Major _______________________________ BA or BS

1. Is it your intention to use this field school to meet the ANT graduation requirement?
   Y or N

2. Are there any personal or professional (career related) reasons why you would like to participate in this field school, rather than some other field school?

3. Are you prepared to accept physical discomfort for five weeks (e.g. lack of privacy, sleeping in tents, showering in shower-tents with cold water, preparing your own meals, rainstorms, insects, farm animals, working hard at the Barnhill Ranch site (raking and shoveling ground cover, spending 7 to 8 hours a day excavating within a rockshelter during the summer months of May and June, and carrying and lifting heavy buckets of soil weighing ~ 30-40 lbs.) and enduring similar conditions at the Texas Archeological Society’s Field School, including getting up at 5:00 in the morning?
4. This is a very important question, be honest and forthright when you answer it. Do you have any special dietary restrictions or physical activity restrictions or medical conditions that might affect your ability to participate fully and safely in this archaeological field school?

5. Please indicate any allergies.

6. Please list prescription drugs that you take, and the conditions for which they are prescribed.

7. Do you have emotional or psychological conditions that require medical supervision or intervention?

MEDICAL CONDITIONS ARE NOT REASONS FOR REJECTION; WE HAVE HAD STUDENTS ON PRESCRIPTION MEDICATION. IF YOUR MEDICAL BACKGROUND INDICATES A POSSIBLE SAFETY PROBLEM FOR YOU OR THE GROUP, I WILL REQUIRE A LETTER FROM A PHYSICIAN PROVIDING A PROFESSIONAL OPINION THAT YOU ARE ABLE TO MANAGE YOUR CONDITION AND MAY PARTICIPATE WITHOUT EXCEEDING PRUDENT LEVELS OF RISK TO YOUR HEALTH AND SAFETY.

8. Please provide two contacts (names, relationships and phone numbers) of teachers, employers, youth leaders, etc. who can comment on your ability to work effectively in a team and to adapt to discomfort and stress.

By signing this document, you attest that your answers to the questions are true, and you promise that if you are accepted into the field school, you will avoid the use of illegal drugs and alcohol, seek to be a model representative of Baylor, and of the discipline of anthropology, and behave at all times in ways that enhance the safety and security of the group. You agree that you will be tolerant of the other field school participants during six weeks of intimate contact with very little privacy.

You will abide by the rules established by the field school director, our host, Mr. John Barnhill, and the Texas Archeological Society. You agree that you will avoid romantic involvement or sexual contacts. You agree that you will accept the authority of the field school director in matters pertaining to your conduct within the student group at the Barnhill Ranch, and at the Texas Archeological Society’s Field School and at Baylor.

You acknowledge that you will be held to the standards of the Baylor Honor Code while conducting archaeological research and failure to do so will result in failing the course. You understand that your grade and your right to continue to participate in the field school depend on your adhering to these stated principles, and that the field school director has the final authority in defining and in determining appropriate responses to infractions.
