THE PROCLAIMERS PLACE MOVEMENT

Beginning in 2005, Dr. Gregory has given leadership to the Proclaimers Place Seminar Movement. This movement consists of four-day small group sessions focused on one biblical text per day, moving from exegesis in the morning session to homiletics in the afternoon session. Through October, 2013, there have been 64 seminars held in 14 states, Oxford, UK, Paris and Rome with a total attendance of 679. This last summer marked the ninth year at Regent's Park College, Oxford. Former Principal Rev. Dr. Paul Fiddes considers the longevity and attendance of this seminar to be unprecedented at the college, especially for the consistent number of African Americans who have attended.

The Oxford seminar has been the subject of a paper presented to the Academy of Homiletics at its Chicago meeting in 2012. Related to the Oxford experience has been the Festival of African-American preaching in 2011 where seminar members preached at 27 British Baptist Union churches. The majority of participants have been African-American pastors with a strong minority of Euro-American pastors. Former principal Paul Fiddes of Regents Park College, Oxford, certified that in his memory no such African-American had studied in such numbers at Oxford. Baptist World Alliance President David Coffee visited the sessions and used the format of the sessions to shape a similar format of study led by him in the U.K. Scores of testimonies concerning the impact of this seminar on some of the leading proclaimers in America may be found at www.gregoryministries.org. Southern Baptist Convention Annual Sermon – San Antonio, TX

Dr. Gregory was selected by an inclusive program committee to bring the sermon at this historic meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention. Before 35,000 messengers in San Antonio and a live national television audience on the ACTS network, Dr. Gregory brought the message "The Castle and the Wall." The message was an effort to call for peace and civility in the denominational crisis and a summons to return to the unity of the early years. The message was printed in full or in part in dozens of denominational periodicals and widely reported in the secular press. This message is widely recognized as a significant moment in Baptist preaching and is presently used in colleges and seminaries as an example of preaching in a specific crisis and venue.
