
When Life Well Lived Is at an End

D A V I D W . M U S I C

When life well lived is at an end and human powers cease, the God who gave us life and breath will be our rest and peace.
If we believe that Jesus died and that he rose again, we know that we shall also rise a new life to begin.

As men and women of the past bore witness to the Light, they passed from life into a world of comfort and delight.
Their faithfulness in life and death declares unto our day that we, like them, may have a faith that will not pass away.

So let us live, that when the hour of death for us is here, we go in trust to meet our God without regret or fear, as people of a living faith, by faith to God restored;
and in the future we shall be forever with the Lord.

All glory to the Father be, all glory to the Son, and to the Spirit, one in three, and also three in one;
through seasons of eternity that are and that have been,
and in the ages yet to come, world without end. Amen.
