Monday Healthy Tip from Monday Campaigns
Stress less this week. Long-term stress can trigger existing health problems and create new ones. Talking to a doctor, about the symptoms you’re experiencing can help determine if they’re due to stress or the result of another health problem. If the diagnosis is stress, reduce it with these methods:

- Take five; find a place to sit down comfortably and breathe in deeply.
- Reach out; a great support system can go a long way. Talk to a loved one.
- Walk it off; even ten minutes of exercise can help relieve stress.
