Processing Information Described by Michael Rebman and released on 2012-12-20.

Scope and Content

The Henry Trantham Papers were acquired at an unknown date, presumably a donation from a family member after his death. They were initially inventoried in February of 1971.

The collection consists of multiple series that can be broken down into six subseries, with each category arranged by chronological order or subcategory. Most of the materials are handwritten in pencil. It contains correspondence related to the Southwest Athletic Conference from 1921 to 1941; correspondence related to Baylor University administration, the Classics Department and the Diamond Jubilee; correspondence related to the Rhodes Scholarship, in the context of Rhodes Scholarship alumni and the selection process for new Rhodes Scholars; and personal correspondence. The correspondence was generated by Henry Trantham and by others, and includes drafts of letters frequently written on the back of lesson plans and student exams. It also contains Baylor University grade books for Greek and History classes from 1910 to 1958, primarily in bound book form. It contains lesson plans for Greek language classes and History classes. There are newsletters and materials related to the Rhodes Scholarship, from 1920 to 1958. Meeting minutes, team rosters, newspaper clippings and other materials related to the Southwest Athletic Conference are also included. There are a few receipts and other personal materials.

Administrative/Biographical History

The Henry Trantham Papers contain correspondence and literary products about Trantham's activities with Baylor University, the Rhodes Scholarship, and the Southwest Athletic Conference from 1921 to 1950.

Henry Trantham was born on 1882 March 10 in Camden, South Carolina. He received a Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts Degree from Wake Forest College in 1900 and 1901, and attended the University of Oxford through the Rhodes Scholarship from 1905 to 1908. Trantham taught at the Oak Ridge Institute in Oak Ridge, North Carolina, from 1902 to 1905, and served as the principal at the Newnan High School in Newnan, Georgia, from 1908 to 1910. He was a professor of Greek and Roman History, Twentieth Century History, and Greek language at Baylor University from 1910 to 1958, serving as the Greek Department head from 1910 to 1950, and Classics Department chairman from 1950 to 1958. Trantham retired in 1958 and died on 1962 February 19.

Henry Trantham served on multiple committees and boards. He was the Baylor University faculty representative to the Southwest Athletic Conference from 1916 to 1923, and from 1925 to 1941. Trantham was the president of the Southwest Athletic Conference from 1918 to 1919, and from 1938 to 1941, and in that position he assisted in the establishment of the Cotton Bowl Association. He was the secretary for the Rhodes Scholarship Selection committee from 1919 to 1939. Trantham was a member of the Board of Commissioners, City of Waco, Texas, from 1931 to 1933. He was a member of the Philosophical Society of Texas, the Texas Classical Association, the Philosopher's Club of Waco, Texas, and Phi Beta Kappa. At Baylor University, Trantham was the editor of "The Diamond Jubilee, 1845-1920".

The Henry Trantham Papers, particularly the correspondence series, provides useful information about the Southwest Athletic Conference, particularly information about team rosters, constitutional discussions and eligibility issues. The correspondence and Baylor Academic Materials series provide useful Greek language lesson plans, which are both in English and Greek.
