While on the long Emmaus road,
weighed down with grief and sorrow’s load, in hopes their dreams would be restored
the two disciples met the Lord.

Like them, we journey to refresh ourselves in spirit, heart, and flesh, to recreate ourselves, and find renewal of our soul and mind.

On pilgrimage we set apart—for worship, prayer, repose of heart—a holy place, and there pursue a faith restored, a love made new.

To distant lands our path may go to share with those who need to know the love of Jesus Christ, who came to pardon those who trust his name.

In all our travel, let us see
the journey as a jubilee;
our hopes refreshed, our dreams restored,
for as we go, we take the Lord.
