MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

2006 will certainly go down in the history of the Army Physical Therapy Education Programs as a year to remember!

Our gathering at CSM was outstanding! We welcomed graduates, faculty, and friends from many generations. Thanks to Ted Gutierrez, our social chair, for all of his hard work in arranging this gathering. A few years ago, the Board of Directors voted to hold our annual social function at CSM rather than at our annual conference in June. The high turn out over the past few years has confirmed our decision.

The first DPT class will graduate on 7 April 2006, opening a new chapter in our history. We still have members who graduated from programs that were held at the various general hospitals. For you history buffs, in 1951 the program was brought to Fort Sam Houston. In 1972 the first master's degree was given and in 1973 the program admitted men.

On 5 May 2006, (Friday) we will host the annual Colonel Marilyn J. Anderson Distinguished Lectures. Pam Duncan will be speaking in the morning and John Ferguson will speak in the afternoon. The students will join us for lunch that day. Individual classes may plan their activities for Friday evening and Saturday. The Alumni luncheon will be on Saturday. The board of directors meeting will be on Saturday morning. I hope that as many as possible will join us. Last year's program by Ruth Purtilo was a great success.

For a long time, the Board of Directors has worked toward making our newsletter available on the Army-Baylor web site. We want to be accessible to one and all! Of course, we realize that some of our members do not have access to the World Wide Web, so we will provide a hard copy upon request. We believe that the new format will allow us to be more current and to include a larger volume of information. We extend many thanks to the class reps that collected all of the information.

For all the reasons that 2006 will be a bright and long remembered year, I would be remiss if I did not mention the death of our most senior member, Florence P. Kendall, Walter Reed, 1932. It was my honor each year to provide Florence with a summary of the Association business. Her phone calls were always memorable. We would usually play several rounds of telephone tag before we spoke and she would always end her messages with a reminder to pray for our troops. Florence touched many lives. There will be those who never heard her name but have benefited from her teaching and her enthusiasm. We have extended our sympathy to her family and to the Maryland Chapter of the APTA where she was an active member. At our meeting in May, the Board will take the final vote to honor Florence by naming the Outstanding Alumni Award in her honor.

Please share the news about our newsletter's new location on the Army Baylor Doctoral Program Web page. !

CLASS NEWS

CLASS OF 1932 FLORENCE P KENDALL, PT, FAPTA, 95, died on Saturday night, January 28. The following was written about Florence on the APTA website following her death:

She dedicated more than 70 years of her life to physical therapy, continuing to be one of this country's foremost physical therapists well into her 90s. As recently as last year, she received the 2005 Charles M Magistro Distinguished Service Award from the Foundation for Physical Therapy for her outstanding service and personal commitment to promoting the goals of the Foundation.

She played a major role in drafting the original bill that was enacted into law in 1947 legally establishing the practice of physical therapy in Maryland. She was the secretary to the Maryland State Board of Physical Therapy Examiners from 1969-70, a member of that Board from 1971-74, and served as a consultant to the Board from 1974-97. Kendall and her husband, Henry, spent many years treating patients with polio at Children's Hospital as well as in their private physical therapy practice.

She taught physical therapy at the University of Maryland's School of Medicine, Physical Therapy Department. She was also an instructor in biomechanics at the School of Nursing at Johns Hopkins Hospital. A nationally acclaimed lecturer and author of numerous books and journal articles about physical therapy, Florence Kendall's work has set the standard for musculoskeletal evaluation and treatment.

Her book, Muscle Testing and Function, originally published in 1949, published its fifth edition last year. Recognized as the "gold standard" for musculoskeletal assessment, this work has been translated into eight foreign languages.

Kendall is a founding member of the American Physical Therapy Association of Maryland and was its president 1939-41 and 1957-59. She served on the Maryland State Board of Physical Therapy Examiners and also was a consultant to the Surgeon General of the United States Army.

Kendall's work as a clinician, researcher, and lecturer earned her many awards and honorary degrees. In 1976, the Maryland Chapter established the Henry O Kendall and Florence P Kendall Practice Award for outstanding achievement in clinical practice; in 1980 it became a national honor from the Foundation for Physical Therapy. In April 2000, the Kendall Historical Collection of books at the University of Maryland Health and Human Services Library was dedicated. The Henry O and Florence P Kendall Conference Room was dedicated at the University of Maryland's School of Physical Therapy in December 2000. She was named to the Maryland Women's Hall of Fame in 2002.

A McMillan Lecturer, Catherine Worthingham Fellow, and recipient of the Lucy Blair Service award, among many other honors, Kendall was a role model for all physical therapists, but especially to women. She clearly demonstrated that a woman can be a good wife and mother, and at the same time be a leader in her chosen profession.

CLASS OF 1946 LAURA COLEMAN: Wrote I want to report in and thank you for your effort to keep track of “us”. I appreciate Major Vogel for the effort she put forth to teach our ten. To someone’s credit I have done well to be a professional who has been helpful to a community for over 60 years. Her picture hangs in our home and one thing she said everyday “when I say one o’clock I don’t mean a minute over or a minute under.” Our four children were helped by this too. I thank you again and what a wonderful profession we have.

CLASS OF 1941 JACQUELINE PERRY: Attended the Alumni Association Reunion activities in San Antonio last year and received the Distinguished Alumni Award.

CLASS OF 1946 RACHEL ADAMS: Reports she and Marilyn Anderson (1951) visited Knollwood in Washington, D.C. where we had a lovely lunch with Barbara Friz. Barbara, at 96, was as vivacious as we remembered her. In a recent letter to me she states “I’m still in the Health Center and traveling mostly in a wheel chair, but hope to use a walker most of the time soon. I go to PT almost every day and that always makes me feel better. Incidentally, they allow me to be my own PT instructor.” While at Knollwood, we also had a lovely chat with Agnes Brigham (1945) and visited Liz Davies briefly.

CLASS OF 1946 GENEVA JOHNSON: The number of us who came before 1949 grows smaller every year. Some old soldiers just fade away and some of us do not know how to do that. In 2000 my husband and I moved to Baton Rouge. This year we escaped the vengeance of Mother Nature which left New Orleans in ruins. That has canceled plans for cruises from the Port of New Orleans until much further notice. Meanwhile, we are not idle. In 2002 I activated a long dormant plan to start a publishing business. By August, 2003 we had the first book in print, Taxonomy of Physical Therapist Behaviors. A companion to that one, Taxonomy of Physical Therapist Assistant Behaviors will be at the printer's and bindery this week. In between we published Educating Physical Therapists as Primary Care Practitioners: Competencies for the Learner and Faculty Development. More are on the way. I have been the primary author for the two Taxonomies and contributed a chapter to the one on primary care practitioners. My real work has been editing and organizing every thing for the final copy, deciding on the covers, and then handling the sales. We have published a beautiful volume for a landscape architect that he titled: A Philosophy of Planting, and two whimsical art books--Dainty Dragon and Baby's Day. A Philosophy of Planting will be issued in paper back within the year. Clearly this is not a business that makes any money but does keep me occupied. I have learned enough about the computer to manage but not enough to be self-sufficient so have a consultant who helps me not to panic when all seems to go wrong. My interest in physical therapy has never waned for which I am grateful and feel blessed to have been a part of the changes over the past 60 years--and more to come, I hope.

CLASS OF 1951 MARYILYN (ANDY) ANDERSON: This past year has been busy with some travel and lots of volunteer work. A couple of trips to Canada and two weeks in England skippering a "narrow boat" through the midlands canals were the highlights for travel. We also had lots of visitors, among them Jane Sweeney, Alice Harmon Bageant (and husband Bob), and Chris Standley Brazell from the class of 1968. Jane also popped into the hospital in Bellingham to help us get Rachel discharged after an ankle fusion. What an eye-opener in process to those of us who haven't seen much of hospitals since being on active duty! This coming July we are planning to accompany the local Orcas A Capella Choir to Mainz, Germany with a three-day stopover in Prague. The highlight in Prague (and probably the entire trip) will be seeing Phyllis Plotnick from the class of 1970.

CLASS OF 1952 #4 H. JO MCKINLEY: I moved into Exeter House, a retirement home in downtown Seattle, prior to having abdominal surgery for colon cancer in March 2005. Am doing OK and plan to move into a larger apartment with a great view soon.

CLASS OF 1953 #6 BARBARA GRAY: My news is not good. Helen E. Price has had 5 strokes since 17 April 05. Her problems started in Dec 04 with congestive heart failure. Then in Feb after several hospitalizations, she developed atrial fib. She had one massive stroke 19 April at Tampa General Hospital which is a stroke center. All five strokes were caused by her heart. She is now doing very well with very little weakness on her right side. Her problem is speech which has improved a great deal, but she is unable to read or write. I do that for her. Too bad, because this was her hobby. She is very determined. As for me I have been a very busy caregiver for all of 2005. I have really done nothing else.

CLASS OF 1953 #7 (Submitted by Mary Van Harn, Class Representative)

RUTH CLEMENTS DiDOMINICO: Happy owner of a home overlooking the Pacific, where her six children and 17 grandchildren have plenty of room to visit. She owns one-half of a campground, which she manages 12 hours a day, 7 days a week. She intends to quit this intense schedule in a year, but that leaves time for a class 7 reunion there. Last fall, three classmates joined expert sailor, "Clem", for a visit and sail on a large boat, which she no longer owns.

She is also an artist of exceptional talent (as seen by class rep.)

LOIS MacTAGGERT: Happily doing the same old things. She continues making the finest lace (she says "not as fine as she once did") and hosting her lace-making group. She is addicted to reading mystery novels and caring for one special cat. One younger sister is her main family now; and they find time to get together three or four times a year. Because she had a serious car accident, causing a "broken back" a couple of years ago, she is working on regaining confidence to drive for others (so she can resume driving cancer victims to treatment facilities.) She says her back is fine, she feels great, and is able to do all she needs to do.

JEANETTE NICHOLS MIDDLEBROOKS: Still doing her favorite things - reading and gardening. Keeps her mind and body in shape by taking educational classes and participating in organized exercise programs. Her new dog, a golden retriever, knocked her off her feet (puppy excitement) causing her to fall on a stone terrace. No bones were broken but the injuries and subsequent infection kept her in bed for a month. "Jan" is looking forward to hearing about other classmates.

AIDA NANCY SANCHEZ: Physical Therapist Nancy works "as needed" providing home health service for a medical center, and for a private organization serving Head Start children. She continues serving as a Board Member for the University of Georgia (extended), her local County area, and the Master Gardener organization. Hiking on mountain trails is a favorite activity that temporarily put her out of commission when she fell over a cliff sustaining a head injury (subdural hematoma) but no residual damage. She says she needs to ease up on activity so she can enjoy her condo at Myrtle Beach.

CORRINE (LOU) STRONG: Lou gets her exercise by gardening, leaf raking, and walking her 10- year-old dog, keeping each other in fine condition. They both miss former housemate Nan Keegen who died two years ago. Having lived in San Antonio for at least 30 years Lou says,
"This really is home and there are many friends and family there."

MARY A. VAN HARN: Official address is in Maryland but also lives at her Michigan home about half a year. Death took away her mother, sister and brother leaving her the special opportunity to sub for them at events involving her nieces, nephews and their children. All excel as athletes and Mary loves to watch. Organizational activity includes WOSL (Women's Overseas Service League) and now the Red Hat Society. A return to ITC (formerly Toastmistress) is planned. Reading best selling novels is her major addiction.

Class of 1954 #9

LOIS HARTRANFT FINDLEY: "Sorry we couldn't make it to the 50th reunion last summer (2004). John had many medical problems and couldn't travel. I couldn't leave him to run the business by himself. We are in the process of gradually turning it over to new managers starting this season (2005). If all goes well we will completely retire from it in 2007. We celebrated our 50th Wedding Anniversary on Dec 18, 2004. John surprised me with a trip to San Francisco where we met. I have not been back there since. It really hasn't change much. We were only there three days and used public transportation so we didn't get out to the Presidio. It is first on our list the next time we go. All our children are well and our second granddaughter is being married in July 2005. Only nine more to go. We wish all of you good health and happiness. My e-mail address is LoisFind@aol.com would love to hear from you." Lois' Christmas card this year brought us up to date: "Our 50th Wedding Anniversary was celebrated again in April 2005 thanks to Greg's organization. 140 people attended and our kids gave us a roasting with Colin emceeing and everyone laughing and crying. 50 people joined us later at the house for a buffet dinner. Our kids who are musically talented entertained us with a "hootenanny" and my wedding dress was on a mannequin at the reception. I cried when I saw it. Our new managers at Small Point worked out well; we helped them close and then stayed on the island until Nov. 11th and enjoyed the time to ourselves." Lois goes on to say that she and John are in good health except for the aches and pains of aging. She lives in W. Lafayette, IN. I had hoped that she could attend the RAMSCA Meeting in Indianapolis June 2005 but her schedule didn't allow it.

FLORENCE WAMBACH KARN: From May of 2004: Florence is busy babysitting her 2 year old granddaughter while her middle daughter Ann works. She was unable to attend the 50th Reunion but hoped there was a big turnout and she would be thinking of everyone. Have a great time. She signed her name with her old MOS: M2998. She still lives in Lutherville, MD. She said Betty Mullen Brey still lives in Berlin, MD and that they had talked recently. Florence and her husband Phil celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary in 2005. Carol Daly Crook and her husband Al visited Florence and Phil in September 2005 for 4 days. Only the 3rd time they had seen each other in 50 years !!! Florence's email address is: FKarn@grampa.ka9q.net. From 2005: Phil and I are still living in Lutherville, MD where we have been for almost fifty years. We recently celebrated our golden wedding anniversary. Time really flies! We keep busy in retirement, especially by helping out with our two young grandchildren, ages three and eight. Last fall we were delighted to have a visit by PT #9 classmate, Carol Daly Crook and her husband, Al. Needless to say, we enjoyed catching up on all the news. Also for the Newsletter, I would like to let you know that I had a letter from Larry A. Snyder telling me of the passing of AGNES SNYDER on June 28, 2004 at the age of 97. (As you all know, LTC Snyder was Director of the US Army Physical Therapy Program at MFSS when we were in school and she later became Chief, Physical Therapist, OTSG. After retirement from the Army, she was Director of the PT Program at SUNY in NY. She was an early pioneer in physical therapy and worked with COL Emma Vogel at Walter Reed in the '1930s and 1940s. She also served as President of the APTA.) She passed away of natural causes at her home in the Knollwood Distaff Foundation in Washington, DC. Larry is her great nephew. He moved to the Washington area 20 years ago and had been fortunate to spend a great deal of time with her over the years. Funeral services were held Aug 23, 2004 in Chevy Chase, MD followed by a memorial service and internment at Arlington National Cemetery with full military honors. She was a wonderful woman, an outstanding teacher and true professional. Larry said, "the services at Arlington were quite dignified and fitting. I'm proud to be her nephew". I am very proud to have been one of her students and I believe all in our class would feel the same way.

VIRGINIA (GINNY) METCALF: "I attended the RAMSCA meeting in Indianapolis in June of this year and had a wonderful time visiting with old friends and meeting new ones. I would encourage all members of the USA/PT Alumni Association to attend the RAMSCA meetings... they are fun-filled and provide an opportunity to renew acquaintances with PTs, OTs, Dietitians and PAs with whom we've worked. The AMSC Corps Chief and the Section Chiefs participate and give an update on Corps activities. The meetings are held biennially and the next meeting will be in Wilmington, NC in 2007. You need not be retired from the AMSC to attend. There are Associate memberships as well as regular memberships and I would encourage you to join. There is a wonderful Newsletter published twice a year with a directory of members also. For further information write to: The Retired Army Medical Specialist Corps Association, PO Box 39451, Serna Street Station, San Antonio, TX 78218-1451. For your information, COL Ann Fritsch Class #8 1954 received the RAMSCA Distinguished Service Award for her volunteer work with the Veterans Administration and other organizations in Milwaukee, WI. COL Celeste Carpenter, DT, received the RAMSCA COL Emma E. Vogel Award. I hope other members of our class (#9 1954) will stay in touch. We seem to be losing contact with quite a few. My email is bteexmas@dellsnet.com. I hope to hear from you. Best wishes to all and for Peace in 2006.

JANE GALE PRALL: George and I are enjoying the retirement life and this winter's mild and sunny weather here in Sun City, AZ. We haven't done much traveling in the past year because George has had some medical problems. He was diagnosed with congestive heart failure and had a stent put in a coronary artery in February 2005. He's feeling much better, but has had difficulty getting his strength back to where we'd like it to be. I'm doing well. I keep busy with all manner of things - especially counted cross stitch and needlepoint projects. Who knew I'd turn out to be a crafty type person?

CLASS OF 1955

PAT HANSEN: I really don't have anything new or exciting this time. Oh, Donna sent me the composite pictures of all the previous chiefs so I could put them with the rest of the archives that I have. As usual she did a great job with them.

JO OSBORN NETZ: I try and keep in touch with Pat Allsup and with Bea Thompson. I will be celebrating my 50th Wedding Anniversary in March with Howard. He has been my Army support buddy and my "icon" for 51 years. We are both retired now. I still do water aerobics for fun. My best wishes to everyone.

BEATRICE E. THOMPSON: The main thing that I did in 2005 was to compile a journal consisting of letters from various classmates of the Class of 1955. This job required buying a new computer that could handle the load. Since I changed from a Microsoft program to a Macintosh, this also made the job a headache at times. But I did get it in the mail by the deadline I had set. It was good to hear from the classmates and our instructors to hear what they had been doing. I had my 80th birthday two weeks ago. I am amazed that I have made it this far.

CLASS OF 1956 (Submitted by Jan McIlroy, Class Representative)

JOAN SMITH LORD: I have been in my new residence, a retirement community in Concord, NH, almost a year! Enjoying many activities, Bridge, Cribbage, Pool, and other games. Participate in exercises in the swimming pool three times a week, World Concerns and book discussion groups. Spent Christmas in California with my four-year-old granddaughter and a week in October on Mount Desert Island in Maine with elder son. Spent some time this summer with Nell Henson, who is also a PT alumnus. Best wishes to all.

JAN McILROY: Thanks for the offer to put in something for me. I really don't have anything to report this year.

NANCY TAFT WHITMAN: I'm still spending a good portion of my time traveling--this past year to Patagonia, the Balkan countries, and China/Tibet. I'm leaving shortly for Thailand. In addition, there are twice yearly visits to the kids/grandkids on the East Coast (PA and NC) and also Kansas City, and the annual Music Teachers Association conference, this past year in Seattle. When in town I do some performing on piano (collaborative, no more solo), am active in too many things (guess I can't say no), play golf when the weather permits, and try to see the three grandchildren who live in town (eleven live elsewhere).

HILDA (SANDY) WALKER: I spend most days with "Kristy" (my two year old Schnauzer). She lets me live with her! We do walk, rain or shine (and rain has been the order of the day for the past month). I'm quilting with my church group and enjoying it greatly. I'm President of the Board of a Medical Scholarship managed by my local DAR Chapter. We provide scholarships to 2nd, 3rd, & 4th year Medical students at Univ. of Washington and Univ. of Nevada, Reno. That is a challenging job, but most enjoyable. In April, I go back to NC to visit my 96-year-old mother. (This year, even she is watching the NFC Division game between NC Panthers and my Seattle Sea Hawks. Go Hawks!)

CLASS OF 1957

CAROLGENE WILLIAMS WHATTOFF: At 71 I find myself baby-sitting grandchildren, Aidan and Garon, learning something new every time. I am involved in senior education and fitness classes. Yard upkeep and short travel trips fill up my spare time. Husband, Jim, is with Allient International University teaching statistics. Daughter, Anne, is director of the San Diego Children's Choir. Daughter, Katie, is transitioning back into the force as her son is ready for Pre School. It has been another good year for us. We hope the same for all of you.

JEAN TEMPLETON BRADY: Still happily married to Charles--retired from Montgomery Co. School System. In 1992 we moved to Cocoa Beach. I still work per diem a couple days each week at a hospital or SNF as I so love to help people and enjoy co-workers. Joan-daughter- is married to an attorney in Orlando. She is an OT and has three children. Scott-son- is married to a CBS meteorologist. He works at FL Hospital as a medical internist physician and has 4 little girls. Paul-my "baby"-is married to a social worker and lives in Knoxville TN. He is an orthopedic surgeon and has 3 1/2 children. I'm still active in sports; a good thing with 10 1/2 grandchildren. I'm also very active in our church and have a greater love for Jesus each passing year. My fondest memories are times at Brooke and our classmates. We are only 1 1/4 hours from Disney and love company, "So come on down!"

CLASS OF 1959

SARAH YOUNG BOWMAN: I am enjoying my retirement from teaching. Albert and I live a quite life taking care of our horse and enjoying our grandchildren. I ride about once a week with friends at the barn where we board our horse. I am also a member of a performing tap dancing group called the Rockyettes - we dance free of charge - mostly in nursing homes. I like to sew (make neck pillows for a local Hospice) read and am active in the local horse association.

PAT PAVLIS: I've had a pretty good year staying busy with happy homeowner chores, taking care of Mom, age 96, who fortunately is still going strong and enjoying life, and also took a couple trips to Laughlin, NV, to meet my TX and AZ friends. In between all my busy activities, I managed to break my distal fibula in a dumb fall, and that slowed me down for a few days. All is well now. Happy 2006 and good health to all.

CLASS OF 1960 MARY LUCAS: I am looking forward to the New Year of '06 with a trip to the Western Caribbean in January (Montego Bay, Grand Caymans and the Yucatan of Mexico). In March it is off to the desert in California and in September a trip to Hawaii with a cruise to all of the islands. I have been a "bit gimpy" since having arthroscopic knee surgery in Dec, but the operated knee is doing fine. I had great physical therapy from a former army PT, Steve Stratton. Now, if I can just get the other one on track and out of the sympathy mode!

CLASS OF 1961 (Submitted by Michelle Putnam, Class Representative)

BONNIE BLOSSOM: Bonnie Blossom continues to enjoy retirement. She is staying healthy with a fairly active "Body maintenance" program, loving and walking her dogs, nurturing several very wonderful friendships, pursuing many exciting hobbies, traveling in her RV, still in love with Bellingham, WA and enjoying the great Northwest. New email address: seamtblossom@comcast.net.

CAROLE BUSS: My trips this year were a cruise to the western Caribbean for a week in Jan., a visit to Palm Springs for the Ladies Pro golf tournament in March, to Wisconsin for a family wedding in June and back to Wis. To spend time with my brother in mid-December (he has multiple myeloma which thus far is not successfully treatable). I continue to work with our women's group that does home repairs for senior citizens. Best wishes to all for a healthy 2006.

MARY HUSTON: Is enjoying living in Arizona in the winter and Washington in the summer. This year she took a 6-week trip to Europe seeing sights from 35 years ago and adding sights in places she couldn't visit like East Berlin, Dresden and Prague. She also took a trip in her RV last fall when the price of gas was the highest. It was over 6,000 miles to New York City and back, but worth it. Address: 200 E. Southern Ave. #102, Apache Junction, AZ 85219, e-mail: mhuston345@earthlink.net.

DEE MARTIN: Attended her 45th college reunion in May and high school 49th in October. It's been an eventful year with many family members passing. She and her family are doing well. Dee retired in August 2005, but continues to work PRN in home health with the county health department. Dee's Mom also passed away August 31st. She was 91 and 3/4ths years old. Now they are free to visit their children in Denver, NC and AL.

NANCY SAUL HULL: Has had an eventful year. She continues to work in acute care 2 days a week at the Medical Center of Central Georgia. Steve had several surgeries in 2005: CABG x 3 in April, an angioplasty with stent in May and an endarterectomy in June. After 2 months rehabilitation he is doing well; walking, exercising, fishing and doing woodworking. Christmas was exciting as all 5 children with spouses and 4 grandchildren spent it with them. She had a summer trip to Syracuse, NY. She visited friends and her brother-in-law. She hopes to travel more in 2006. E-mail: nhull4692@aol.com.

MICHELLE PUTNAM: Moved to Brandon Wilde, a Life Care Community in Evans, GA November 2004 and thoroughly enjoys it and her cottage. She volunteers her time to work in the community rose garden and has just become the chairperson overseeing "the park" which runs along a walking path behind her living area. She is active in her church and garden club and still sees her Augusta friends plus does a bit of traveling. Betty Landen spent this Christmas with her, which was fun for both.

CLASS OF 1963 ALICE COUPERUS GROSS: After 30+ years in our "Victorian-on-a-Small-Piece-of-Land", we are about to relocate to a Retirement Community with Life Care less than 20 miles away. Brian, an Anesthesiologist, retired in August. He has been diagnosed with Parkinson's Disease since 1990 and the time to move is now!! Children and grandchildren (5) live in CA, AZ and NJ. Great places to visit but not "retirement" for us. We all get together for a week twice a year, with wonderfully fun and short visits in between. My per-diem PT days at a local hospital have been two to four days a month and I love the patient care...in spite of computer responsibilities. With our move, I think my retirement is on the horizon. This is a new "adventure" in our lives. We will make it challenging, interesting and exciting.

CLASS OF 1965

ABBY HEFFLEY MALONE: From Abby's 2005 Christmas letter. "Greetings to our friends far and near! We hope this finds you all happy healthy and enjoying live and the hustle and bustle of the holiday season. We don't normally share sad news in our Christmas letters, but it is so much a part of our lives, we feel we have to share it. As many of you know, we lost our son, Michael, very suddenly in March, '03. In January '05, we lost our son, Buzzy, after a long and courageous battle with Lupus. We were very happy we were able to spend last Christmas with him and Margaret. We miss them both dearly and continue our grieving process while trying to be there for the rest of our family in their grief. In August, we went back to Hawaii for Margaret, since it was her birthday and their anniversary. We took her to Kauai for a week of fun and golfing. In May, we went to PA for our grandson, Christopher, and his high school graduation. We went back to PA in October for our grandson, Michael, and his 21st birthday. Michael and Christopher are Michael's sons and they are both exceptional young men and we are very proud of them. In April, we took Kathy, Jeff, Matthew and Ryan to Disneyland and they succeeded in wearing out Grand mom and Grand pop! If only we could borrow some of the energy of a 3 year old! We recently returned from a Caribbean cruise that we took to celebrate our 35th anniversary (can you believe it!). Christmas this year will be spent in PA with Kathy and her family, Bob and his son, Patrick, our daughter-in-laws, Sue and Janice, and grandsons, Mike and Chris. So you see, life goes on and we have chosen to try to live it to the fullest in spite of our difficulties and we thank God every day for our blessings! Our wish for you all: cherish the good times and fill your memory banks with lots of happiness. Many blessings to you and yours. Abby and Frank. Address: 3407 Sandpiper Dr., Punta Gorda, FL 33950, 941-505-7791, e-mail: 2inpgi@comcast.net.

PRISCILLA GREEN POPE: I finally did it, that is I retired. Richard and I moved to Florida in Sept. Last week we finally sold our house in Ohio. We are in a Del Webb Retirement Community and love it so far. Don't have time to do everything that we want to do plus we plan to travel lots. In November we went to Prague for 6 days and found it to be a delightful city. Our daughters came to visit at Christmas, Kat from the Albuquerque area and Steph from Raleigh, NC. Golf, swimming, working out, and many clubs such as the Veterans Club, Computer Club, Travel Club, Arts & Crafts Club, softball and volleyball keep us more than busy. I feel just like a kid again just playing to my heart's content. Let us know if you will be in the area as we have a first come first served policy on guests with a 2 week maximum stay. Our new address is 11868 SE 91st Circle, Summerfield, FL 34491 (about 10 miles south of Ocala and 60 miles north of Orlando). Hi to everyone and we hope to see some of you.

CLASS OF 1966 (Submitted by Robin Boys Jorlett, Class Representative)

ROBIN BOYS JORLETT: And husband, Pete welcomed in 2005 in Bergamo, Italy with son, Joe. We are looking forward to his visit in January 2006 from France where he is working. Daughter, Julie, our Brooke General Hospital preemie will also be visiting this month with her husband, Jim, from Anchorage where she teaches 2-3 grade and he is a chef at a local restaurant. They recently purchased a cabin south of Denali National Park and we look forward to a visit there this summer. We have a trailer now on the Outer Banks of North Carolina where you will find us many weekends and Pete continues to improve his surf fishing skills catching a nearly twelve pound "Little Tunny" last summer. Robin continues to provide physical therapy services for a local school system but works only three and a half days a week and has summers off! She trained for a marathon over the spring and summer and was a "finisher" in the 30th Marine Corps Marathon in October and recently began preparation for the Cherry Blossom 10 Mile Run this April in DC. Robin and Pete hope to travel to San Antonio in May for the class reunion.

JUDY BLACKMAN KIGIN: Retired on March 31, 2005 as the physical therapist at Little Sisters of the Poor and filled her plate with more activities.... She and husband, Mike flew to Utah in April to attend BYU graduation of their son, Ryan and his wife, Melissa and got to go snowshoeing with 16" of snow and then on to South Africa for a two-week trip including a flight north to Botswana, Zimbabwe, Zambia, and Namibia. Judy spent a week in June at the National Scout Jamboree helping staff the tent for the Genealogy merit badge, which over 900 Scouts completed. In July, the Kigin Family Reunion was held on Cape Cod with all the kids for a week. Judy was a call agent for the Red Cross National Response Center in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina, where she volunteered until November and she serves weekly at the DC Temple - attending a wonderful Book of Mormon institute class, struggles to complete the book for a book club (group has met monthly since 1980), is the ward music chair and helps coordinate sending boxes of goodies and cards to overseas troops three times a year. Mike retires from the SEC this summer so who knows where the Kigin Christmas Chronicles will be mailed from next year -- wherever they are, they hope to be near friends/family, kids and grandchildren. Judy indicated she would like to go to San Antonio, too -- she loves the flexibility of being retired!

SANDY HOOS KSIR: And husband, Charlie, have been busy traveling from Wyoming to Barbados in January, San Jose del Cabo in March and in October to Niagara Falls and New York City. Their big trip was two-weeks to Alaska in July spending a week on a small ship cruising the Inside Passage and then on the Alaska Railway to Denali National Park. Sandy is working three days a week at the hospital and hopes to spend an extra day at their cabin once in a while or take a short trip in their airplane when the weather is inviting. Charlie is retired from the University - "emeritus", planning on continuing to teach half time while working on textbook writing and other projects. They keep running, too - Charlie did a half marathon and daughter, Amy joined them for the Bolder Boulder 10K on Memorial Day.

ALICE FARNEY RYAN: Requested information about the class reunion in May in San Antonio, indicating she and Jack would like to attend. Alice shared they have moved to Hot Springs Village in Arkansas and are loving their new home with its' million dollar view.

JUDY STITLEY: Made no mainland trips in 2005 and had surgery in November to repair an old rotator cuff injury but managed an island cruise on the Pride of America in December with a friend. She has resumed her morning walks along the beach and notes the pleasure of 'creaky joints' and shared she saw a monk seal at Makaha "in the wild"! Judy was planning a Texas trip in April to check out the bluebonnets but someone on the cruise mentioned that weather last year in Texas might affect bluebonnets along the highway so she will investigate further. Maybe they will bloom in May for the return of the class of 1966? Judy's sister and her family are coming to Maui in May and she expects to join them for part of the time. Judy is in e-mail correspondence with MARCIA JONES SNOW and indicated she had met her in Pennsylvania Dutch Country several years ago and notes she had surgery for a second total hip scheduled the end of January.

KAREN SHERWOOD TYRER: And husband, Ron moved just before Christmas to Clarkson, Kentucky, which is 90 minutes southwest from Louisville and they have 70 acres of woods, trails and creeks. Karen shared she spent most of the year painting, remodeling, and packing boxes in preparation for the move. Ron has stayed busy in his "retirement" with interim CEO hospital positions - near Chicago for nine months, in Paris, Kentucky for two months and recently in southern Indiana. Son, Drew finished the graduate program in Sports Administration at the University of Louisville in December and will be getting married in July. Daughter, Kim and her husband, Steve stay busy keeping up with their four and a half year old son, Pearson and he enjoys visiting "Nana in the wilderness". Son, Chad enjoys attending an adult day care center in town with many of his high school friends. Karen shared she spent several months this year in physical therapy for a torn tendon in her ankle, a painful experience but indicated she too would like to attend the reunion in San Antonio even though it is Derby Weekend!

JUDY WELLS WAIT And husband, Chip still live at 9000 ft in the center of Colorado. She does some Home Health PT, some Hospice and occasionally gets called to the local hospital to help with in-patients when they get unusually busy. Judy and Chip have a granddaughter in Durango. They ski, fly fish, hike and boat. Judy joins her daughter, TC and her husband to help with recreational dogsled running - 17 sled dogs! Judy's Mom tolerates the altitude well and enjoys the mountain life, staying with Judy part of the year. Judy hopes everyone is enjoying life as much as she is.

CLASS OF 1967 Submitted by Carmela Kube, Class Representative

KAREN STEPHENS NELSON: Dear Friends, retirement is wonderful. Nolan and I celebrated our 35th wedding anniversary in July with a trip to Oregon Coast and the California Redwoods. He goes up every summer to Carousel animal carving camp. November we left from San Diego on a 10 day Mexican Rivera Cruise with a stop at beautiful Copper Canyon. Our big trip will be in March 2006 to Japan to see son, Steve, and his wife, Rachel. She is an agricultural attaché' with the USDA and he is working for the State Dept in Security. Daughter, Kate, lives and works in San Diego. Besides traveling and helping out old friends, we stay busy but would love to see you if you are in the area.

JOAN DANIELSON DELGADO: I retired as of Sep 10, 2003 and am DRAWING RETIREMENT PAY (whoopee) as of Feb 4, 2005! Oak Harbor is a Navy town, and we are 4 miles north of the Commissary and BX. We used to be 35 miles from another one. We are moving to a great location for traveling easily to Canada for our visits to 100 Mile House, a town in the Cariboo region of the British Columbia interior. We bought a summer place on Horse Lake, about 6 miles east of town last March and intend to spend about a week or so each month up there. Ed and I are both healthy and happy.

MARY ANN VANDERGRIF BARNETT: My two dogs and I were a part of the mass evacuation for hurricane Rita. Thirty-one hours to make a six hour trip to friends in Ft. Worth. Fortunately my house had no damage. I am still working part-time home care therapy and occasionally at a local hospital. I went to Honduras on a medical mission trip in June. It was a blessing! In November spent two weeks in Hawaii, first week on Oahu for friends wedding; and second week seeing friends on Maui. I'm active with Clear Lake Presbyterian Church and the Global Missions Committee. July ended my term as VP Alumni Association. I encourage you to come to the reunion and the free top notch continuing education 5 May 06.

GINI BEANE DAVIS: My granddaughter, Avery, just turned 10 and is terrific. She lives here in New Orleans. My son, Bret, is getting married Feb 4th in New Orleans. The "storm" event is bigger than anyone can understand who is not living through it! And it is hard to really know what is going on here by relying on the media, print and broadcast. My home is in the Warehouse district just a few blocks from the Convention Center that you all saw on television immediately following the storm. In fact my condo and building were a backdrop for Fox News at the Convention Center before the people were evacuated. My fiancé, Dick Clarke, and I had evacuated to Dothan, Alabama where we stayed for nearly a week before coming back to Baton Rouge, LA where we stayed until we were allowed to return to Orleans Parish in early Oct. I had 5 PT clinics before the storm and lost 2 to severe flooding. We reopened 3 in Oct. It has been a very troubling time for many people and families. My best wishes to all of you in 2006. The old adage: "when the going gets tough, the tough get going" has never been more true that down here. This has really separated the men (women) from the boys (girls)! E-mail: gini@crescentcitypt.com.

LINDA RICE SHEPARD: I am retired (early) and am living at my parent's home in Oregon. Both are in their mid 80s and have several mild to severe medical and mental problems. Because I am here, they are able to stay in their home and that is a very good thing. Caring for them day-to-day is probably the hardest work that I have ever done but it has its rewards. Other than that I am involved with the local Gem and Mineral Museum and help with putting on their annual show. My first love, and one that I can do while taking care of Mom and Dad, is beading. I have finally graduated from being a beginner to more advanced levels. My goal is to feel like I am an artist rather than a hobbyist. If any of you find that you will pass between Medford and Grants Pass on I-5, let me know and we will get together. I would love to see you. I am living in an old (100+ years) miner's cabin on my parent's property. Have made a cozy home inside while keeping the outside pretty much like it has always been. It's been fun and challenging. Have a safe and happy year!

PATTIE CONNORS STURGESS: I am working in acute care at the hospital, but plan to retire in June. Then I will do whatever I want. Sean is married to Suzanne and he works for an investment firm. Zach graduates from Medical School in June. I am real proud of him. He plans to do ER Med for residency.

SALLY UNDERWOOD HOWARD: Had a quiet but good year. Kara spent the summer working in Germany, and saw a lot of Europe. In 1-½ years she will graduate and then we plan to move back to N.C.

CARMELA COSTA KUBE: In June we went on a fantastic three-week vacation with Grand Circle to Poland, Czech Republic, & Hungary. We also went on a cruise to Mexico with Carl's family and we had a relaxing week at Lake Tahoe. I have been painting and figure sculpting nude models. (It is a good review of anatomy.) I am working on video programs and films. In Oct. a friend gave me a one week old abandoned kitten and I learned what it was to be "Mama Cat." I carried Cosmo in a pouch on my chest to church and school, etc.. He had to be fed every two hours. He is now a rambunctious three-month-old. I spend a lot of time with my parents who have their problems but are still living independently in their own home. May you be blessed in 2006.

CLASS OF 1968

ALICE HARMON BAGEANT: I sold my practice this January. Bob retired (really) after retiring a year ago then doing hyperbaric oxygen. I hope to retire next Dec 31 and will be working part time this year. My parents are in the local nursing home, Dad is 99 and Mom is 90. They still are in assisted living. We added a granddaughter to the family, thanks to Laura. Bridget will be 1 on Feb. 7. Exciting times ahead.

BARBARA BLATTER: I continue to do PRN PT and taxes with AARP and HR Block. Also I am still traveling at least one week a month, mainly to Hilton Head, SC. Took cruises to Eastern Caribbean over Christmas and to Panama Canal in May. I do love cruising. In June, I went to Indianapolis to the RAMSCA meeting. Swimming and golf also keep me busy.

JAN HEADRICK GJEITNES: Not much news here: Because of RA, I hold a 20% position as a PT employed by the city of Stavanger to hold group exercises for the elderly - those in nursing homes, at "day centers," and those still living at home. As each year goes by, I feel that I have more and more in common with them!! E-mail: jane-gje@online.no

CINDY LEWIS JARDINE: I finally moved into semi-retirement in May 2005, and discovered the beauty of more time at our cabin, redecorating the house without a tight schedule, and traveling with Dick farther than 250 miles! I continue to be PRN status in Home Health, and have had a small volunteer home health practice with two of my good friends who were diagnosed with ovarian cancer this year. Dick is happy to have me sort of retired along with him, and we visited friends on the Washington Coast, two of our kids in Moscow Idaho, and the San Francisco area, when we weren't at the cabin or hunting deer and elk. Our children are now 30 (Hal), 27 (Anna), and 21 (Brooke). We loved having Anna and her husband in Twin Falls with us for the past 2 1/2 years, but now will have to travel to see them in the Tacoma area. So far, our health is holding up and we are anticipating more travels in 2006.

ANN RUSH: I am enjoying retirement and still live here in McCall, Idaho. I spend part of the winter traveling in a motor home to warmer climates and part here in McCall enjoying the snow. Have been home this winter (Nov, Dec and Jan) and have been cross-country skiing and involved in local clubs --- Rotary and American Legion. Will head to Mesa, AZ in early Feb. to be in some warmer weather and will hike, swim and play some tennis. Will return home the end of Apr. and will be here for the summer. Kids, Lindsay, 27 and David, 25 are both in Boise and sharing a home. It is nice to have them close. Saw classmate Jan Headrick this summer and she was doing good. She is undergoing OHS on 31 Jan 06 to repair a heart defect. We need to keep her in our prayers.

JANE SWEENEY: Jane continues to enjoy neonatal and pediatric private practice. She finds curriculum development for doctoral students (Pediatric PTs & OTs) and program director work at Rocky Mountain University of Health Professions to be a fun, creative and invigorating process. Her new project this year is developing a Neonatology Fellowship and Pediatric Residency.

CLASS OF 1969 (Submitted by Gayle Burk Bedick, Class Representative)

PARTRICIA GAUNT AMUNDSEN: Patti is a grandma now. Granddaughter, Neveah, occupies two days a week of grandma's time as she assists with her child care. Patti still teaches for Montessori but she plans to retire this year. Pete and Patti bought land in Globe (an hour away in the mountains) and plan on building and relocating there.

GAYLE BURK BEDICK: Still working in Home Health and maintaining my contracting business. Took a beginning Spanish class at the local college. It was fun, taxing and a challenge. My brain is not as plastic and my memory not as good as it once was. I have two grand children and one on the way. I enjoy seeing them as often as I can. I have no plans to retire any time soon.

ROSLYN HAGE LAMBORN: Roddy is still singing with the Washington Chorus. In December, the chorus performed 7 concerts- 4 of the Messiah and 3 Christmas concerts. In July, Roddy traveled with the Choral Arts Society to Brazil and Argentina. She is still working as office manager for a law firm. All of Roddy's chicks are stateside at this time. Rob works in Georgetown as a lawyer; David and Angela, both Army Capts, are at Ft. Benning; Steven is taking fire fighting training between assignments; Anne had to relocate from New Orleans after Katrina to Oklahoma City. She and husband, Jason, a Marine, are awaiting reassignment to Okinawa. Larry is still doing some occasional consulting which requires some traveling.

ROBERTA MAWDSLEY: Still is a full Professor and teaching at College Misericordia. Bobbi reports that she has had to put her travels and athletics on hold since '03 due to a fall down stairs resulting in a commuted fracture of the femur and dislocation of the shoulder. She is still in rehab. but still enjoying her teaching.

SUSAN R. O'KONSKI: As of this writing, Ski is on a cruise to Antarctica. She has enjoyed several trips this year including a trip to Europe for VE Day. Ski joined a health club this year. Still enjoys being retired.

KAREN GALLEGO REED: "I am now fully retired (as of Sep 2004) and enjoying all the time to garden, play golf, cook, travel, exercise and take fun courses at the local college. We now have two granddaughters who live close by. Both of our children are in Austin, so holidays and special occasions are family get togethers. Larry and I love to travel and made trips to NC (to visit friends and play golf), Seattle (where my family lives and also played golf), Scotland (a fantastic golf vacation which included playing the old Course at St Andrews) and a ski vacation to Colorado.. Both of us are happy, healthy and living the good life."

JAMIS TOWNSEND: Ski. Roddy, Patti and Gayle were able to visit Jamis at her Convent in Long Island Dec '04 before she passed away to cancer of the colon in Apr of'05. We will miss her.

CLASS OF 1970 (Submitted by Helene Tatalovich Watts, Class Representative)

BARBARA GOLDBLATT BEGRUP: This has been a difficult year for Bob and me. In July he suffered his third Aortic dissection and was Life Flite'd to University of Penn. for truly "historic" surgery. His entire Aortic arch and the lower portions of his head arteries were successfully replaced, and he survived the surgery well. However, in the last four months he has endured three more surgeries resulting from complications. We are more than ready for a healthier 2006. I continue to work for the federal school system at Ft. Campbell, KY, but am looking forward to retiring in a few years, unless they keep raising the retirement age! Looks like we won't be closed anytime soon. My oldest son is living in Nashville now, with his wife, and we really love having them nearby. We get to puppy-sit quite often as they want to see if we can be trusted with anything more "valuable". My older daughter, Mageina Tovah, the actress, has been in Spiderman 2, Crossing Jordan, the Hallmark Movie and several indie films. It's exciting for us to vicariously experience her successes. My younger daughter is in her third year of Medical School in south Florida and starting the rotations that I bet we all can identify with. And my younger son is in the fourth year of his Doctorate program in Physics at Berkeley. You can see that we really have them spread out geographically and professionally. Fortunately they are all homebodies at heart and were here to help me thru this trying year. Best wishes to all of you in 2006!

GRETCHEN BELSHER BRAUN: Life continues to flow with the usual pattern. Byron and I did repaint our kitchen and our smaller bathroom after much effort. I have no desire to see another paint brush for a LONG time. We still have our jobs (a good thing) although sometimes "retirement" sounds inviting. Jennifer, our soon to be 23 year old, graduated from her vocational school and now has an office type job with varied tasks. She still is enjoying horse back riding lessons. Angie, our oldest, is back from Beijing where she was studying Chinese for 5 months and is now in grad school at Fletcher near Boston studying International Relations. At least she is in country for awhile!

PAM BAKKEN GREEN: Not much has changed. Still at the same job, but now we have laptops. Our training ended the week before Christmas and was sorely inadequate so now we're all working very long days trying to figure out the new computer program and still care for our patients. Kids are fine. My son (with my nephew) still works his tree business 9 months and then travels for 3 months. My daughter works for IRS and is getting married in March. We may get some grandkids yet! My husband is still at the same firm.

JOAN SANDERSON HAZLEHURST: Charlie and I are still working but aiming toward retirement within a year. We have three granddaughters now (9,5 and 1) Steve loves being a daddy. Too bad they live in Georgia, so far from us. David spent some time in Bahrain but is back in FL now building his business. Eric made an upward move (to networking dept) at First Data and is very busy. Michael still loves his job at our grocery store. Charlie and I have been playing LOTS of tennis, some golf; but some of that may be slowed by a medical issue that Charlie is dealing with. We took a big trip, land and cruise this summer to Alaska, came south through the Inland Passage. Beautiful scenery

PAT MILLER HOWARD: I am still working at the same place, school based PT primarily as an administrator of a department that has grown to 32 OTs and PTs. I am working on some database design with a programmer and secretary - that is a new and interesting challenge at work. I am also taking courses toward a Masters of Arts in Religion at a seminary nearby. My first grandson, Silas, was born to my son, Dan, and his wife this summer. It is an indescribable joy to meet your grandson and watch your son become a father. My daughter, Lynne, moved to Pittsburgh from Louisiana just before the hurricanes hit. She is in a fellowship year in leadership and public policy. She is engaged to be married also! And finally, my news, I too have a new man in my life. He is great fun to be with. There is life after divorce, and you can meet a good man on the Internet.

SHERYL SIMONS LARSEN: We have had no major changes in the last year. We are grateful for good health. I have been thinking about retiring from my school PT job, but have so far continued to work. The thought of retirement seems to be a change in identity. One big benefit to retiring would be to spend more time with our grandson Jordan who is almost 2 years old. I love being a grandma!

PAT MCADOO: I got back last night from spending Christmas with my family in CA. Life has been hectic this past year. I spent nearly 3 months in Dillingham, AK. It is a small fishing village in the Bristol Bay Area to the west of the Alaska Peninsula. Their PT left in August and the new man did not arrive until mid December. Nancy Henderson ('74) and I alternated and managed to cover most of the time. I still live in Anchorage and am doing some per diem work for a home care agency. Still active in the Alaska Chapter of the APTA. My Dad will celebrate his 89th birthday this April and I try to get down to see him several times a year

SUE NEEDHAM: 2005 was a challenging one health wise. Started the year with back pain and sciatica and then developed bouts of vertigo in April. Had to first cut back and then quit work in May. Just finished a series of epidurals in December and have had enough relief that I am considering returning to work on a limited basis. The vertigo episodes continue periodically despite vestibular therapy and are bothersome but not severe. After numerous tests the cause is still unknown. The time off from work was in some ways a blessing. I was able to spend more time (8 + weeks) with my 80 year old mother in California, assisting her with my bipolar brother and then taking care of her after knee replacement surgery. It was a very special time. Did take time out to take a wonderful trip to Costa Rica - even dared to swing through the jungle canopy on a cable!

PHYLLIS PLOTNICK: This has been a good year for journeys. The first was to Israel with my chosen sister, Tzipi. It was an incredible trip heightened by the experience of staying with an orthodox woman. I was back to the US twice and was so happy to see classmates BARB ROWE, Helene Watts, Kathy Levee, and MARY SORENSEN. AHHH, THE SMILES! Other highlights: attending Tzipi's ordination as a rabbi, going to a family reunion in Philadelphia, learning that my niece Stacy, and her husband, Marty, are expecting their first baby, buying a little apartment in Prague, and deciding to return to Florida for part of the year. Blessings to all and a huge thank you to COL BOBBIE DAVIS, my recruiter, who gave me the opportunity of a lifetime.

MARY MALCOLM ROBERTS: Mal and I arrived home from a year in Punta Gorda, Belize, in April. We started a preschool; Mal became the first priest St. Joseph's Anglican Church had had in 25 years; and I worked as a PT for Care Belize. I had a wonderful field worker who spoke the dialects used in the Mayan villages and we treated children up to 6 years old. It is a dream to be home and to "settle the cracks" in our new house. Mal is now vicar in the newest Episcopal mission in the diocese and volunteers as a chaplain in the local hospital. I've received my NC license and plan to volunteer in the free clinic and with elderly in the community. Please come and visit us.

BARBARA ROWE: It's been a year of change and moves for us in '05, following Chet's retirement in June of '04. We rented in Park City, Utah this winter and eventually bought a small townhouse, before returning to New England and selling our home of the past 24 years in Rehoboth, MA. Gave much of our excess away to family and friends, then moved the rest to Utah or Florida. Spent the fall in Florida (spared by the hurricanes) and will winter again in Utah. Along the way we got to see HELENE WATTS (and family) several times and Phyllis Plotnick briefly in the summer...wonderful always to reconnect. Son, Adam, just completed a Masters Program in computer science and is job-hunting, and daughter, Carolyn, is a sophomore at Tufts University, loving every minute. Despite some family medical issues this year, all is well at the moment and we hope for a calmer, peace-filled '06.

JAYNE JACKSON TUPPER: Lock and I have had a good year. Both are healthy and still working. He continues to work in home health. I am beginning my third year in a hospital out patient clinic. I would like to be doing something only part time but we need the health insurance that a full time position offers. Daughter, Lauren, is still in Atlanta but will be heading for Boston next month to act as interim director for a clinic her company has there. She thinks it will only be for a couple of months but does not look forward to the cold. Unless she stays into the spring, I doubt Lock and I will go up to visit. Our biggest event for the year was a cruise to Alaska. Very relaxing but we would have liked to spend more time on land.

HELENE TATALOVICH WATTS: I have finally made the decision that I need to move out of this big old house into a condo. I just can't figure out where I want to move to. It would still be in this area as I plan to continue to work for 5 more years. Daughter, Karen, and husband, Matt, live with their new Shiatsu puppy in N. VA. My baby, Suzanne, 23, is working on her Masters Degree in European Classical Theater at the Drama Center of London. It is a 12 months program which she will complete in Sept 06. She will be spending 2 months of the program studying in Moscow. She wants to pursue a career in acting when she returns to the states. I continue to work in home health and still love it. I am finally fairly computer literate with the OASIS program as I should be after years on it. One highlight of last year was that I got to spend the night at the home of Jayne Tupper on a trip with a friend to Florida. Also enjoyed many visits with Barb Rowe and one too short visit with Phyllis Plotnick.

CAROL JACKSON WHORTON: My first grandchild, Katie, was born in September. I get to see her almost every Sunday at church. It doesn't get much better than simultaneously worshiping and holding your grandchild! Her mother and father (my son) are also a joy to be around. I receive a Masters Degree in Counseling and Chaplaincy from Denver Seminary in May. If any of you are around Denver on May 13 and want to attend a graduation, you are welcome—seats are unlimited. It took me 4 years to complete a 2-year program, but at least I finished before turning 60!!! My ministry goal is to work as a hospice chaplain; may still do PT one day a week. I have enjoyed receiving all your e-mails—with completion of this degree, I should be able to respond in a more timely manner. Blessings to you all.

ANN WHITE WILSON: Dave and I are still in Cincinnati and continue to work full time. Dave is plant manager for a corrugated box plant and I am a PT in a geriatric program. My job is much less stressful than the previous one with home health and I enjoy it tremendously. (I am working with Bob Dombek for any of you who might remember him from our days at Fitz.) Our children continue to be our greatest source of joy. Karen and Pete live in a suburb of Cleveland and have a 2 1/2 year old little boy, Zach. Kevin and Amy live in Springboro about 45 minutes from us and are expecting a baby in February. Needless to say Dave and I are thrilled over the prospect of a 2nd grandchild!! Kevin is a PT and is working for a sports medicine clinic. Nice to be able to bounce ideas off of him!! Our life is pretty status quo and we would love to see any old classmates...the price is right at this hotel!!!

CLASS OF 1971 (Submitted by Lea Landry, Class Representative)

MARGE REIF ALFANO: Writes, Greetings to all. And many thanks to Lea for her amusing e-mails throughout the year and her diligent efforts to keep us in touch with one another. What would we ever do without you? The most wonderful news is that I finally went to part time employment, and just in the nick of time. Our home care agency switched to computerized documentation and drug me kicking and screaming from the dark ages of e-mail only to passable notes via laptop. My productivity plummeted to the sub basement and I have been clawing my way up since Aug. I was frustrated it would be the end of my home care career; but it appears I am more difficult to get rid of than they bargained for. Ron and I are still in love with the Outer Banks and get away as often as possible; more often now that I am part time. Shelley and her husband are both starting new jobs next week; this will be her third job in 5 years...a foreign concept to an old codger like me. Our son Ed is enjoying Boston and his first "real" job as a consultant. Mark loves his newish bride; they are close by, which is nice. My mother is 86 and still lives alone. She is a pleasure; always upbeat and enjoying each day. I took a trip to Hawaii with son Ed this spring; we visited Oahu where my sister lives and Kauai; WOW!!! It was the most memorable vacation of my lifetime. What a grand time we had together. A Vietnam era helicopter pilot took us on the most amazing fly around the island. In February, Ron and I are going to Disney in FL with my sister and her husband...lots of fun shows and dinner reservations in store...and the joy of escaping NJ in Feb is filling me with anticipation. It is awfully nice to have the leisure and health to enjoy some good times at this stage of our lives. We are most grateful. I lost my 36 year old address book this year. It has been impossible to recreate; I used it as a diary of people and places; Alas! Wishing each of you a Happy New Year and blessings for the days ahead.

BUNNY AMBROSE: Writes, It has been a year with quite a few changes. I had been driving an hour+ every weekend for a couple years to take care of my mother who is in the middle stages of Alzheimer's. It became apparent in July that it would not longer work, so I moved her to Aurora about 5 minutes from me to a small board and care home. She has done very well there. I see her 2-3 times a week and am able to take her out for lunch or dinner frequently. I did retire from work in April to devote more time to my Mom, but have not really had a desire to start working again. I like being retired! I continue to live in CO but am not enjoying the very cold weather we have had here this winter. The snow and ice make walking a bit treacherous for me! I am beginning to think that I would make a great snowbird! I am still able to play golf and it continues to be my passion. I am about to take a 10-day trip to Phoenix for some warmer weather and lots of golf! If any comes through Denver, please call and bring your golf clubs!

MARY BALDWIN DEARDORF: Writes, I could write the same blurb every year I think. With the same challenging job at a small environmental consulting firm that hired me 19 years ago and full time cares giving responsibilities at home, I'm strapped down pretty well. Although travel and other potentially exciting activities remain out of reach, I'm very lucky. Little pleasures and friends mean a lot. All of the best to you who read these newsletters. I enjoy hearing about everyone.

JEANNE ANDRIANOFF DIRKSEN: Writes, My PT practice grew rapidly when I added a full time PT 3 years ago. We've worked well together, and started negotiating the transfer of my practice to her. We've finally signed the papers, and she will own the practice in 2007, and I will work part time for her. In the meantime we are adding a 3rd PT so that I can reduce my hours. I'm excited about having more time for travel, hiking, tennis and grandchildren. Vic has been able to work a little less also. Two grandsons are lots of fun! I'm getting a little more involved in the PTA. It's a challenging time to be in healthcare, but somehow we've managed to survive and enjoy a great career! Hope all of you are doing well.

CELINDA SMITH HICKS: Writes, 2005 was an uneventful year for me. That is good, isn't it? I continue to work in PT. I am still working in home health and loving it. It really is easier than clinic or hospital or nursing home work. The only drawbacks are snowy, slick roads, cold weather and gas prices. I really like the people I see and going to their homes. I can't imagine doing anything other than PT. I'm thinking of retiring in 2 years. I hope to make it to 60. My only problem is that I developed Asthma and some days I have big problems breathing. Haven't found a cure, yet. My husband, Paul, is still working for the State of Montana. He spent three weeks in Texas for the Red Cross after Hurricane Rita. Our son, Andrew, is in Seattle working in real estate. He plans to go to Europe this summer for an extended stay. He'll quit his job and get a new one when he gets back. He loves to travel. Says it's something that we taught him. Our daughter, Rachel, graduated from college Dec.2004. She started working here in Helena in January 2005. She lives in town most of the time but is house sitting with a friend for a woman who is teaching in MA. She is working in an art museum/gallery. It is great to have her at home. She's probably going to go to either coast after her contract expires. I love hearing from Lea all the time. Marge and I do correspond every Christmas but I don't hear from anyone else. Reunions are never at a good time for me. I don't know why. Well, that is it for my uneventful year. At least, it's no bad news.

ALEATHA (LEA) LANDRY: Writes, Retirement has been all that I had hoped for and more! I traveled a good bit in 2005—mostly with Elderhostel (getting old isn't all bad)—The Galapagos Islands and Ecuador, Malheur National Wildlife Refuge in OR, and the Rio Grande Valley near Brownsville. Next year will be more of the same, but keeping it domestic (cheaper airfare), including Hawaii, which I've never visited. The horses keep me broke and happy. They've moved to separate facilities now, which is actually working out quite well. Dream likes arena work and a little trail riding, Peaches likes the trails and shuns the arena. I now have four kitties, having inherited 2 barn kitties when the facility closed. They live in the garage on heated orthopedic pads and stroll out to terrorize my house kitties on occasion. Shorty, the Corgi, is still trying to figure out where she fits into this menagerie.

CHRIS LARSON: Writes, I am the currently living in Alexandria, Virginia and serving as the Director of Professional Standards for the Federation of State Boards of Physical Therapy. I love my job and still find living in the DC area exciting and challenging, especially since 9/11, the anthrax scare and the sniper all happened in the first three years since living here. I kept my cabin on Coeur'd Alene Lake and return there each summer to be with my family. I also continue serving on the Board of Directors of Holden Village, a retreat center in the high Cascade Mountains of Washington. My youngest nephew is getting married in September and my niece's volleyball team won the state championship for Washington....so watching volleyball tournaments adds to my multiple trips home. Life is good!

MARGUERITE BURR TULLOCK: Writes, Greetings to all! Before Christmas of 2004 we took our boat down to Florida and left it in Ft. Lauderdale while we flew on to St. John, USVI for the winter. We had some small projects to complete on the house but otherwise just enjoyed our guests and wallowed in the pleasure of the gorgeous weather and surroundings. We returned to Florida in late April and, instead of cruising the Keys and Bahamas, we bought a condo in Ft. Lauderdale. Frank loves projects! As an urban setting it will be an interesting change from our other houses. We brought the boat back to Maryland and I immediately flew out to Malibu to spend a month with my Mom. Summer, which flew by too quickly, was filled with the usual yacht club cruises, golf, and short road trips. I went back to Malibu for 4 weeks in the fall, and then it was Christmas again. YIKES!!! Frank is now in Ft. Lauderdale supervising the condo renovations; I'll drive down in late January. We head back to the Virgin Islands late spring/early summer this year. In September we'll be cruising the San Juan Islands and Puget Sound. It

KAREN TIMMERMAN: Writes, What holiday time off??? I am working, thank you very much, unlike you retired people. Not much news to report here. I did screen in my back porch, which makes it much more enjoyable once the sunsets and the mosquitoes come in by the droves. Nice to sit out there and read, listen to the fountain in the lake and just enjoy the quiet. I also had my kitchen floor replaced with laminate wood and it is such a relief to get rid of the white floors, which were impossible to keep clean. Next project will probably be new carpet for the living room, etc. I made a few trips the past two years, to New Smyrna Beach and Sanibel Island, Fl, and to the Dominican Republic. I'm debating about getting a hybrid car and looking for some land to build on somewhere for retirement. I like my house but really desire to be more in the country with no close neighbors, hermit that I am. My newest pet is an orange-wing Amazon parrot named Boomer who lives up to his name. He's really entertaining and fun...squawks unless he is on my shoulder or sitting nearby. My New Year's resolution is to get into some kind of yoga or exercise program to try to hold this old body together. Two more years until I can retire!! Hope everyone is happy and in good health!

CLASS OF 1972 LYNN BEATTIE: I have been keeping busy with my health promotion work for the National Council on the Aging. Most rewarding has been our Center for Healthy Aging, National Fall Prevention Initiative. For this work, I have been doing a lot of presentations and was pleased to be able to combine a visit to Wisconsin with a side trip to see Ginny Metcalf. It was great seeing her and catching up. For fun, I spent two weeks this fall in Ecuador and the Galapagos Islands – it was probably the best vacation ever. For the New Year, let's all take responsibility and put into motion actions to promote healthy aging

BRIGITTE TRUESDALE BERG: Brigitte writes that her father passed away several weeks before Christmas, but fortunately was able to see his 7th and 8th great grandchildren born. Her 3rd and 4th grandchildren were born in September and November. Son Sean now has two sons. Adrienne has two daughters and lives only 10 minutes away. Teresa, the youngest daughter, is unmarried and working at a home for autistic children. Brigitte is still working about 25 hours/week, alternating between inpatient and outpatient care. Husband Mike and Brigitte are planning a 3-week trip to Europe to see her family there. Upon return from their trip, Mike is scheduled to have a total knee replacement.

JEAN BRYAN COE: We made it to Alaska last summer- worked on a mission project and spent time with Pat McAdoo- she was a wonderful hostess and we got to see and do a lot. For those of you who remember I am from Pascagoula MS, all my family is fine although they lost a lot of stuff. The old neighborhood was leveled. We are still very busy with NOMADS our Methodist Mission RV group. Guess the BIG news for alumni is that I am working with Baylor to offer a T-DPT program for Army-Baylor grads 1992-2004. The program will be open to all grads, active duty or not, and will start this coming summer. Please let me know if you have questions. jbryancoe@mindspring.com.

DIANE STUART HAWKINS: Hi, Baylor Buds, I hope you are all enjoying good health and prosperity in this new year. It sure doesn't seem like 32 years ago that we graduated from the Academy. I still think we had the best class ever. 2005 was a year for change in the Hawkins household. I started a new job at the University of Colorado Hospital which is located on the sprawling campus surrounding Fitzsimons. I am just doing plain vanilla physical therapy, part time. It's plenty for now. I moved my mother into our house a month ago. She has mild dementia so requires a lot of time and attention. But she's worth it. What a sweetheart. I'm still going to drills with the 5502d USAH in Aurora. That doesn't get easier at this age. I am looking forward to retiring from the Reserves in one year. Christmas was wonderful here. Daughter Sarah and her husband were here and daughter Susie and my mother and Russ. It was a blessing. Well, I could go on, but I know each one of you is at least as busy as me, and therefore, will probably not read any further anyway, so I'll close with love and affection for each of you, and an invitation that never expires, to come visit us in Colorado.

Dianne Stewart Hawkins (303) 840-7246.

NANCY HENDERSON: Perhaps I am experiencing a little senility. I thought retirees headed north for the winter, so am spending this winter up in Fairbanks in the interior of Alaska working in PT at Bassett Army hospital. The younger generation takes over in April. With temperatures dipping sometimes to the low -40's, I'm having a really cool time! I am learning how to skate ski. Think Bambi on ice. I have joined the Fairbanks Community Band making up ¼ of the euphonium section, make a joyful violin noise an acoustic musician group on Wednesday evenings, and enjoy participating in several churches up here. Since retiring in 2004, I have worked in periodically in Juneau and Dillingham, Alaska. I have enjoyed good company, spectacular scenery, wildlife, and picking wild berries. Back home in Washington, Mike and I hosted our 5th exchange student in a row this past year—this time from Sweden. We will remain childless for a while now. We had some nice kayak trips this past year and hope to do more. Mike enjoys fishing and has been helping out with coaching at the local high school. Our best regards to you all.

LANCE HENDRICKS: Lance and Bonnie are enjoying their 20 grandchildren. This is probably a record number for the Class of 1974. Lance owns his own PT practice in Montana, and has recently written a book and produced a video on fibromyalgia. Bonnie works in his office.

MIKE NORED: I retired from the Air Force in 1999 and have been serving as the clinic supervisor for two private practices in the mid-Willamette Valley of Oregon. While I was on active duty I had the good fortune to be asked to teach a variety of short courses around the country. I have stopped my most recent teaching stint with the Maitlan-Australian Physiotherapy Seminars, primarily due to the logistics of getting from Portland to various points east. It simply takes too much time away from my current job. Have done some local stuff with the Oregon PTA chapter for Cervicogenic Headaches and Mulligan approach to the Cervical Spine. Certainly have enjoyed sharing [my true professional love] with the current staff of our two clinics teaching Strain-Counterstrain, Maitland, Mulligan and McKenzie principles in particular. Mary and I have two children. Stacie, 24, is married and lives in Bellingham, Washington. She is an archaeologist and works for a private contractor. Her husband is a hydro-geologist working with a local timber environmental firm. No grandchildren yet. Garrett is nearly twenty, engaged, and works for a company who contracts with all the wireless phone service company's. He is the lead worker on his crew and does all facets of cellular tower work - definitely risky. Mary is an RN and is the Nurse Auditor for Salem hospital. God has truly blessed our lives and we are so happy to be back home near family and old friends.

I am truly excited to catch up on the goings on in others lives and hope we will have the good fortune to see some of you soon! P.S. In case you remember my wife's name as Diane, you are correct. Diane and I were divorced a couple of years after leaving the Army. My current wife Mary has truly been a Godsend to me. We have been very happily married for more than 27 years. May God Bless You All!

STEVE ORD: Jonelle and I lead such boring lives now. I'm still doing home health PT part-time, and Jonelle does marriage and family counseling and teaches some classes at Tyler Junior College. Most of our trips are to visit family, especially the children. Still no grandchildren, but we're hoping. The most exciting thing this past year was Katrina. Our son is a graduate student at The University of New Orleans and we had several UNO students living with us for a couple of months after the hurricane. They continued classes on-line. They're all back in New Orleans now, but having a difficult time finding places to rent. We may be buying a condo there for our son. We're fortunate to have good health and Jonelle's parents are doing better than we expected. Hope all is well with everyone.

SHARON PREHN: Sharon continues to be a world traveler. With husband Rick she spent some time this past year in Belgium and Germany. Between travels, she finds time to work in home health and has developed advanced skills in home repair restoring her beautiful older home located directly on the coast line with splendid views of the sunset and Boston.

CAROL PATRIZIO RAPOZA: Carol writes that she has been blessed with the most wonderful family and friends that anyone could ask for. She had a great family reunion this summer for her son Kaala's wedding. Kaala is a teacher. Another son, Jordan, is working at an organic health food store in Caspar, CA. Andrew is a sophomore at Temple University in Philadelphia. Carol still plays on two women's tennis leagues and holds her own against the young 30-40 year-olds. She adds that she wishes everyone a blessed, healthy and happy 2006 and looks forward to the coming year with energy and confidence.

JOE STAEHLI: The highlight of their year was the safe return of the son, Paul, from his combat tour in Iraq with the US Army Rangers. Joe and Patty have enjoyed gathering frequent flyer miles visiting their children and grandchildren. He mentions that one of the real joys at their stage of life is watching the kids grow up, succeed in their jobs, pay their own car insurance, and pay into social security. Jim (20) is a diesel mechanic. John (21) graduates from the University of Portland (as did his dad years ago) this summer and will be commissioned upon graduation. Christine (24) continues to mature into a young woman and works as the company shredder. Korine (26) and husband Jeremy live in nearby Auburn. Jeremy is awaiting acceptance into dental school. They own a huge marine aquarium, and reportedly hate Joe's fish and chips jokes. Robert (28) works with a D.C. consulting firm. Paul (30) is back with the Ranger Regiment at Fort Benning. Joline (32) and husband Abe continue their juggling act of raising 3 young boys while building their Midwest publishing company, which now has 150 employees. Celine (35) and Joel and 2 boys have just produced a new granddaughter. Celine is the Environmental Health Officer for the Naval Station on Whidbey Island, WA. Joe is still working on his tennis backhand stroke and working on the home projects that Patty points out to him. He adds that they are praying for Christ's blessings on friends and relatives in the New Year.

CLASS OF 1978

JOHN HALLE: John continues teaching physical therapy at Belmont University, but now as the Chair of the Physical Therapy program! His other big news is his new Harley Davidson motorcycle. He does EMGs on a regular basis at Ft. Campbell, and teaches anatomy to the medical students at Vanderbilt in his spare time. John and Kaye celebrated 30 years of marriage this year. Their children, Erin, 25, and Rob are both through college. Erin works in Nashville and does lots of travelling. Rob recently married Kristen, a PT student at Belmont, and then began the Army-Baylor Graduate Program in Physical Therapy in August! As far as I (Jane) know, John and Rob are the first father/son Army-Baylor students in the history of the program.

CHUCK SCOVILLE: No new news, but I know Chuck and Diana continue to live in the DC area and Chuck heads up the Physical Therapy Amputee Center at Walter Reed Army Medical Center. Last I heard he was loving it and doing a great job!

JANE HUFFAKER MORRICAL: No big changes at the Morrival's. I have enjoyed serving as Historian of the Alumni Association, and seeing many alumni at the annual get-togethers. I continue to serve in the USAR as Allied Health Staff Officer at OTSG. Most of my time is spent helping manage the Chiropractic Contract...new ground for this PT! One more year until mandatory retirement. I am still working as a pediatric PT in the public schools as well. Jim is still flying for Continental; Courtney is a pre-physical therapy student at the University of Mary Hardin Baylor; and Clancy is graduating from Oak Ridge High School in May, trying for an Air Force ROTC scholarship and looking at going to Baylor University.

CLASS OF 1979 MIKE HAMMOND: I think most people still connected to the Army at all know what I am doing in the Reserves but some folks may not know that I am a civilian working at MAMC. As for Joan Beebe, I think she would be okay posting the fact that she has now been retired from AD about 4 years, has remained in Steilacoom, and has been employed part time in home health since leaving active duty. About half of our class has actually remained in contact with each other and we even had an unofficial reunion about 18 months ago. COL Kathy Zurawel, current Chief of Physical Therapy at BAMC, is the only classmate of ours still on AD.

CLASS OF 1980

NANCY (TUPPER) STOKES: Bill and I are still in Apex, North Carolina, near Raleigh and our daughters are both in high school. Sarah is a junior and is a competitive swimmer and is hoping to swim in college. Her year-round team is with the YMCA and she has made the time standards to swim at the national Y meet in Ft. Lauderdale in April. Gretchen is a freshman and has several interests. She is first trumpet in the 9th grade band, is an active member of a Sea Scout ship which is a division of the Boy Scouts that focuses on sailing, and she is a junior curator at the Museum of Natural Sciences in Raleigh. Although Sarah drives now, I am still doing plenty of taxi runs for Gretchen's activities! Bill is the chief veterinarian for the US Public Health Service and has another year and a half in that position. He was deployed to Baton Rouge after Katrina and to Florida after Wilma and both experiences were exhausting but rewarding. He also continues in his previous job of overseeing the reduction of the numbers of animals in testing within all federal agencies. Since both jobs require travel, he is not home nearly as much as I would like. I was recently hired by our church as the part-time youth director. This is the first paid work I have done since I left the Army nearly 17 years ago--so receiving my first pay check was an event! I am truly enjoying this work and delighted to be there. I have also begun a two-year training program in the Presbyterian Church as a lay pastor, which is also very good. I look forward to hearing about others of you from that corner of the Academy of Health Sciences with our anatomy dissections, cold PT labs, boring lectures and many other adventures of a younger time!

LARRY RUSH: I have continued to work at Michigan State University since 1985. As a young lad wandering around campus with my cousins and a ring of keys to all the athletic buildings (from my uncle who was the track coach) in the early 60's and then studying at MSU in the mid-late 70's, it was inevitable that I would somehow return to my hallowed grounds. In addition to providing therapy services to 42,000 students and 7,000 employees, I have the pleasure of working 1 day per week alongside an orthopaedic surgeon and a 1/2 day per week with the University Sports medicine physicians. I also provide pre-employment physical demands testing for new employees. In addition, I provide ergonomic evaluations for all of the campus employees. I have been credentialed by the Board of Certification in Professional Ergonomics for 5 years. Ann and I had the pleasure of Visiting Mark and Erin Sanderson in June of 2004 to visit all over Utah, mostly the southern section. I returned by myself to visit Mark in December of 2004 to spend a week with him observing hand surgery and working with his hand therapist. We have two sons, Kelly and Brad. Kelly has graduated from...where else...Michigan State, and is gainfully employed in the computer field in town. Brad is a junior at.....yep....Michigan State....and is presently in the process of changing majors in his junior year. He is now planning on studying retail management. Kelly has been married for almost 3 years and Brad is engaged to be married in January of 2007. Ann continues to do the one thing in life she has always wanted to do and that is to teach at the elementary level. Although she started with the younger students (1st and 2nd grade), she has recently moved up to the 5th grade where she is excited about "longer attention spans" of 11 year olds. We have lived in Haslett, Michigan on the edge of East Lansing for many years. We lived in East Lansing for a few years, but being right in the middle of a college town took its toll on us so we moved a few miles down the road in 1987. We now live about 3 houses down from "the lake", having moved just a couple of blocks closer about 3 years ago. I spend most of my time, weather permitting, working on landscaping projects or remodeling projects. Seems I am running out of ideas and will probably need a new house and yard soon?? I had restored a '73 Corvette about 10 years ago, but was too paranoid to drive it anywhere for fear of it being touched. So.....I sold it and bought a '96 Vette a couple of years ago, which I drive more often. This past summer I couldn't stand going another year without a motorcycle, which I had many in my teens, and bought a Harley-Davidson. I enjoy riding it during the summer, except on the rather chilly mornings.

Both Ann and I should be retiring in 2-3 years, but plan to con't "working". I haven't decided on my post-retirement job. I am shooting for a greeter at Wal-mart, but feel I may be more satisfied if I could provide consulting services in either the lighting section or the dry wall section at Home Depot???

ALICE KELLEY DELOUGHRY: Since our last update, Jim has retired after 30 years in the Air Force and we moved to Colorado Springs. Jim started a consulting company, which is doing well. I am still a stay-at-home mom, Patrick is now a freshman at CU Boulder, and Emily is a junior in high school. We very much enjoy living here and love to ski, play golf and drive through the Rockies. Life is good!

Our address is 8325 Alpinview Way, Colorado Springs, CO 80919.

RICK PETERS: I am responding from Camp Bondsteel, Kosovo. I am finishing up a 14 month deployment with the 332 Medical Brigade working in a Forward Support Hospital. I hope to be home in a few weeks. The Peters are still Fort Bragg, NC. I have worked for DOD at Womack Army Hospital for the last 6 years. Tammi is finishing her 20th year at Fayetteville Christian School and getting ready to take her seniors to Zambia Africa for a short term missionary trip. My oldest daughter Erin is finishing her clinicals at UNC and should be a Physical Therapist by the summer. My other daughter Lindsay is going to working part time and going to beautician school. God has been faithfull and blessed our family! Look forward to hearing from everyone else.

JOE BODEN: Well it's been over 25 years since we last spoke, but fortunately for you nothing has changed at all for me so this should be quick! Nooo....I've been married for 23 years to Sue, our son Michael is 20 and studies at UC Santa Barbara, daughter Kaylie is 17 and getting ready for dance major at Long Beach State. I am in private practice in Santa Rosa for 21 years and very happy. I have taken in junior partners (exit strategy yes!) and I work 3 days/week and ride my road bike 3 hours/day. So all in all, life is good.

STEVE ALLISON: We've made the big change from active duty to the blue ID card club, and I'm enjoying my new status quite a bit. Still haven't managed to let my hair grow long, but I sleep in every chance I can get. We're now in Payson, Arizona where my mother is living with us. It's a wonderful place up in the pines and about 85 miles from Phoenix. I'm keeping busy teaching and doing some research so haven't really felt "retired" at all. Cindy and I now have 6 grandchildren – they and our own children are spread all over the country -- we launched them from the nest between various PCSs – Texas, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts.. However, we have a devious plan to talk them all into moving to Arizona after school, etc.

CARY BUCKO: Greetings all! I ran into Steve at the CSM in San Diego last week. What a surprise. Steve hasn't changed hardly at all. Here's my update. Cyndi and I married in 1998. After leaving my practice in Santa Barbara, we moved to Redmond WA where I managed a sports/ortho clinic (part of Olympic Physical Therapy) on Mercer Island (between Seattle and Bellevue on Lake Washington). In 2005 we moved to Phoenix following better weather. We settled in Anthem 25 miles north of Phoenix in the foothills of the Tonto National Forest...not too far from Steve in fact. I became involved in setting up and running a new CORF and Cyndi agreed to join me and runs the front desk and also manages the credentialing among other duties. She has become my right hand in managing clinics! We are contemplating opening our own office in the near future. We combined our families with 5 kids and 6 grandkids. Gotta love 'em! They kids have very different careers: Heather is a real estate agent for Del Webb here in Phoenix and lives very close to us. Serenity is the executive assistant for the chief of the Harbor Patrol in San Diego, Jeremy is a newly minted jr. high teacher, Kris works for Pepsico in Medford OR and Krisitin is a Dental Assistant in Long Beach, CA. All out of school and 3 of five married. I'll probably never stop working... We manage to get in some golf and travel and spend the rest of the time with our brood. All in all a great life. The long term plan is to have all the kids in here in AZ but we can't seem to drag some of them away from the beach...

CLASS OF 1986 JOE GODGES: Nothing news worthy - other than the Physical Therapy Residency and Fellowship Programs in Southern California continue to grow. Family (Arlette, and two sons Mark and Ryan) are also well.

CLASS of 1982 JANE FREUND: I am teaching physical therapy at Elon University in NC along with Debbie Stetts, Class of 1981. Anna is 10 years old, in fourth grade and lots of fun.

CLASS OF 1986 LEANNE LYON BURNS: Leanne was married to Brian Burns on March 5, 2005 (and May 21, 2005 for family and friends on an isolated NC island near Hammocks Beach). Brian is a Naval Academy grad with USMC experience (logistics officer) and has his masters in business from Boston University. He hails from Orlando, Florida. Kelsey is happy to report that her new grandparents live in ORLANDO! Kelsey ran cross-country at JHS (junior) and the team made it to state in 3-A competition. The PT clinic is doing well---like everyone else in the country, WE NEED PT's!!!! Brian left his post at Bosch-Seimens in January '06 to manage the clinic while Leanne continues to work full-time as a PT (and loving every minute!). I am still running---ran my first 1/2 marathon and came home with a trophy. Still continue to place (overall) in 5 and 10K's here.

Class of 1990 (Submitted by Rachel Evans)

BRIAN BOYEA: 19+ years in service....can't believe it!! Currently stationed at Landstuhl Regional Medical Center in Germany...proud to go to work each day providing services to our nations finest, our GWOT injured Warriors, which certainly keeps me busy. Despite this - Jill, Rebecca, Adam and I do find time to enjoy some of what Europe has to offer - the Alps, the Tour De France; and of course the fine German foods and beer at Oktoberfest." I am especially fortunate to be working with an outstanding crew - Active Duty, Reserve Component Soldiers, GS and local national civilians and a few volunteers. Of special note - I am working with two outstanding reserve Officers, LTC Jo Gabbard and Baylor classmate - LTC Dave Paulson!

CATHY (FROLA) ARNOT: Here is a brief update on the last 15 years.... I've been married to Dave Arnot for 12 years. He is an Army Optometrist, just retired but still working at Fort Jackson as a civilian. He is an awesome guy. No kids but we have an adorable cat and a house trained white bunny (he is the cutest thing EVER). We have been living in SC for the past 8 years. I still run and plan to do a minimarathon in Feb. I have attempted golf but totally stink. I actually hit the person in front of me on the driving range! :-). Professionally....I work in a small outpatient clinic and teach at USC in the DPT program. I hope to go full time at USC this year. I still get nervous the first couple times I teach to a new group but I am much better than when I was in school. I have specialized in manual therapy over the past few years, got my DPT, MTC, FAAOMPT. I travel a few times a year with the US Shooting team. My next trip is in March to China. I think my husband and I will stay in SC. We are trying to get my Dad and sisters to move here. I hope everyone is doing well and look forward to hearing from you!

DAWN BAUER UNDERWOOD: I am living in a little town just west of Rochester Minnesota. That is in the southeastern part of Minnesota. I work for the Mayo Clinic. I just passed my OCS. I work in the outpatient area and teach a little in the PT school. I have been married for the past 14 years (just celebrated yesterday) and have 3 kids Shannon (12), David (10) and Sarah (8). My life is very busy as I am in the "taxi mom" stage of my life. I will be heading to the CSM meeting in San Diego at the end of this month and participating in the certificate ceremony on 2-1-06. Hope some of our class will be there!

KAREN (MCGOUGH) MESSERSMITH: We live in the outskirts of Stockton, California, out in the Walnut and Cherry Orchards. My husband Martin is an operations manager at the Distribution Center for Cost Plus World Market. I have been working for Kaiser Permanente for almost 8 years as an outpatient therapist. I became the Chronic Pain therapist last September and help run our Chronic Pain program. We have 2 children, Ryan (8) and Katelyn (5) that keep us busy. We also have 2 Labrador Retrievers - Alle from Alabama is 11 and Broadway from New York is 10! We are pretty centrally located between San Francisco, Sacramento and Yosemite - if you are in the area, please let us know! (209) 931-0975

COLLEEN (BEVEN) BARKLEY:

Me in a nutshell...

1. Work as civilian at Ft Jackson for the past 5 years
2. Still in the military, AF reserves, and am a LTC
3. Married still to Jim, no kids, two dogs
4. Now also teaching continuing ed seminars in sports medicine competencies (Healthcare Education Associates)
5. Became certified as an ATC and spent a summer at the Olympic Training Center in Lake Placid...really looking forward to the Winter Olympics this year

DAVE FINCH: I have settled into life in Maryville, TN along with my wife Amy and 3 boys. I never thought I would become a Southerner, but I guess after almost 13 years, that would describe me these days. I am a partner in a private practice with 3 offices. I have been keeping busy with church, coaching, work and APTA/TPTA activities. I have recently stepped down as the Knoxville District Chair and member of the BOD for TPTA to try to fit everything else in. It's a constant juggling act. I'm still involved with APTA as a Delegate to the House of Delegates for Tennessee, and we have an active TPTA District here in the Knoxville area that I support. I also serve on the BOD for PTPN of Tennessee/Georgia. I haven't made it out to one of the Alumni Association meetings, but hopefully my classmates and I will get together there for one of our reunions. We will head out to Southern California next summer to visit my family, and we have a few more trips in the works. I have seen many fellow Alumni Association members at the HOD and Annual Conference, and I look forward to that each year.

PAT DUFFY: I am in High Point, NC with Leslie and 3 kids (Molly 12, Abby 10, Samuel 6). We have been in High Point, NC for 9 years where Leslie and I both work at the outpatient PT clinic for High Point Hospital. I have recently been the industrial rehab. coordinator, doing FCE, functional job analysis/description and onsite industrial treatment and consulting in ergonomics and injury prevention. However, I just resigned from that position to sign on as director of a new ortho. sports medicine PT clinic and start that next week, 17Jan06.

DAVE PAULSEN: I am currently nearly finished with a 15-month deployment to Landstuhl Regional Medical Center with my Reserve unit the 328th CSH. We are here in support of OIF/OEF and are working hard to assist our wounded Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, and Marines—truly our nations finest. I have been honored to be here and happy to work with LTC Bryan Boyea. You should try working with one of your classmates! It is great. Bryan, Jill and family have been great hosts. However, I miss my family desperately. They all came for a visit to Germany and 4 other European countries in July, but I have not seen them since then. Kimberlie is my hero at home, taking care of the home front. Jessica—18 in Feb is applying to Universities and preparing scholarship applications (seems like yesterday when I was doing the same), Derek is now 16, Janene is 13, and Conner is nearly 10. They are great kids. I was the supervisor of a small outpatient orthopedic and industrial clinic until this deployment. I have assurances that I will be able to return to that position in Orem, Utah.

RACHEL EVANS: I'm still in the Army (Brian and I are the holdouts!), and have been stationed in Natick, Massachusetts for over 5 years now. I developed an interest in stress fracture injury during my time at Ft Leonard Wood, and now wear three hats related to this interest: Deputy Chief for the Military Performance Division at the U.S. Army Research Institute of Environmental Medicine; program manager for a congressionally-funded bone research program (40 grants around the globe); and direct a bone health research program here at USARIEM studying the effects of strenuous physical training on bone quality. A very fun part of my job is working on collaborative studies with the Israeli Defense Forces, which finally allows me to combine work with my love of travel. My son, Evan, just turned 12, and is nearly as tall as I am! Life is full, with lots of friends, family, and travel.

CLASS OF 1992 (Prepared and submitted by Pat Sargeant)

MATT GARBER: Is at BAMC as Asst Chief. He is working with students and folks in the OMPT fellowship as well as a pretty hefty patient load. Biggest news of the year is the birth of his second daughter, Taylor Matigan, 06 October 2004 who tipped the scales at 7lb 3oz....a shooting guard to go along with point guard, Bailey, who is now 3. Bailey loves going to dance class and did gymnastics this summer. Matt is still homebrewing, results have been pretty consistent and he tries to have at least one on tap at the house. Lisa resigned from BAMC as a contract PT in March and plans to focus on fitness, wellness, and health promotion once she returns to working. She is enjoying staying at home with the girls, hits the gym regularly, and is on the school board for Bailey's day school.

RANDY GREEN: Has moved from Colorado Springs to Tucson AZ where he is in charge of the Physical Therapy Clinic. His son Parker is now in the 3rd grade and is a member of the Tucson Boys Chorus and takes weekly Karate lessons. Tyler is attending pre-school three days a week and is trying to be just like his big brother. Jackie keeps busy with volunteer work through the Officers' Spouses' Club and is taking Spanish class.

CYNTHIA WEPLER: Has been busy at home and is trying to keep in shape. She was able to complete a correspondence course in Physical Therapy this year, but plans to attend a "real" continuing education class next year in England by a group called Kinetic Control. She went on some really cool trips: skiing in the Italian Dolomites for Easter; Dublin, Ireland, to celebrate our 14th wedding anniversary in May; Tucson AZ in July to visit my family, and a quick trip to visit the newest of the Holzman cousins in Austin, Texas. In October, we went to the Greek Island of Rhodos, spending the days either on the beach or exploring the medieval city there. Bethany is now 8 years old and in second grade. She still loves going to ballet school and has learned a lot of new things over the course of this year – skiing, swimming and tennis. Ben is three years old and is still a very active young man. Ben says, "I love dinosaurs, robots and running!" He can recognize (and even pronounce the names!) of more than 20 dinosaurs, including telling the difference between a Pachycephalosaurus and a Parasaurolophus. Larry was promoted to President of his firm last year and has had quite a busy year professionally. He has endured an amazing amount of traveling; in addition to his travels throughout Europe and Turkey, he visited Australia and the Philippines and went to China twice.

BRENT KELLIN: Is still in the Navy and currently assigned to full-time outservice instruction at the University of Virginia in order to work on a Sports Medicine PhD. The close of Fall Semester marked the halfway point in the program and all appears to be going well. Prior to this assignment at UVA he was the Ship's Physical Therapist aboard the USS Abraham Lincoln (CVN 72). The two years on the Lincoln were both interesting and challenging in many ways. The most challenging part was being away from my family on an extended ten month deployment due to the start of the war. Interesting things included places visited, friendships made, difficulties met and overcome, VIP's onboard, etc. Shauna started teaching homebound students this past fall on a part-time basis now that our three children are old enough for her to manage such. Talena (11) is in the 5th grade, Connor (8) is in the 2nd grade and Landon (5) will start kindergarten next year. All three have adapted well to our transition from Oak Harbor, WA to Charlottesville, VA and are our pride and joy.

LYNNE LOWE: On October 12th Andy and I were blessed with the birth of twin daughters and nothing has been the same since. Madelyn and Elizabeth are the most wonderful little girls and we spend every second with them, which leaves little time for email, housework or sleep. Returning to work after maternity leave was one of the hardest things I have done, but I do love my current position as assistant chief at Walter Reed. Treating our wounded soldiers is very rewarding and I get to do Neuro and Peds too-can't beat it! Also earned my DPT in June. Andy transferred from the Air Force to the Public Health Service in Feb and on Dec 31 he resigned from the PHS to stay home with the girls-such lucky girls!

JOE MOLLOY: Joe has been deployed and reports he is continuing to do well over here. Time is rolling right by. We're slated to depart Iraq by 8 January. We may spend a day or two in Kuwait before returning to either Fort Bliss, Texas or Fort Stewart, GA). Either way, we'll pass through Fort Bliss before returning to San Antonio. We'll turn in our weapons and field gear at Fort Bliss before heading home. We anticipate being back in San Anton by late January.

PAT SARGEANT: Is enjoying retirement in Melbourne FL. She continues to compete in both master's swimming and Space Coast League tennis with a little bike riding and golf on the side. After a three-week trip to Thailand and Cambodia in May, she started doing some PRN physical therapy at a rehab facility and as well as some aquatic therapy. In the fall, evenings are spent officiating girls high school volleyball.

PATTY (KRUPKA) CURRY: reports all is well here in Cincinnati. I'm still "working" with my kids (now 6 1/2 and almost 4). Somehow I got talked into being the head room parent for Laura's first grade class-- thankfully I love her teacher. I'm taking up tennis again and am in a women's instructional league which is a blast. Professionally, I'm paying my dues every year to keep my PT license, and taking classes/doing home study courses to keep my ATC active. At the end of the month we're heading to Big Sky for our third year for the Big Sky Sportsmedicine Conference, a week of great skiing and good speakers/discussions.

ERIC PAYNE: Is still serving as the Director of Rehab Services overseeing PT, OT, RT, and therapeutic recreation. I also still manage to stay in the clinic for 75% of my time. Our mission at Federal Medical Center Rochester has changed to long term care, and I have had to change my mind set a bit. Oh, to treat healthy 18 year old recruits with only one musculoskeletal complaint. Our patients here typically have at least 4 to 5 primary and secondary diagnoses in addition to musculoskeletal impairments. Challenging and frustrating at times as well. In the next year I will be trying to improve my wound care skills further and beginning a masters program in health and human services. I don't think my arthritic elbows and wrists can hang with the manual therapy forever so I am just planning for the future. Majbritt is back at school for health information management with hopes of securing a job at the Mayo Clinic. Her classes are all over the internet which is a bit of culture shock unless you really enjoy working on the computer. 2006 should bring a couple trips to see family in Denmark and Pennsylvania.

CHRIS WARING: Is the Chief of Physical Therapy at Fort Jackson, SC. The wife and 6 kids are all doing great. Without a doubt the highlight of the past year was the birth of our first grand daughter, Ashlynn Elizabeth. She was born to our first born, Jessica. She makes a total of 9 in our home. Busy, busy, busy. Our second born, Cathy, graduated from the Carolina Culinary Institute in the spring. She is working part time for a catering company, with aspirations to own her own place some day.

CLASS OF 1993 TRACY SMITH: Is currently 1/3 the way through the U.S Army Baylor Doctoral program in Orthopedic and Manual Therapy at BAMC. Her graduation will be Dec 06. She has a three-year-old daughter and a very supportive husband who is pulling the lions share of the work around the house right now! She hopes to have a productive and positive 2006 and enjoy life as much as possible given the demands in her life right now. Classmate SHAWN SCOTT is in the PhD Program at university of Texas- Austin in Biomechanics. DAN RENDERIO is at BAMC as the Program Director for the Doctoral program in Orthopedic and Manual Therapy at BAMC.

CLASS OF 1994 (Prepared by Sue Romito Davis)

MARY ADAMS (ADAMS-CHALLENGER): Currently working hard at Landstuhl Medical Center in Germany and states that European life agrees with her and her husband, Brett. She enjoys the staff and reports that caring for war-injured soldiers at Landstuhl has been very rewarding. Mary and Sue recently enjoyed a chance encounter (2004) smack dab in the middle of Iraq – both were tickled to see a familiar face!

TONY BARE: Tony also continues to give his blood, sweat and tears to Uncle Sam – he heads up the PT Clinic at Ft Polk, which he states is not as bad as advertised. Clinic and staff at Ft Polk are awesome. He recently experienced first hand JRTC for 2 weeks and of course, Hurricane Katrina – he hopes that will be the first and LAST time for both of those experiences! Tony anticipates deploying within the next month or so and then eventually to PCS to Ft Drum. His kids (Katie, 8 and Chris, 9) are doing great in school and love their after school activities – soccer, cheerleading and basketball. Mary is working part time at a rehab hospital and enjoying being able to spend time with the kids.

RICH BAXTER: Still working hard for the Army as clinic chief at Ft Riley. Rich reports that his family, wife Shellie and 16 month son, Bryan, are doing well. They love Kansas and are even considering it as a future retirement destination. Bryan is growing too fast and is a good little boy that is happy and loves people.

KATHY BERLIN (VRYDAGHS): Kathy finally made a break from the active Navy, but continues to find occasional adventure in the reserves. She lives in Wisconsin with her husband Joe and their two kids. She worked home health for almost 8 years, but recently made a switch to outpatient orthopedics and is enjoying the change. Kathy turned out to be quite the athlete and is active with triathlons and marathon running – and she is easily located on the internet because of it! She can be reached at kvrydaghs@charter.net

GINO CHINCARINI: Gino is living in Beeville, Texas and working at Christus Spohn PT and Rehab Hospital, which seems to offer him the variety he enjoys. His two daughters are attending college in Texas – away from home, but close enough for holiday visits. Gino has not totally given up his original profession of being a CPA and continues to teach part time at a local community college.

MARK DEYSHER: Mark is still enjoying the Air Force and is heading up the PT clinic at Wright-Patterson AFB in Ohio. He would prefer to be out west eventually, but their current location has been ideal as it is close to family. His wife recently lost her father to cancer and Mark's own father is now battling with cancer as well. He is planning a medical mission trip to Ecuador soon – doing PT with a local native tribe and also to an orphanage. Mark reports his immediate family is doing well and his oldest (Katie) is 12 – does everyone remember her from our peds practical? He also has two boys (Daniel 9 and Jacob 7). All kids are happy, healthy and swimming 6 days a week! His wife continues to home school and runs the coffee shop/bookstore at church. Mark tries to keep in shape with running, and can even be spotted at a few ½ marathons each year – says he has to keep in shape so he can coach his kid's soccer team and hold his own!

ROGER DOUGHTERY: The Dougherty clan is alive and well in Graham, WA and is up to 5 humans and 4 animals (2 dogs and 2 Arabian horses). The kids are growing up. Devon, 16, is plays soccer, the flute and is gearing up to start driving. Kelsea, 11 is into horseback riding and Paige, 9, is into everything – especially extreme sports. Donna is still doing a bit of PT each week, yet spends the majority of her time as an interior designer for a custom home - builder. Roger is a sales manager for a large pharmaceutical company. He has currently been activated from the reserves and is “serving time” at the PT clinic at Madigan. Only one more year before he can retire and fully enjoy his role as the “gentleman rancher” of the household. An open invitation is hereby given to any/all who may have the chance to travel out to the Seattle area – 360.893.4288 or donnaandroger@comcast.net

DAVE JOHNSON: Doing well, living in Springville Utah with his wife and expecting their fourth child any day now. Can be reached at johnsonsinmapleton@yahoo.com

JONELLE JOZWIAK: Although Jonelle had to leave the Army earlier than she would've liked due to MS – she states that she is basically in remission, thanks to her pregnancy and 26 months of nursing! She is now expecting her second child (a baby girl) in April 2006 and doing a case report on herself for her MS in Basic Sciences. She and her husband Mark are in Indiana currently. Mark is of course coaching football and track at Wabash College. Jonelle is doing some part time teaching at a community college, does PT PRN, is working on her masters degree and is mom to her son Wes, 3. Talk about a juggling act! Would also love to hear from anyone: jejoz@juno.com

MAIRE MCANAW: Maire works at UNC Hospitals in Chapel Hill, NC. She enjoys her work as the senior trauma therapist and stays busy with guest lectures (TBI, ICU) to the grad students at UNC and Elon University. In her off time, she plays ice hockey for a traveling team.

LYLE MCCLUNE: Lyle is working in an outpatient clinic in Wenatchee, WA, Biomechanical Sports Therapy. He left the Navy about 6 years ago and misses it, but settling down in one spot has been ideal for his family.

TAMMY MCKENZIE: As shocking as it may be, Tammy “crossed over to the blue” in '98 after leaving active duty Army. She has traveled the world with the Air Force – Holloman AFB in New Mexico, Incirlik AB, Turkey, Barksdale, LA (her hometown) and is currently stationed at Lakenheath AFB in England! She and Mark now have two children (Jacob, 9 and Madeline, 5) – they are the light of their lives. Well of course Tammy loves kids and is finally fulfilling her dream of working with peds. She heads the EDIS clinic in England, which works with special needs kids in the DoDDS schools. Mark has been a firefighter, but due to host nation agreements in England, cannot fight fires there! Instead he is working close to Tammy in the family practice clinic as an administrator. Would love to hear from everyone: Tammy.mckenzie@lakenheath.af.mil

GLEN MYATT: Glen married Elizabeth Hoppey (AFA graduate) the October after we graduated. They moved to South Carolina and then Virginia, finally separating from the military in 1997. After traveling the USA in a RV for five months, Glen and Elizabeth settled down in Purvis, Mississippi (God’s country according to Glen). Despite all of that incredible tax-payer bought-and-paid-for education, Glen and Elizabeth settled down to work in the family motorcycle business in Hattiesburg, MS! (www.hattiesburgcycles.com) Since then, Glen has been more often a patient of physical therapy than a practitioner! They are raising two wonderful boys (Dave, 6 and Owen, 4). Dave loves his sports and is following in his daddy’s footsteps and he truly eats and breathes for motorcycle racing. Owen is an animal lover and has a special relationship with his Thomas the Tank Engines. Most weekends find the family camping out at a motorcycle race somewhere or jet skiing on the coast. Glen and Elizabeth have an extra room and welcome old friends and classmates PCSing or just passing through! Glen is pushing for a class reunion . . .but wants someone else to organize it! Would love to hear from you at info@hattiesburgcycles.com or mayatt@comcast.net

CARA PAPAHRONIS: Cara and Thom now have three kids (Cole, 6, Scout, 4 and Bryce, 2). Cara “retired” from PT (and the paid workforce in general) when they moved to the DC metro area for Thom’s medicine internship in the Navy (June 04-June 05). Cara is now “officially” a van driving, housekeeping, meal cooking full time Mom. Thom is currently the Chief, Medical Officer for a Special Boat Team in Mississippi (special ops Navy Seals unit). Hurricane Katrina temporarily relocated Cara and the kids to her parent's home in San Antonio while their house is being rebuilt – she is looking to return home soon. Thom continues to work in Mississippi.

ALLYSON PRITCHARD: Working (if you can call it that) at the coveted assignment at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. She hopes to knock out the ILE course at Ft Belvoir in spring of '06.

SUSAN ROMITO (DAVIS): Still in the Army and currently working exclusively with infantry privates at Ft Benning, Georgia – which has been a real learning experience! To the surprise of many, she and her husband (Kent) have somehow managed to have two kids (Mitchell, 4 and Shelby 2) despite rotating deployments and very infrequent co-located assignments. Her husband is currently deployed and Sue says the Army's Married Army Couple's Program is for the birds! Can always be reached at susan.davis2@us.army.mil

BRYAN WHITESIDES: Has spent the last 7 years in Grand Junction, Colorado, west of the Rocky Mountains. Leanne and Bryan are busy enjoying the outdoors and the limitless recreation opportunities and busy raising their four children (Ashley, 12, Lindsey, 10, Seth, 8 and Lance, 4). Leanne claims to be taking a break from running but is active in the running community, coaching two programs for entry level runners. Bryan also brags that she makes the best whole wheat bread in the world! Bryan is working in a small outpatient orthopedic clinic and does not shy away from manual therapy or the frequent spine patients. He is also developing a new business and website, www.injuredrunner.com, which provides information on injury recovery and prevention. Bryan would love to hear from you at bryan@injuredrunner.com.

JULIE WHITMAN: Lots of changes lately for Julie, who separated from the Air Force in 2004, got married to a wonderful man (Bernie), and then moved into a home in Denver, where they plan to stay for the long haul. Of course Julie loves Colorado and is enjoying lots of outdoor activities with their two 8 year old golden retrievers (Sky and Nimbe). In addition to transitioning to civilian life, Julie is teaching at Regis and loving it. The students are great and it is rewarding to work at a school that supports service learning and commitment to the local community. She would love to hear from any classmates, especially if they are coming to town. jwhitman@regis.edu or cell: 720-987-8458.

GLENN WILLIAMS: He and his wife Kimberly are currently living in Iowa. They have an 18 month- old son, Alexander who is the joy of their lives. Glenn is faculty at the University of Iowa in Physical Therapy & Rehabilitation Science and has a secondary appointment in Orthopaedic Surgery. He serves as Director of Research for the University of Iowa Sports Medicine Center and has an active biomechanics and sports medicine research lab. Kimberly spends most her time with Alexander doing all kinds of mom things: going to play groups, Kinder Music, gymnastics and the Iowa City Children's Museum. She is active in the Junior Service League and volunteers with several other organization s in town and has a small business. Glenn and Kimberly are impressed with the Iowa City area: progressive, a Big 10 college town and a great place to raise a family. If you are ever in the Midwest, please look them up. They would love to see you. glenn-williams@uiowa.edu

CLASS OF 1995 (Prepared and submitted by MAJ Erica Clarkson)

SHELLEY CAMERON: Shelley moved to Hill AFB October 2003 to run the Health and Wellness Center. After successfully implementing the new Air Force Fitness Test, that's right the one with the sit-ups and push-ups, her job converted to a civilian position. Now she is passing the time until her PCS as the MDG Commander's executive officer. She's hoping for an assignment to Peterson AFB this summer.

ERICA CLARKSON: Life has been busy as usual. 2005 was an exceptional year! No children, but my family has grown with a new cat and new dog and a WONDERFUL husband. Finally finished my DPT after 5 years of struggling through. Also, finished my quest of climbing the 50 state high points, with a stop over in Hawaii (Mauna Kea) on my return from Korea.

AMY ESCHENBERG: Mike and I have set a record for living in one place the longest – we just hit 3 1/2 years here in California. Things are good. The kids keep me very busy (3 boys). Mike's job has been working out great for him. He is in oncology drug development at Amgen and gets to work with the FDA on a variety of compounds. We still try to do our semi - high adventure trips still, with and without the boys, but they are getting to where they enjoy what we enjoy, just at a much slower pace. We took them all on a High Sierra Backpacking trip for a week and Timothy, the youngest at age 3, hiked all but 2 of the 16 miles.

TIM PENDERGRASS: Sally and I are here at Ft Meade. I'm in charge of the Musculoskeletal Center that includes Ortho, PT, Podiatry, and Chiro. We also have visiting providers for OT and PMR. The clinic is commanded by PT (COL Mielcarek) so I have a strong advocate there and who could ask for more? The hours are always too long but the work is always rewarding. We just opened a sick call clinic at our AIT school. Sally is working at the Installation Management Agency (IMA) downtown in DC - next to the Pentagon. She loves her job and she is always busy as the budgets get decided and passed out and spent. She's also very involved in some of the changes that will take place in the future BRAC moves. We have no kiddoes and the dogs are getting older. Both are at 15 years now and no longer run or jump much. They still have puppy hearts though. We are enjoying the National Capital stuff and have been to Cherry Blossom and the Preakness. Baltimore is just up the road with the fun of a port town. We'll be here until the Army picks us up and shuttles us to our next assignment. Oh, and we neither one have aged a bit in the last ten years - amazing.

DEYDRE TEYHEN: John and I are loving being back in San Antonio and we are enjoying the fact that we are both stationed at the same post...1st time since we were married!

AMY TREVINO: I am working as the Assistant Chief at WBAMC and will be changing jobs, moving to the Sargeant Major's Academy, in May of this year. Our family is doing well, growing, and thriving in El Paso (believe it or not). Gabby is 5 now and a great big sister to Alexander Thomas, who was born April 5, 2005. Richard is working as a PTA in El Paso, which is a great place for rehab professionals. He really wanted to stay here in the area and fortunately it worked out with assignments. We should be here another 3 years. We really enjoy the area and have made it to a lot of tourist attractions in West Texas and New Mexico. We hope to do some more travelling, mainly visiting friends and family, now that Zander is a big 9 mos. We also hope that our class makes up for not having a 10year reunion sometime in the near future!

CLASS OF 1997 (Prepared by David Wright)

JON SCHULTZ: Jon is now in a Public Health Service (PHS) uniform and is working in the Federal Prison System like fellow alumnus Corey Dahl. John initial PHS job was at Fort Worth, Texas, where he conducted EMG testing on inmates. He is now located in Raleigh, North Carolina working in a brand new prison. Business is brisk and job security appears to be strong. He married Leslie in April 2002 and had their first child in April 2003. Her name is Caroline and she loves school and dancing like a ballerina. Their second daughter, Meredith Nicole, was born in May 2005 and is now starting to say her first words as well as wake the family up at all hours of the night. The entire family loves being 2 hours from the beach and 5 from the mountains.

NEIL FALLER: Neil is currently a full-time stay at home dad. He works two evenings a week in an outpatient setting in Erie, Pennsylvania. He and Julie have three children Mackenzie (5 1/2), Jack (3 1/2), and Karsen (18 months), and they are expecting a fourth on March 27th. The Faller clan will be moving to Buffalo, NY in June where Julia will begin her residency in Anesthesiology with the University at Buffalo School of Medicine.

KRISTI HULQUIST: Kristi is now living in Boise, ID. She and her husband, Matt, moved there for Matt's job as an ER physician 2 years ago. They have one little girl (Kayden Nikole) who will be 3 in February. Kristi says Kayden has twice as much sass, energy, fun as her. Kristi is working 1/2 time at the Idaho Sports Medicine Institute (ISMI) which is affiliated with Boise State University. She says she recently recruited Beth Greenway (Class of 1997) to move to Boise and join her at ISMI. In addition to chasing Kayden and working half-time at ISMI, Kristi is also coaching high school track. Along with all these activities, Kristi and Matt still travel a lot (India last year and several trips planned for 2006) and participate in local activities (skiing, snow shoeing, hiking, biking, kayaking, river rafting). Kristi and Matt welcome anyone, anytime to stay with them and enjoy the outdoors followed by lots of cold beers, of course!

THOM BALDWIN: Thom graduated from The University of Texas Health Science Center Medical School at San Antonio in 2004. After graduation he returned to Bethesda for an internship in Internal Medicine. Thom is presently the medical officer in charge of a small clinic at Stennis Space Center in Mississippi where he takes care of the Navy Seals and SWCCs assigned to this command. Thom is considering specializing in radiology or orthopedics as a long term career. His short term goals include becoming a Dive Medical Officer and continuing to serve the submariners and Seals in the Navy. Thom, Cara, and their three children (Cole, Scout, and Bryce) arrived in Diamondhead, Mississippi just prior to Hurricane Katrina. They had just finished moving into their house and started enjoying the area when Katrina hit. Their house suffered significant water damage (4 feet) and is slowly being rebuilt. Cara and the kids are in San Antonio (with her parents) and they hope to be reunited in late January or early February when their house reconstruction is finished. The Baldwins, like 98% of the people living in the area, did not have flood insurance (since they were in a non-flood zone). Naturally, the insurance companies declared the water damage as flood damage, and declined to cover any of the expenses to repair their home. Thom and Cara are very much looking forward to 2006.

NATHAN HAWKES: Thom Baldwin reported that Nate also left the physical therapy world to become a physician. He graduated from the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences in 2005 and is currently doing his internship at San Diego Naval Hospital. He too has three children. Nate, like Thom, is considering a long-term career in radiology or orthopedics with the short term goal of becoming a Dive Medical Officer and continuing to serve the submariners and Seals in the Navy.

COREY DAHL: Corey is still in the U.S. Public Health System working in the Bureau of Prisons. He is stationed at Fort Worth, Texas, at the only Federal Medical Center in the Bureau of Prisons for women. He says this is a nice change after working with male inmates for six years, four of those in Minnesota. Corey has been in Fort Worth since August 2003 and is looking forward to another duty station change later this year or next. He earned his OCS in 2001 and was promoted to lieutenant commander last year. Corey married in 2001, but doesn't have any children yet.

TIM CASS: Tim is currently a company commander at Ft. Knox (the third company commander at Ft. Knox from the Class of 1997 – David Wright and David Duplessis preceded Tim), and will be leaving command this summer. He may be going to Alaska to be Chief of the PT clinic there, but doesn't have orders yet. Tim earned his OCS certification in 2003, and was selected for major in December 2005. Tim is married to Chris (maiden name Hier) who is also a Baylor-PT grad. They have two children, Tristen (2 years old) and Trey. Trey just joined the family on 31 October 2005. Chris decided to leave the active Army, after 14 years of service, so she could spend more time with Tristen and Trey. Chris will continue her military career in the reserves, and is currently working part-time in a civilian PT clinic.

BETH GREENWAY: Beth left the Navy in July 2004 and moved to Jacksonville, Florida for a year. This past July she relocated to Boise, Idaho. Beth will be joining Kristi Hulquist at the Idaho Sports Medicine Institute in Boise. Beth is still a certified athletic trainer and earned her OCS certification in 2002. She is currently unmarried, but dating a great guy.

STEPHANIE KAUZLARICH: Stephanie is now at Fort Riley, Kansas, where her husband, Ralph, is taking command of a new battalion. The Kauzlarich Family had orders for Vilseck, Germany that were changed at the last minute (truck shipped and about to go on PCS leave) to Fort Riley. Stephanie is very busy with her new duties as the 'commander's wife' and as mother of Allie (6 years old), Jacob (4 years old), and Garrett (2 years old). Steph met up with her PT school table mate, Ian Lee, when she arrived at Ft. Riley. What a great reunion! Steph says the reunion, and school seating-history, continued when Ian and Steph discovered that their daughters were seated next to each other in first grade. Steph said that she and Ian warned the teacher, and that the girls were eventually separated because they were talking too much in class. No surprise to either Steph or Ian.

DAVID WRIGHT: David finished his company command at Ft. Knox (same company where Tim Cass is the commander) in 2002 and moved to Ft. Benning. He was only able to spend two years there before heading to Ft. Leavenworth for the resident Command and General Staff College Course from July 2004 to June 2005. David is now working in Heidelberg, Germany in the Europe Regional Medical Command's Inspector General Office. David, Beth, Shannon (15 years old) and Sasha (13 years old) are enjoying their travels around Europe, and welcome any friends to visit them (and enjoy the great German beers).

DON GOSS: Don is currently the chief of the "Stuttgart Physical Therapy – Sports Medicine Center" which is actually located in the gym on Stuttgart's post. He moved to Germany from West Point where he had a tremendous experience focusing on sports medicine and working with highly motivated 18-22 year olds. Don also spent a great deal of time conducting, publishing (, and presenting numerous research projects. Don is in his third year in Germany (might move in January 2007, but nothing about the next assignment yet), and is working hard on running shoe clinics and getting AAFES to bring better running shoes to PXs in Europe. Don recently completed the Berlin Marathon, and he and Holly have thoroughly enjoyed the wonderful travel opportunities throughout Europe.

PAGE KARSTETER: Page is currently in the Physical Therapy Sports Medicine Residency at West Point, and will be moving to Ft. Bliss in February for his utilization tour. He was previously in Germany where he met and married (16 August 2003) his wife, Carrie. Page and Carrie (who was an MP and deployed to Iraq in February 2004) are the proud parents of Scott Michael born on 5 November 2005 (41 weeks post-deployment for Carrie). Page still enjoys running and swimming.

GUY TERRY: Guy is living in Little Elm, Texas and owns a physical therapy clinic (Terry Rehabilitation and Testing, Inc.) in Carrollton, both are northern suburbs of Dallas. He's been there about 20 months, but just opened the clinic on 5 July. Guy is in the IRR, and only has about 7 years remaining for retirement. He plans to get back into a regular Reserve unit when his practice is humming along. Guy and Jennifer have two children, both girls, Olivia Leigh (8 November 2003) and Emma Grace (20 October 2005).

JACQUE COLEY: Jacque is currently working at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

IAN LEE: Ian is currently the assistant chief at Irwin Army Medical Activity at Ft. Riley, Kansas.

DAVE DUPLESSIS: Dave is currently the assistant chief at Darnall Army Medical Activity at Ft. Hood, TX.

Class of 1999 JOHN DEWEY: I'm Inactive Reserve for the USPHS, own a running store, and I still do PT on a PRN basis in Greensboro, NC.

CLASS of 2000 (Prepared by Holly Roberts)

MATT ARMENTANO: Matt recently transferred to the U.S. Public Health Service, and is working in Arizona.

ALEX BRENNER: Shelly and I have thoroughly enjoyed living in Italy; traveling around Europe has been a once in a lifetime opportunity. We head back to the states (Fort Knox, KY) next April where I will be taking a company command position in one of the basic training battalions. Mackenzie is 5 years old and is doing well in kindergarten. She attended the Italian Asilo (Italian schools) for several months and was quite impressive with learning Italian so quickly. Alexander is 3 years old and attends pre-school. His favorite thing to do is riding his bike and his battery operated ATV around our apartment complex.

Jessica Feda: Last year I transferred from the Army to the Public Health Service. We now live in Rochester Minnesota. We bought a house in April and really like it. Our four children are doing fine. I am working at a federal medical center and Dan works at the Mayo Clinic. Dan is assisting in managing Mayo's billing operations. I was fortunate to help set up and work at medical centers after Hurricane Katrina devastated southern Mississippi. We spend a lot of our time outdoors, canoeing, camping, snowmobiling, skiing, and visiting friends and family. I am starting to get into triathlons, but nothing like Zack or Dave yet! I had the distinct pleasure to see Luke and Ann earlier this year in Georgia and we had an opportunity last year to visit Nicky and Bob. Dan and I spent some time in a shark cage on the Northern Shore of Oahu and it was great! By the way, I am just kidding about the four children. Caleb is still our one and only and he turned five in December. He is doing great and ready to start kindergarten. He loves Minnesota and keeps very busy in the winter sledding, skating, and skiing.

TOM FELDMAN: Heather and I have a little boy, Benjamin, who will be 3 in April. I am currently the chief of a very small clinic in Germany. We love living in Europe.

TRAVIS HEDMAN: Trisha and I now have 2 children (Tyler-5 and Tatum-2) and Trisha is pregnant with our third--due in June 2006. I am still in San Antonio--now at the ISR in the burn center. I obtained my OCS credentials and I will be beginning a tDPT program soon--almost started the RMU program when I got word there may be opportunity thru Baylor--so I am waiting to see what becomes of that.

BILL LORO: All is going very well with the Loro's. Danielle is still staying busy taking care of Alexis (11) and Emma (4). Alexis is thriving in junior high; she is already talking about attending an Ivy League University. Emma is pretty wild compared to Alexis, but she gets away with a lot. We really enjoyed our time at Fort Campbell as we begin wrapping up three unforgettable years with the 5th Special Forces Group (ABN). Our family is looking forward to heading up to West Point in the summer of 2006. Hope everyone out there is doing well!

KIRK MCBRIDE: After Iraq, I ETS'ed from the Army (in Dec '04) to finish prerequisites to get into medical school. I was accepted for the class beginning summer of 2006 and will be coming back in the Army on a HPSP scholarship - so I will be a physician in the Army. I won't know which school I will be attending until Texas puts out their list in a few months. Other than that, my life is pretty boring. No wife, no kids.

VANCE MCNULTY: Things are going pretty well in the desert of Ft. Huachuca, which is actually a really nice area. My wife (Toni) and I just bought a house so that keeps us busy most days. I was recently told I'm PROFIS to a BCT out at Ft. Hood, a year after getting back from downrange, so I look forward to going back to Iraq (not) sooner or later, haha.

TAMMY MORELAND: After being deployed to Iraq Jan04-Dec04, Tammy is currently at Ft. Campbell, KY. She recently got married, and now has two stepsons (twins, 7 yr. old). She is hard at work on her tDPT through Temple.

JACKIE POLLOCK: I spent the last two years on the USS GEORGE WASHINGTON. Like always, my life is still hectic. I was supposed to transfer to Camp Pendleton Marine Corp Base in February, but I got a call from my CO a few weeks ago. Due to my hard-core attitude with Navy Physical Readiness, a three star Admiral requested that I take over the Bupers position at Millington, TN next. So there is a good chance I will be out of the Physical Therapy realm for a few years. So when you see the 1.5 mile run increased to a 10+ mile run for the Navy, you know who did it). I was really looking forward going to California and working with the Marines again, but it will be a great experience writing Navy policies and instructions.

DAVE ROBBINS: Karen has been staying at home with the kids (Josh is 3 and Hannah just turned 1 on Dec 16th). We're enjoying Colorado a lot (but is that a surprise since we came from Fort Irwin?)

HOLLY ROBERTS: They said, "Join the Army, see the world", so I am trying my best see as much of the world as possible, using Korea and Germany as my home bases. My favorite trips have been to Vietnam, Cambodia, Thailand, Slovenia, and Italy. I am currently competing with Tom for the world's smallest (square footage) physical therapy clinic, but my motto is location, location, location!

STEVE SEWARD: Steve is getting out of the Army and moving to Texas in 6 months.

ZACK SOLOMON: Karmin, Will (5), Bennett (2), and I are living the good life in Hawaii. We have moved to a new duty station about every 2 years going from DC to Kansas to Hawaii. I am currently working at Schofield Barracks in a great clinic. I have recently taken over a position of great responsibility—I am the manager/coach for Will's T-ball team. I didn't want to brag, but oh well.

BOB WIEDERIEN: Krista is 5, in Kindergarten and reading short books! Joshua is 3, in preschool, loves building things and knocking them down, also loves fast race cars... Nicky is still staying at home and hauling the kids around to all their activities. I am in the Sports Medicine and Rehab Team Center stationed with the Marines at Kaneohe Bay in Hawaii. It is awesome being with the hard charging Marines. A lot of recent war injuries. We have slowed down our worldly adventures and have a lot of family and friends visiting us here in Hawaii. Make your reservations soon... I should be here until Sep 06, but I might extend until Sep 07.

CLASS OF 2001 (Submitted by Stephanie Maxfield)

MARY KAY HANNAH: I'm the assistant chief at Fort Bragg. I am PROFIS to 1BCT, 1ID and went up to Fort Riley in Nov in order to deploy for a year. Then the unit was turned around and we're not going due to downsizing. My husband, John, is working on his PhD at UNC Chapel Hill. Rosa is in 3rd grade, a big reader and she practices karate. Mary Kay also reports that Charles Blake just got back from a year in Bagdad and should be just starting back to work at Campbell. Cameron Stokes is in Germany, but due to deploy this month. Mike Winters is in Iraq with a BCT of the 4th In Div.

MAE HEMPHILL: I am still in Mannheim, Germany and have been here since Sep 03. I am going TDY back to Fort Sam for the 9-week Captains Career Course in March. I should be PCSing to Camp Casey, Korea where my fiancée is in May or Jun 06...so I am excited about that. I have been seeing a different country each month during my tour here in Germany. Just got back from Istanbul, Turkey over the New Year's weekend. Will be heading to southern Spain and Morocco over the MLK weekend. Trying to plan a trip to Russia and St. Petersburg in the future before I PCS from Germany.

JOE KARDOUNI: I am in Kuwait right now. I have been here since last July, but I did get to go home for 2 weeks around Christmas and New Year. Nikki gave birth to our second child (Alexander) in May. I spent about 6 weeks at home after his birth before I had to come to Kuwait. Our daughter (Savannah) will be 2 years old at the end of this month. I will go to the Captain's Career Course for 2 months directly following my year in Kuwait. The 14+ months away from the family is a little rough, but manageable. I will work for one of the SF groups once I get back from Kuwait - looking forward to it.

STEPHANIE MAXFIELD: I am now inactive from the Public Health Service and moved back to the DC area this summer. I began doctoral studies in neuroscience at Georgetown in July and have survived my first semester! I am not in clinical practice at the moment, but I will probably work PRN once the didactic portion of my program is completed. I traveled quite a bit at the beginning of this year, to the Berkshires, Iowa, Puerto Rico, New Orleans, Colorado, Las Vegas, Arizona and Germany. At this point I hope to go back to active duty once school is over.

JON NEUMANN: We've been in Germany for about 18 months - loving every minute...not traveling like we would want but that's a fair challenge with our group. Madilyn (turns 7 in FEB) is in German 1st grade. The boys - Harrison & Ean (turn 4 in AUG) & Hannah (turned 3 in SEP) all are in German Kindergarten. Najla is teaching English as a Second Language to military spouses a few days a week. I'm currently Chief of a single therapist clinic with 1 tech - staying busy with deployments & redeployments.

CYNDI REAMS MCLEAN: Still in Germany...I am pregnant with a due date in Jun 06. Chris will deploy again to Iraq in Apr/May timeframe so he won't be around for the fun stuff, but Mom will come over for a few months.

CARRIE SCHNEIDER: I am now stationed at Walter Reed, after tours in Hawaii and Korea. I am currently serving as the in-patient section chief. I got engaged last summer, and Spencer and I are looking forward to a Sept 2006 wedding.

JIM COWAN: Carrie also reports that Jim Cowan has begun the Orthopedic Residency program at BAMC. Dan Hollinsworth is in Washington State and he and Amy have a daughter named Piper.

MARK THELEN: Was accepted to the Sports Medicine Residency program at West Point.

DEE DEE SWIECKI: I ETS'd in November. It was time for a little "mommy sabbatical". Dual military with both Kit and I with deployment on the horizons does not mesh well with a young, growing family. I had baby #3 on December 11th! Our 3 girls are: Mackenzie, 4 yrs in Feb; Brooke, 2 in April; Claire, 3 wks. I am going crazy at home taking care of 3 under three! It's the most challenging job I ever had, and loving every minute of it. We are in Fairbanks, Alaska and will stay here until the next duty assignment, as Kit is still stationed at our Army hospital here.

CLASS OF 2004 (Prepared by Yadira Del Toro)

KARA WEIGEL: Stationed at Ft. Belvoir, VA

RICH MORAVEC: Stationed at Ft. Knox, KY. Dawn, Makenna, Madison and I have been here at Fort Knox for 1.5 years, looking to stay for another 1.5 years then go South to Georgia or South Carolina. Dawn is due 1 week from today with Masen; she's having a scheduled C-section. No deployments are in our immediate future, but always a chance. I should be in a PROFIS slot in the near future.

JAKE MORROW: Stationed at Ft. Jackson, SC

REMEMBERING

FLORENCE KENDALL, CLASS OF 1932

During the Opening Ceremonies of the APTA Combined Section Meeting, keynote speaker Shirley Sahrman, PhD, PT, FAPTA, took time to recognize the friendship and professional achievements of Florence Kendall, 1932 Walter Reed Army Physical Therapy Program Graduate, who died in late February. Her poignant comments brought smiles to our faces as she mentioned that all the angels were having to stand up straight now! Florence Kendall was an icon in Physical Therapy as well as a great clinician and teacher. Florence served as a consultant to the Surgeon General for many years and has taught many Army graduates. She never stopped teaching. She will be missed but her legacy will live on. She was certainly a role model for all physical therapists.
