

UNSC Advisement

UNSC Advisement will take place in October and March of each year. Please schedule an appointment with one of the University Scholars Directors through the online system (see link on upper right hand of this page).

Given the demands of your schedule and advisors' schedules, it may not be possible for you to schedule with your preferred advisor. Simply put, schedule an appointment as soon as possible.

When you meet with a director, please:

1. Come prepared with a proposed list of courses and a rationale for that semester's courses.
2. Come prepared to discuss your goals, intermediate and long term.
3. If you have made changes to your Reading List bring a new copy of your Reading List with you that identifies clearly what has been changed. New students must submit a Reading List for approval prior to signing up for classes.
4. Changing classes after advisement without your adviser's approval-i.e., the same adviser who counsels you-can lead to automatic dismissal from the program.

Once you have been formally advised, you may register for classes at your appointed time. Early registration times are tied to credit hours earned, so not all early registrants will register for classes at the same time. Verify that you have been cleared for registration by UNSC and Honors prior to your registration time. You are responsible for securing any required authorization (pre-rec waivers, enrollment capacity, special approval, etc.) for your courses; UNSC advisors may not authorize special permissions in other departments.
