Eva is currently a Broadway actress, and is also a recovered anorexic/bulimic. Eva achieves this by creating characters with whom the audience can relate: a roommate, a sibling, a friend, or even themselves. This piece has truly saved lives. This event is free and open to the public. For additional information, contact Van\_Davis@baylor.edu or Sandra\_Northern@baylor.edu or call 254-710-7436.
