

OTHER
Honor Code Definitions II. C. (17)
 Other

SEMESTER	OFFENSE	FACULTY OR HONOR COUNCIL DECISION	SANCTION
Spring 2007	Student contacted the publisher's Web site for additional course information.	Faculty	Per recommendation of Program Director, student wrote a letter of apology to the publisher, and was required to meet with Assistant Chair to further talk about ethics and future profession. No further punitive action was recommended.
Summer 2007	None.
Fall 2007	On two different occasions during exams in Economics student exchanged exam papers with another student at his request and without the authorization of the instructor, so that that student would have the same exam paper as neighbor and could copy off that other student's exam, giving that student an unfair academic advantage.	Honor Council	Received an "F" in the course and suspension for one term (spring 2008).
Fall 2007	While serving in a paid position as a Teaching Assistant for Chemistry, student offered a special help session for students in Chemistry the night before the final examination. Student charged at least some of the students $150 to attend the help session. During the help session student talked to some of the students individually outside the room and offered to send a text message with some of the answers to the examination questions. In addition student did, in fact, send text message answers to some of the students in the class.	Honor Council	Immediate expulsion. No further employment on Baylor campus allowed.
Spring 2008	None.
Summer 2008	None.
Fall 2008	Student turned in two compositions for credit in Italian for which student had used an online translation.	Faculty	Received a "0" for the assignments.
Spring 2009	Student submitted a written report of Operating Room Experience for credit in	Honor Council	Received an "F" in the course.

OTHER
Honor Code Definitions II. C. (17)
 Other

	Nursing. Student also provided a copy of the report to two other students who copied major portions of the report word for word in their own reports which were submitted for credit in another section of the same course.
Spring 2009	Student provided student's Matlab homework assignment to another student who submitted that work as his own for credit in Engineering.	Faculty	Received a warning from the professor.
Spring 2009	Student sent an email to the other students in Theater Arts offering to give student's roommate's extra stamped program for one of the required theater productions to anyone who did not have one, even though this involved a graded element of the course.	Faculty	Received a failing grade on the test.
Summer 2009	None.
Fall 2009	During the Spring semester 2009, student engaged in dishonorable conduct in connection with academic matters when student, a TA,: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Failed to follow the instructions of the supervising professor by providing to the students in Psychology section copies of quizzes and past exams from professor's class for students to review prior to exams even though student was aware of professor's security related to Psychology quizzes and exams. 2. Misrepresented facts when student told some students in the section that the quizzes and exams they were reviewing prior to exams (materials kept in secured binders) had been provided by professor for such use. 	Honor Council	Received permanent expulsion, prohibition on employment by the University, and stamp on transcript that student was expelled for an Honor Code violation.

OTHER
Honor Code Definitions II. C. (17)
 Other

	3. Entered the Psychology and Neuroscience main office copy room (which is used for the preparation and storage for examinations) and looked at exams being copied by student staff when student, TA, did not have authorization to view these exams. 4. Failed to follow the instructions of the supervising professor when student had unauthorized study sessions which student called student-led study sessions with the section of Psychology even after professor told student that all study sessions must be open to all students taking Psychology class. 5. Misrepresented facts about professor and the section of Psychology when student told some students at the end of the semester that professor had been conducting an experiment on their section of Psychology.
Fall 2009	Student asked another student to provide notes regarding extra credit papers so that student could do reports for events not attended in order to receive extra credit in Business Law.	Faculty	Received no credit for either assignment.
Fall 2009	Student attended classes without making timely financial settlement, past the seventh class day, without authorization from the dean.	Faculty	Received an email warning.
Fall 2009	Student misrepresented facts about student to professor as an excuse for behavior in class that day in Nursing.	Faculty	Received an "F" in the clinical course.
Spring 2010	While acting as a teaching assistant, student	Honor Council	Graduation dependent on successful completion of Independent

OTHER
Honor Code Definitions II. C. (17)
 Other

	gave two students grades which they did not earn in Math. In addition, during the fall semester of 2008, student gave one of these students a grade not earned in Math.		study with 3 faculty members to be completed by March 30, 2011. Failure to successfully complete the study will result in expulsion.
Spring 2010	Student submitted a lab report for another student so that student would receive academic credit in Electrical and Computer Engineering for the report. The other student had not attended the lab for which the report was submitted.	Faculty	Received a "0" for the lab report.
Summer 2010	Student supplied electronic copies of assignment (both exercises and source code) to another student in Computer Science.	Faculty	Received a reprimand.
Summer 2010	On numerous occasions student supplied complete electronic copies of assignments (both exercises and source codes) to another student in Computer Science.	Faculty	Retroactively received an "F" for the course.
Summer 2010	Student corrected one student's code for an assignment in Computer Science and then provided corrected code to another student in the class.	Faculty	Received a reprimand.
Summer 2010	In violation of the professor's prohibitions regarding collaboration of this type, student assisted another student in cheating in Computer Science by providing that student a copy of the project code. When this was discovered, student also lied to the professor by stating that the code had been taken without student's knowledge or consent.	Faculty	Received an "F" for course.
Summer 2010	Student suspected that another student was copying off of student's exam during a test in Psychology and failed to report that to the professor. In addition, student failed to adequately protect the exam so that the other student could not copy from it. In the alternative, student allowed the other student to copy answers from the exam.	Honor Council	Not Guilty.
Fall 2010	None
Spring 2011	Student used an online translator in	Honor Council	Received a permanent "F" in the course.

OTHER
Honor Code Definitions II. C. (17)
 Other

	completing the final homework assignment and second composition in Spanish giving student an unfair academic advantage on the assignments.	(2 nd Violation – Automatic referral)
Summer 2011	None
Fall 2011	In violation of instructions given in the course syllabus, student used an online translator in completing an annotated bibliography in Spanish, giving student an unfair academic advantage on the assignment.	Faculty	Received a “0” on the assignment.
Fall 2011	Student used an online translator in completing the second composition in Spanish against the guidelines stated in the course syllabus thus giving student an unfair academic advantage on the assignment.	Faculty	Received a “0” for the assignment.
Spring 2012	While completing a lab for credit in Chemistry student had in student's possession lab reports belonging to a student who had taken the lab in a previous semester. Student knew or should have known that this conduct would give student an unfair academic advantage on the assignment and that it was unauthorized by the professor.	Faculty	Received a warning from the professor.
Summer 2012	None.
Fall 2012	In order to give student an unfair academic advantage in Chemistry, student used a “Groups at Baylor” Facebook page in an attempt to obtain completed course material from students who had previously taken the course.	Faculty	Received an “F” for the course for the semester.
Spring 2013	None.
Summer 2013	None.
Fall 2013	None.
Spring 2014	None.
Summer 2014	None.

OTHER
Honor Code Definitions II. C. (17)
 Other

Fall 2014	While acting as a grader for Accounting, student gave another student grades of "100" on several problems for which the student did not submit answers.	Honor Council	Immediate suspension for two semesters. May not be employed at Baylor University.
Fall 2014	Student submitted several blank homework assignments for credit in Accounting with the understanding that the grader was to give student a grade of 100 on the work.	Faculty	Received an "F" for the class.
Spring 2015	Student supplied the class attendance code to another student who was not in attendance. The other student then was able to record attendance in class and complete the quiz given that day.	Faculty	Received a "0" on the quiz.
Summer 2015	None.
Fall 2015	Student provided answers to a graded assignment to other students who had not yet submitted their assignments for credit in Nutrition.	Faculty	The violation was reported to the Office of Academic Integrity.
Fall 2015	Student captured answers for a case study in Nutrition from another student who had already had the assignment graded and then shared the answers with a third student.	Faculty	Student's grade for the case study which would have helped the overall average will be dropped.
Spring 2016	None
Summer 2016	None.
Fall 2016	Student attended a Mathematics class for which student was not registered and took a test in the class without the permission of the professor. Student knew or should reasonably have known that such conduct could give student an unfair academic advantage because it provided student with access to academic content for which student had not paid. Additionally, it could give student an unfair academic advantage over other students if student was to take the class in the	Faculty	A report of the incident was filed with the Office of Academic Integrity.

OTHER
Honor Code Definitions II. C. (17)
Other

	future. "
--	-----------	--	--

Rev. 9-1-2009; 1-7-2010; 5-28-2010; 9-3-2010; 12-9-2010; 1-14-2011; 6-15-2011; 8/26/2011; 01/04/2012; 05/25/2012; 08/18/2012; 01/03/2013; 05/28/2013; 8/19/201301/16/2014; 06/11/2014; 08/19/2014; 01/15/2015; 05/27/2015; 08/18/2015; 01/05/2016; 05/26/2016; 09/22/2016; 1/18/2017