Take a Break

As I am writing this article, our students are preparing for fall break—that glorious three-day weekend which provides time to assess progress and prepare for the second half of the semester. Not a bad idea for us to do as well—we just do not get the extra day off.

So, how are we doing? Based on my observations and the feedback I have received, I believe the semester is going quite well. We have the occasional “blip on the screen” that occurs when you work within a dynamic educational environment comprised of a student body of 15,000 plus; that said, at the halfway mark, we are definitely on a positive trajectory in accomplishing the goals and outcomes that will ultimately shape the hearts, minds, and souls of our students. Aiding us in this journey are the components that create and sustain excellence: intentional planning, quality implementation, and thoughtful assessment. Let me encourage you to continue to provide your personal and professional best as we enter the second half of the semester and work our way toward December. For as Colossians 3:23 reminds us: “And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men” (KJV).

Here’s to a great second half!

Kevin

Academic Integrity

An online Academic Integrity Tutorial is being required of all new freshmen and new transfer students before they may register for Spring 2012 classes. A perfect score of 100 is required, but the test may be taken as many times as are necessary. An email was sent to all students who are required to take the tutorial, telling them that the tutorial is now live and giving instructions for taking the tutorial.

This tutorial is the culmination of work over the past few months by a committee of faculty and staff, Sinda Vanderpool from the Provost's Office, and Linda Cates from the Office of Academic Integrity. A part of this tutorial presents videos that feature Baylor students as the actors. The ideas for the scenes that are portrayed came from actual students who have been involved in the Honor Code processes. After completing the quiz with a perfect score, students' registration holds will be removed.

Sexual Assault Work Team

The Sexual Assault Work Team and Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. hosted a forum: What Do You Do when Love Hurts: Breaking the Silence about Unhealthy Relationships and Sexual Assault. The forum, held October 5th in Kayser Auditorium, featured two speakers who shared their experiences with both topics. Information on bystander intervention was provided, and representatives from the Baylor University Counseling Center, Health Services, Police Department, and the Advocacy Center for Crime Victims and Children answered questions from the audience.

Seventh Street is a One-Way

Effective October 13th, 7th Street became a one-way street. When you exit the Pat Neff parking lot, you will now exit to the left. Access to Pat Neff will be from M.P. Daniel Esplanade only.

Academy Launches Leadership Clearinghouse

The Academy of Leader Development & Civic Engagement is pleased to announce its new leadership clearinghouse developed in collaboration with Baylor University Libraries. The purpose of this clearinghouse is to serve as a central repository where students, faculty, and staff studying, researching, or practicing leadership can share resources and connect with the greater leadership community. This searchable collection contains links to books, articles, professional organizations, and other resources around the topic of leadership. Users can rate resources and offer suggestions for additions to the collection. You can access the clearinghouse from the Academy resources page or directly at <http://researchguides.baylor.edu/content.php?pid=262636&sid=2168298>. As we seek to grow the depth and breadth of our collection, we would love to hear from you with your recommendations of favorite resources or research involving leadership. They may be scholarly or popular sources and from any category of leadership. You can submit your recommendations online at the clearinghouse or e-mail them directly to erin\_payseur@baylor.edu.

Community Chat Series

The Academy for Leader Development & Civic Engagement has launched a new dialogue series this fall about issues that affect our community from leaders making a difference. Every month leaders in our community will educate students on local issues and share with them ways they can get involved. These chats are a great way for students to learn more about different issues, to meet current professionals in the field, and to connect with additional service and/or advocacy opportunities.

In recognition of Domestic Violence Awareness Month, our October Community Chat will focus on the issue of domestic violence. This issue hits close to home for many of us and many of our students, as we either have been in abusive relationships ourselves or know others who have. Please help us spread the word and encourage your students to come learn more about how they can get involved in helping victims, educating others, and raising awareness about this important issue.
