

Baylor University Institute of Archaeology Summer Scholarship for Archaeological Fieldwork

The Baylor University Institute of Archaeology will offer two $500 scholarships for summer fieldwork experiences in archaeology. The awards will be merit-based and are intended for Baylor undergraduates who will attend a Baylor field school and/or who will assist a Baylor faculty member with field research. We will consider applicants engaged in any or all facets of archaeology (e.g., anthropological, art historical, biblical, classical, forensic, geoarchaeological, historical, 'other').

Your name: _____

Your academic year: _____

Your overall GPA: _____

Field school or archaeology project: _____

Four (4) sentence essay: _____ Favorable essays will address some or all of the following: Why should Baylor invest in your field school/summer field experience? Are you doing independent research? Will you present this research as a thesis, URSA Scholar's Day, and/or at an academic conference?

Please attach a current copy of your academic transcript (unofficial is AOK):

Deadline: Monday March 19th, 9am. Results will be announced later that week. Please hand-deliver paper applications to Dr. Joseph Ferraro's mailbox, Department of Anthropology, Marrs Mclean Science Building, 2nd floor (directly across from the Library's Starbucks).