Gregory Garden Entrance Now a Reality

After almost 40 years of wishing we could enter and exit Moody Library through the door in the Gregory Garden, now we can. The security gates are installed, and the door is open.

The entrance hours are:

Sunday: 1 p.m. – 1 a.m.

Monday – Thursday: 8 a.m. – 1 a.m.

Friday: 8 a.m. – 5 p.m.

Saturday: 12 noon – 5 p.m.

Please mark your calendars and come celebrate with us as we officially open the Gregory Garden Entrance on Monday, October 1, from 4 – 5 p.m. Refreshments will be served, and all are welcome.

Banned Books Week Sept. 29 – Oct. 6

Does the following comment make you uncomfortable? “You can’t read that book.” Does this quote from the UN make you shout “Amen”? “Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.”—UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights

If you answered yes to these, then you may want to help the libraries celebrate the freedom to read during Banned Books Week. We plan to heighten awareness about the issues of intellectual freedom and censorship. To do so, we need people to help with table tents, web pages, quizzes, lecture series and other PR materials. If you are interested, please call (x3679) or email (Beth.Tice@baylor.edu). We’ll send out more information about events and activities in the next week.

LexisNexis Seminars Offered Oct. 3

In August, the search interface for LexisNexis Academic changed significantly and additional content is now available from this resource.

On Wednesday, October 3, Lynn Smith – a trainer from LexisNexis – will be offering 2 hour seminars covering the new search interface for LexisNexis Academic. The 3 identical seminars will be held in the Jones 105 classroom and are being offered at the following times:

9:00 am – 11:00 am

1:00 pm – 3:00 pm

4:00 pm – 6:00 pm

To attend one of these seminars, register at: www1.baylor.edu/pod_reg. For questions, contact Billie Peterson-Lugo.
