The Call of the Arts and Humanities that Produces Grace in Action

Alexander Reading Room,
8 November 2012
3:30 p.m.

World-class pianist Helge Antoni speaks on the capacity of the arts and humanities to engender acts of compassion through one's life and work. This highly personal account will demonstrate how music and literature led Mr. Antoni to effect his own humanitarian work in Peru, where his foundation has touched lives of thousands of children through the arts. Each of us, he will show, should follow our (he-)arts.
