Healthy Monday Tip
Raw fruits and vegetables usually provide more vitamins than their cooked counterparts, but there are ways to prevent nutrient loss while still savoring prepared foods. Careful cooking with minimized heat and water may only result in a 5 to 15 percent nutrient loss (compared to processed foods, which can lose 50 to 80 percent). This week, try steaming or quick sautéing vegetables and cooking meat over low heat to preserve as many nutrients as possible. You might even discover a new favorite recipe! For additional information, visit www.baylor.edu/wellness.
