Department of Mathematics

Baylor University is a private Christian university and a nationally ranked research institution, consistently listed with highest honors among The Chronicle of Higher Education's "Great Colleges to Work For." The University is recruiting new faculty with a deep commitment to excellence in teaching, research and scholarship. Baylor seeks faculty who share in our aspiration to become a tier one research institution while strengthening our distinctive Christian mission as described in our strategic vision, Pro Futuris (www.baylor.edu/profuturis/), and academic strategic plan, Illuminate (www.baylor.edu/illuminate). As the world's largest Baptist University, Baylor offers over 40 doctoral programs and has more than 17,000 students from all 50 states and more than 85 countries.

Baylor seeks to fill the following positions in the Department of Mathematics in the College of Arts & Sciences:

Regular Lecturers

Two full-time, non-tenure-track positions are available, starting in August 2019. Salary and benefits are competitive. Demonstration of excellence in teaching is essential. The successful candidates will teach predominately first-year and second-year mathematics and math education classes. Service to the department and university is also expected.

A Ph.D. in mathematics or mathematics education is preferred, but those with a master's degree and teaching experience are encouraged to apply. We encourage all applicants to submit their materials online at <http://www.mathjobs.org/jobs>. A complete application includes a cover letter of application (please refer to the job numbers BQ #93772 and BQ#97981), at least three letters of recommendation (at least two of which address teaching), a current curriculum vitae, a teaching statement, copies of current transcripts and a short statement of support for Baylor's Christian mission (see www.baylor.edu/profuturis/) which will include your religious affiliation. Finalists for this position will be required to submit official transcripts of highest degree in advance of a campus visit.

Applications will be reviewed beginning 12/01/2018 and will be accepted until the position is filled.
