MANY VOICES + ONE SONG

Session Descriptions

July 17-20, 2018

Establishing a School of The Arts In Your Church

Glen Adkins

Spirituals & The Souls Of Black Folk

Stephanie Boddie

In this presentation, I weave the history of African Americans along with primary research, secondary sources and various arrangements of Spirituals. Using a multi-media format, I offer a novel approach to experience these timeless treasures. The music ranges from traditional versions of Spirituals like "I Want Jesus to Walk with Me" to contemporary arrangements of "I am seeking for a City".

Building Your Choir Intergenerationally

Randall Bradley

Many church choirs are aging and lacking the ability to attract younger members. Based on a working model, this session will explore strategies that, in a local church context, are proving to be effective.

Hearts, Hands and Voices – Working with the Whole Person

Michael Burkhardt

A hands-on session and experience focusing on whole person and learning style awareness in working with children's choir singers.

Working with the Child Voice

Michael Burkhardt

A session focusing on understanding the child voice and developmental experiences for singers of all shapes and sizes (speech-like singer, dependent singer, limited-range singer, untuned singer).

Repertoire Selection:

Michael Burkhardt

Where we're at, where we've been, where we're going

A session focusing on choosing meaningful and appropriate literature for children of all ages and backgrounds.

Children in Worship – Preparing, Praising, Proclaiming and Praying

Michael Burkhardt

A hands-on session and experience focusing on engaging children in worship and children leading worship.

Three "Rs" – Really Rehearsing Repertoire

Michael Burkhardt

A hands-on session and experience focusing on score study, rehearsal planning and rehearsal strategies.

Stepping Stones to Part Singing

Michael Burkhardt

A hands-on session and experience focusing on sequential planning for and development of part singing skills.

Nuts and Bolts – Before, During, and After the Rehearsal

Michael Burkhardt

A session focusing on the non-musical aspects of a children’s choir program.

The Care and Feeding of Children’s Choirs

Michael Burkhardt

A hands-on session and experience focusing on both the spiritual and musical nourishment of young singers.

The Care and Feeding of the Children’s Choir Director

Michael Burkhardt

A session focusing on the physical, emotional and spiritual well-being of children’s choir leaders.

PIE TALK: My Most Important Ministry Lesson

Burkley/Johnson/King

Ministry leadership is often confusing and challenging, but lessons are learned along the way that offer hope amidst the difficulty. Join these church leaders as they each share their most important ministry lessons, followed by an invitation to discuss.

Somos pueblo que camina/We Are People on a Journey

Carlos Colón

Congregational singing is the main form of communal participation in worship. Hymns and songs provide the worshipers with a shared vocabulary that deeply shapes their faith, witness, and commitment to serve the community and the world. In this workshop, we will explore a repertoire of bilingual (Spanish-English), Scripturally-inspired songs from a variety of contexts and cultures, which transcending a language divide, can expand our vision of what it means to be the people of God, living in this world. These songs will appear in a forthcoming (summer 2019, GIA Publications, Inc.) hymnal, Santo, santo, santo/Holy, Holy, Holy: Cantos para el pueblo de Dios/Songs for the people of God.

First Things First: Covering the Basics in Preschool Music

Susan Eernisse

We will look at key music concept categories and engaging activities to plug into weekly preschool music sessions...singing, listening, moving, and more. We will use the new Growing in Grace Preschool Fall Unit “Fruit of the Spirit” as a guide.

I CAN Read Music!

Susan Eernisse

Help preschoolers develop pre-reading music skills to put them on the path to a lifetime of music making. We’ll explore colorful, active, hands-on activities that will leave the PreK bunch (& their teachers) wanting more.

Puppets and Furry Friends – Fun With No End!

Susan Eernisse

Add puppets to music for a winning combination! Story songs, singing skills and musical concepts are great fun with these furry friends; AND you don’t have to be a ventriloquist to be successful!

Sing in a Circle

Susan Eernisse

Singing songs, playing games and exploring instruments...so much better when we do it together. Help preschoolers develop musically and socially through shared learning experiences.

PIE TALK: Engaging Children Through Music - Why It Matters

Gackle/ Monteiro/Taylor

We all agree that musical engagement should begin at an early age, but why does it matter so much? Join these children's music leaders, advocates, and innovators as they each share their philosophy on children's music ministry, discussing how and why music is used to form the children in our churches.

Maximizing Rehearsals With Your Church Choir

Stephen Gusukuma

Dr. Gusukuma will present a variety of strategies for organized, engaging, efficient rehearsals utilizing conceptual teaching, conducting gesture, and organization and planning strategies from warm-ups to closing prayer.

Putting Score Study into Action in the Choral Rehearsal

Joshua Habermann

95% of our time is spent not in performance, but in rehearsal. How can we make our rehearsal process both more efficient and more enjoyable? Explore best practices of score preparation and rehearsal techniques designed to engage singers of all levels.

Latin American Choral Performance

Joshua Habermann

More and more of our singers are from Spanish language backgrounds, yet they rarely get the chance to sing the great literature of Latin America. In this session explore the traditions of choral music from Argentina to Mexico, with a focus on performance practices of the various folk traditions, differences in national styles, incorporating improvisation into choral performance, and tips on how and when to use percussion.

Music literacy in the choral rehearsal

Joshua Habermann

When was the last time you heard a choir director complain about too much rehearsal time? All of us, at every level, wish that we could spend less time teaching parts and more time shaping the music. Our choirs' ability to read and internalize music quickly usually varies widely person to person, yet we are tasked with bringing them all together across the finish line. How can we infuse that corporate learning process with literacy-building in such a way that our singers' individual skills grow?

Sacred Music from Scandinavia and the Baltics

Joshua Habermann

Explore great sacred music from the land of the Northern Lights. Pieces appropriate for a variety of levels.

Around the World in 60 Minutes

Joshua Habermann

This session will focus on the most common difficulties for American choirs singing in Spanish, French, Italian and German, and how to correct them. This will not be a review of diction rules, but rather a primer for working directly with singers with careful listening and humor to help them perfect their pronunciation of the most commonly used languages. The cheapest way to see Madrid, Paris, Rome and Berlin in just one hour!

The Composer's Journey

Benjamin Harlan

Congregational Song - Resources and Ideas

Benjamin Harlan

God is Actually in the Room: Worship as Encounter

Zac Hicks

When we gather for worship, do we really believe that God will be present in a unique way? In this session, we will examine a biblical and theological case for the presence of God in worship's various elements, and explore practically how we can recover the wonder of the God who is there.

Planning Worship Like a Dietician

Zac Hicks

Worship planning is all too often enslaved to the tyranny of the urgent. In this session, we will look at planning through the helpful metaphor of a "theological dietician," exploring the breadth of themes in the Scriptures and how we can successfully plan a healthy "diet" of those themes into the short-term and long-term rhythms of weekly worship.

The Lord Will Fight for Us: Worship as War

Zac Hicks

When we enter into gathered worship, we step into a battlefield where a spiritual war is taking place. How does Scripture tell us to arm ourselves? What are our chief weapons? How are we made ready? How do we cultivate a sense of urgency in others? We will explore these questions and more.

A Touchy Subject: Emotions and Worship

Zac Hicks

What do our emotions have to do with worship? Is healthy emotionalism even imaginable in our contexts, and if so, how do we help the people of God engage in "faithful feelings" when we gather to sing, pray, preach, and come to the table? We will explore biblical themes and the history that has shaped our thinking, and we will look at some practical ways to move toward a more Christian understanding of emotions in worship.

Architecting Gospel-Shaped Worship Services in Any Tradition

Zac Hicks

The gospel is the center of our Christian faith, and its story has anchored worship for centuries across many different traditions. How do we structure worship services which are "in step with the truth of the gospel" (Gal 2:14), simultaneously faithful to the historic traditions and practices of the church and engaged with the needs and expressions of our local community's time and place? We will explore this and more.

Putting The Pieces Back Together:

Mark Humphrey

Designing Worship Toward Reconciliation And Redefining The 'Other

Given the Church's historical trend toward greater and greater division, how do we design worship aimed toward repairing the fractures of time in an age when our differences seem to define us more than ever? The scope of the solutions may likely be as diverse as the scope of the problems, but how do we avoid being so overwhelmed by the task that we never engage in the process?

Introduction to Notation Software

Ben Johansen

This session is designed to equip musicians with the fundamentals of using notation software effectively and efficiently. Whether you have never used notation software or if you use it daily, this session is for you. You will get experience using Finale, Dorico, and some free alternatives as you sit at your own lab computer equipped with Finale and Dorico software, a MIDI keyboard, and headphones. Sessions will take place on the 3rd floor of the Moody Library in the Crouch Library's Music Lab.

Writing Materials for Worship

Terre Johnson

From liturgy to creativity: how we can use our text and musical writing to enable our congregation's worship

PIE TALK: My Most Important Ministry Lesson

Burkley/Johnson/King

Ministry leadership is often confusing and challenging, but lessons are learned along the way that offer hope amidst the difficulty. Join these church leaders as they each share their most important ministry lessons, followed by an invitation to discuss.

Foundations in Technique and Notation

Sueda Luttrell

Teaching strategies addressing basic ringing and the interpretation of handbell notation and the related techniques.

Resources and Composing for Processionals, Bell Trees, and Descants

Sueda Luttrell

Learn to create your own simple yet effective embellishments and textures to worship services and concerts.

Managing Multiple Bells

Sueda Luttrell

Strategies for successfully managing multiple bells, including weaving, displacement, shelley, and four in hand.

Paths to Musicality

Sueda Luttrell

Explore a variety of ways to infuse musicality into ringing from the first rehearsal. This will be a joint class with the Advanced Handbell track.

Beginning Handbell Reading Session

Sueda Luttrell

Read and ring great recent releases for Levels 1 - 2+, plus a few older gems.

Techniques for Handbell Ringers and Conductors

Ron Mallory

Good technique provides a foundation for good musicianship. We'll explore advanced techniques for both handbell ringers and conductors, and along the way will help each to better understand the other's role in making great music.

Composing and Arranging for Handbells

Ron Mallory

Learn methods of creating your own arrangements and original compositions for advanced handbell choirs, from hymn settings to processionals and beyond.

Handbells in Contemporary Worship

Ron Mallory

More and more churches are switching to contemporary worship styles, and there's no reason handbell musicians can't participate. Come explore some creative ways to use a handbell choir, ensemble, or soloist in a contemporary worship setting.

Paths to Musicality

Ron Mallory

Explore a variety of ways to infuse musicality into ringing from the first rehearsal. This will be a joint class with the Beginning Handbell track.

Cantata Reading Session: Christmas Dreams/Rhapsody in Bluegrass

Joseph Martin

(Christmas Dreams) The Christmas story is told with fresh perspective in this collaborative cantata from Joseph Martin and Heather Sorenson. Throughout time God has touched and motivated hearts through dreams and visions. Christmas Dreams visits these moments in scripture and connects the experiences of ancient times with our modern journey of faith, pointing to Christ, in whose birth the hopes, yearnings and dreams of all the world are fulfilled. (Rhapsody in Bluegrass) Set hearts soaring with this joyful Christmas cantata based on American folk songs, spirituals, bluegrass-styled carols and original gospel songs. Traditional choral elements dance easily with the rustic qualities of the "mountain" music and the results are pure joy.

Cantata Reading Session: Portraits of Grace

Joseph Martin

Portraits in Grace is a musical gallery of faith displaying the life, ministry and passion of Jesus. Through scripture, narration and song, the backdrop is created for the reflections of the Lenten season, particularly during Holy Week. As the cantata moves through Christ's extraordinary life, each song displays the sacred beauty of the Savior and lingers with His many graceful acts of love.

On The Interactions Between Black Sacred Music And Western Concert Forms Horace Maxile

This session explores various manifestations of the black sacred music in orchestral, piano, and chamber works by African-American composers. The idea of "sacred" is also treated broadly as issues surrounding reinterpretation of black folk spirituals and gospel intersect with ideas that relate more to spiritual matters of an individual (beliefs, etc.). The session will conclude with investigations of (1) the interactions of Western approaches form and style with African-American sacred song and (2) potential applications for various components of music ministry .

Culture and Choir: Friends or Foes?

Jonathan Rodgers

Are these two entities really in conflict with one another? Some say yes. Some say no. In this more interactive, discussion-based session, we will exchange ideas and personal experiences that will help us understand how culture is influencing choral music and how choral music can influence culture. Come ready to share your experiences and insights.

The Missing Link: Fostering Non-Musical Connections in Rehearsal

Jonathan Rodgers

In the pursuit of making excellent music, one can often overlook intangible elements of the music-making process. These elements often include shared experiences, goals, student/conductor interaction, and purposeful activities associated with the choral music experience. This session will discuss ways to create a communal environment through shared experiences within the choral ensemble that, when combined with well-rehearsed music, help yield a dynamic musical product.

Demolition Derby: Building, Renovating, Reimagining Student Choirs

Jonathan Rodgers

Many churches have given up on student choir and realized the error of their ways. They are seeking to go back and start their student choir ministry over from scratch. Some are stepping into new ministry positions and need to make some drastic changes to make way for future success. Whatever the situation, we will discuss ways to get a student choir program going in the right direction after it has not existed or after it has stalled.
