University Libraries to Host Davis Lecture at Armstrong Browning

You are cordially invited to an exciting lecture by Dr. Miriam Davis at 3:00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 2, in the Hankamer Treasure Room at the Armstrong Browning Library. Dr. Davis is the author of a newly published biography of the well-known biblical archeologist, Kathleen Kenyon. The book and lecture are titled Dame Kathleen Kenyon: Digging Up the Holy Land. While writing her book, Dr. Davis used some of the primary materials from a collection of Kenyon’s works housed in Moody Library.

A reception and book-signing will follow from 4:00 p.m.-5:00 p.m. in Cox Reception Hall of ABL.

Volunteerism is in the Air!

Our local National Public Radio station is looking for volunteers to answer phones and take pledges during their spring campaign April 3-11. Volunteers are needed as early as 6:00 a.m. and as late as 7:00 p.m.

The KWBU broadcasting studio is located across the street in the Castellaw Communications Building, so you don’t even have to move your car! Snacks and drinks are available during every shift. Contact Loretta Howard at x7887 or at Loretta@kwbu.org to offer your help.
