Christmas with Baylor Round Table

In planning for the upcoming holidays, Baylor Chamber Singers are preparing an inspirational program of Christmas selections to be presented in the McLean Foyer of Meditation at the Armstrong Browning Library for the enjoyment of Round Table members and guests. The luncheon following the concert will provide a time for good food and fellowship in Cox Reception Hall. Be sure to mark your calendar now for 11:30 a.m., December 2, at the Armstrong Browning Library and join us in celebrating this joyous season.

Silent Auction Items Needed

Remember the Silent Auction is on the day of our December program. It is not too late to go through those closets and find items that you no longer need and others might want to purchase. All the money made goes to the Round Table Scholarship. You can drop off items at Martha Lou Scott's office at the SLICK in the Student Life office. You can park right in front of her door and someone will help you unload. Or if you prefer, call Madelyn Jones and she will come to your house to get the items. We are hoping to add dollars to our scholarship at this great auction! Thanks for all of your support. We will have wonderful baskets at the auction to bid on (as we did at the May style show) as well as the donations. So don't forget to bring your checkbooks to the auction!!!!

The weather is cooling down, just in time for the next Baylor Theater production—Almost, Maine, by John Cariani and directed by Lisa Denman. The Round Table Theater Group will meet at 6:30 pm on Friday, November 12th in the Hooper-Schaefer Faculty Lounge before the 7:30 pm performance.
