

Baylor Round Table Christmas Celebration
December 1, 2005
Armstrong-Browning Library

The Baylor Round Table's December program was a Christmas celebration featuring the Baylor Chamber Singers in concert, followed by a luncheon. Members and guests were welcomed by President Amber Thompson at 11:30 a.m. in the McLean Foyer of Meditation in Armstrong-Browning Library. Kathy Hillman gave the invocation. Ann May, program coordinator, introduced Dr. Donald Bailey and the Baylor Chamber Singers.

The Chamber Singers began their concert in the main entrance foyer and entered the McLean Foyer singing. The concert consisted of nine selections, lasting about 30 minutes. Following the recessional, the Chamber Singers went to the Cox Reception Hall for lunch. Christine Wilkins thanked the choir for helping Round Table usher in the Christmas season so beautifully.

Following the concert, Ann May announced the Combined Choirs' Christmas Concerts on Friday and Saturday, December 2nd and 3rd. In closing, Dana Lee Haines gave directions for the luncheon and then invited everyone to join hands for the singing of "Silent Night," led by Lois Ferguson.

The luncheon menu included pasta salads, fruit salads, finger sandwiches, desserts, sparkling cranberry punch, and coffee. Dana Lee Haines coordinated the luncheon, assisted by Anna Kay Hollon-Harris, Deborah Korpi, Lu Treadwell, and Trena Wilkerson. Hostesses for December were Ann Cunningham, Maxine Hart, Kristin Hill, Evelyn Hupp, Lois Myers, Susie Oliver, Sandy Rose, Sue Sloan, Donell Teaff, and Paula Williams. Approximately 125 members and guests attended the concert and luncheon.

Respectfully submitted,

Amber Thompson, President
