

Daily Quizzes for Banned Books Week

How much do you know about banned books? Every day this week you will receive a quiz to test your knowledge about banned books, with the questions and quizzes growing progressively more difficult each day. Ami Hartsock and others developed the quizzes for us to learn more about Banned Books week.

You should have received one yesterday, but I ran out of time before I had to run to class. Therefore, I am including both Monday and Tuesday's quizzes in today's edition. No, there are no prizes, but hopefully, this will be a fun way to learn more about what kinds of books have been banned and why. Answers found on page 2. Enjoy!

-Tina Libhart

Monday's Quiz:

Books have been challenged probably since they have been in existence. Which author had a book banned in the 1600s for writing that the Earth revolved around the Sun?

Newton
DaVinci
Galileo
Voltaire

October is National Cyber Security Awareness Month

On Oct. 9, ITS and the Electronic Library invite you to come learn about Cyber Safety and share a float at Dr Pepper Hour in the Barfield Drawing Room.

ITS and Libraries Ads In Lariat

You may have noticed the ITS/Libraries ad for National Cyber Security Awareness Month when you flipped through The Lariat this morning. We hope you did.

ITS and the Libraries are partnering on weekly ad space to promote our services and events. The goal is to reach our clients on campus with information they need to know. If your area has a service or event you'd like to have run in this spot, please contact Tina Libhart (x6675).

Helpers Needed Everywhere!

As we hope you know by now, the Ronan Tynan library fundraiser is about a month away. We will need volunteers for many of the activities leading up to and including the event. Here are some of the things we need help with:

- Selling tickets and T-shirts after Chapel on Mon, Oct 29
- Selling tickets and T-shirts during Dr Pepper Hour on Tues, Oct 16
- Selling tickets and T-shirts during lunch at various locations – The SUB or Penland
- Generate ticket sales by posting flyers in places you frequent
- Various jobs the night of the event
- Other interesting jobs are they are discovered

If you'd like to help, please contact Mary Goolsby (6735)

LexisNexis Seminars Oct. 3

In August, the search interface for LexisNexis Academic changed significantly and additional content is now available from this resource.

On Wednesday, October 3, Lynn Smith, a trainer from LexisNexis, will be offering 2-hour seminars covering the new search interface for LexisNexis Academic. The three identical seminars will be held in the Jones 105 classroom and are being offered at the following times:

9:00 am – 11:00 am
1:00 pm – 3:00 pm
4:00 pm – 6:00 pm

To attend one of these seminars, register at the POD website. For questions, contact Billie Peterson-Lugo.

KWBU-FM Pledge Drive Volunteers Still Needed

Our local NPR station, KWBU-FM, will have its fall pledge drive from October 11 – 26. Volunteers are needed to answer phones and take donations and pledges. They need at least two volunteers per shift.

The studio is just across the street in the Castellaw building. Snacks and drinks are provided, and they thank volunteers over the air. Contact Mary Goolsby (x6735) if you'd like to volunteer.
