ALERT!!!

All Baylor University e-mail accounts have received an increasing number of Phishing e-mails recently. Phishing e-mails attempt to trick the recipient of the e-mail into disclosing personal or confidential financial information. Phishing e-mails typically convey a sense of urgency for the recipient to respond and will refer to a Web site that requests personal information such as account numbers, usernames, passwords, social security numbers, and dates of birth. Examples would be Citibank, Paypal, Ebay, Chase, and Baylor University. You should not click on any links contained in such e-mails. If you have a concern regarding a legitimate account you do have at a business or financial institution, you may contact their Web site by opening a web browser and typing in the web address yourself. Baylor University and other businesses will not send e-mails requesting confidential information or the verification of that information. If at any point you receive a suspicious e-mail, you should delete it. If you have concerns about the message of the e-mail, please contact the Help Desk at 254-710-4357 immediately.
