Frontline: The Choice 2008

Premieres Tuesday, October 14 at 8:00 p.m.

It has been called one of the most historic presidential elections in our nation's history — Barack Obama versus John McCain. It is a race that pits the iconoclast against the newcomer, the heroic prisoner of war against the first African American nominated by a major party. FRONTLINE's critically acclaimed series "The Choice" returns this election season to examine the rich personal and political biographies of these two men in "The Choice 2008," airing Tuesday, October 14, 2008, 8:00-10:00 p.m. on KWBU-TV.

"The Choice 2008," part of "PBS Vote 2008" election coverage, draws on in-depth interviews with the advisers, family and friends closest to these unlikely candidates, as well as with seasoned observers of American politics, who together tell the definitive story of these men and their ascent to their party's nominations.

When FRONTLINE first aired a profile of presidential candidates during the 1988 election, "The Choice" redefined political journalism on television. Now, in an unprecedented election year, veteran FRONTLINE producer Michael Kirk goes behind the headlines to tell a deeper political story about the candidates, the decisions they made and why their nominations may indicate a historic change in American politics.

The story begins at the Democratic Convention in 2004 when Barack Obama, a little-known candidate for the U.S. Senate from Illinois, stepped forward to tell his personal story and to call for a move beyond partisan politics.

Also that summer, the future Republican nominee John McCain, a self-described maverick and sometime adversary of the Bush administration, took the stage at his party's convention to defend the president's national security policy. In an effort to win the support of his party, the longtime senator from Arizona had decided to try to walk a fine line — a line he'd had trouble walking all his life — between being an unconventional outsider and a team player.

FRONTLINE follows the two candidates from deep inside their campaigns as they run the gauntlet of the 2008 primary. With the race narrowed to two men America is truly at a crossroads: historic lows in the public's confidence in our country's future; a battered incumbent overseeing an unpopular war in Iraq; a faltering economy as gasoline prices soar.

Masterpiece Theatre: The Last Enemy

Sundays, October 5 - 26 and November 2 at 8:00 p.m.

A mathematical genius takes a wild ride through the boundless paranoia of a surveillance society on “The Last Enemy,” a five-part thriller set in England in the not-too-distant future. Scripted by award-winning writer Peter Berry (“Prime Suspect 6: The Last Witness”), “The Last Enemy” launches the first season of MASTERPIECE CONTEMPORARY. The series airs Sundays, October 5, 2008, 8:00-9:30 p.m. and October 12-November 2, 2008, 8:00-9:00 p.m. on KWBU-TV.

Biometric ID cards, ubiquitous security cameras and “Total Information Awareness,” a program to give authorities unlimited access to personal data, have turned Britain into a virtual police state. And it turns out that Big Brother has even bigger plans for keeping track of citizens.

An expatriate mathematician returns to England to find the nation transformed into a hyper-paranoid surveillance society, plagued by terrorists, fugitives and spies. Searching for the truth about his brother's mysterious death, he is catapulted into an international conspiracy — and a passionate love affair with his brother's widow. The five-part thriller stars Benedict Cumberbatch (Atonement, “To the Ends of the Earth”) as Stephen Ezard, Anamaria Marinca (4 Months, 3 Weeks, & 2 Days) as the enigmatic and beautiful sister-in-law Yasim and Robert Carlyle (The Full Monty, Trainspotting) as rogue agent David Russell.

Dynamic British actor Matthew Goode (pictured) has been picked to host the premiere season of MASTERPIECE CONTEMPORARY on PBS.

Goode, who recently starred in the feature film Brideshead Revisited and has appeared in My Family and Other Animals, The Inspector Lynley Mysteries and Miss Marple on MASTERPIECE, will make his hosting debut with the season opener “The Last Enemy.”

One of Hollywood's most sought after actors, Goode starred in Woody Allen's Match Point and Scott Frank's The Lookout before taking on the role of Charles Ryder in Julian Jarrold's Brideshead Revisited. He will next be seen as super villain Adrian Veidt/Ozymandias in Zack Snyder's highly anticipated Watchmen, opening March 6, 2009.

KWBU Nominated for a Lone Star EMMY Award

Joani Livingston, Producer

Get Ready for Digital TV

Premieres Wednesday, October 1 at 8:00 p.m.

The television industry is approaching a historic moment; on Tuesday, February 17, 2009, the nation's TV broadcasters will complete their transition to an all-digital format. Digital television (DTV) is a newer, more efficient, broadcast technology that offers viewers dramatically clearer pictures and better sound than the traditional analog system.

This change will affect millions of households that only receive over-the-air signals, as well as those that have secondary over-the-air TV sets in their bedrooms and/or kitchens.

Viewers who do not subscribe to a paid cable or satellite service and do not have a digital tuner inside their television will need to take one of the three steps outlined below to continue watching TV after the transition.

1. Purchase a TV set with a built-in digital tuner
2. Subscribe to cable, satellite or other pay TV service
3. Purchase a DTV converter box for your existing TV set

Digital-to-analog converter boxes receive digital over-the-air signals from your antenna, convert them to analog and then send the signals to your existing analog television set. Through March 31, 2009, all U.S. households are eligible to request up to two $40 government-sponsored coupons to off-set the price of the boxes, allowing viewers to continue watching free over-the-air television on their older analog sets.

In a half-hour special, GET READY FOR DIGITAL TV, PBS has joined with THIS OLD HOUSE's Norm Abram and Kevin O'Connor, along with Maria Hinojosa, award-winning senior correspondent with NOW on PBS, to offer digital television how-to guidance and tips to ensure that viewers across America are prepared to successfully make the switch to digital television in their homes before the analog shutoff in February 2009.

Saturday Marathons In September on Create™ TV

Spend your Saturdays with themed marathons

Create™ TV's Saturdays are filled with a full day of how-to programs focusing on a specific theme. Explore a country, from history to food. Prepare for a holiday, from traditions to recipes. There's a Create Saturday to fit any lifestyle. See marathon descriptions below.

October 4: Supper with Sara

Chef Sara Moulton will guide you step by step to create exciting meals that will have your family asking for seconds. Sara's warm and friendly disposition will transform reluctant cooks into intrepid kitchen superstars! Cooking won't be a dreadful chore after spending the day with Chef Sara. You'll be lovingly preparing meals for your family and spending more time enjoying them both at your dining table.

October 11: Now That's Italian

Celebrate all things Italian today – chefs Lidia Bastianich and Maryanne Esposito as well as delicious Italian foods such as baked manicotti, arugula salad and bruschetta. Tour the beautiful and historic cities of Naples, Rome and Milan and the region of Tuscany with globe trekkers Burt Wolf and Rudy Maxa. You won't want to miss a minute of this fun filled dedication to Italy.

October 18: Fabulous Festivals

We're taking the party outside to celebrate the cultures of the world! Come with us as we travel from community to community to take in the food, sights and sounds of festivals. Chef Jose Andres will have you dancing in the streets of Spain and Chef Tina Nordstrom will travel back in time when she visits a medieval festival in Sweden. World travelers Rick Steves and Burt Wolf will be trekking through Europe to seek out the best festivals. A lesson in history and culture awaits us!

October 25: Trick or Treat

It's that time of year again when all of the little ghosts and goblins (and their parents) are preparing for some autumn fun! We're picking pumpkins with lifestyle expert Sean Conway and planning a ghoulish Halloween party complete with Shortbread Witches' Fingers and Bloody Mary Soup with Chris Fennimore and Dede Wilson. No Halloween celebration would be complete without costumes and Donna Erickson has got it covered – a sweat suit will be all that you need. The tricks and treats are plentiful, be sure to tune in! The October 25 marathon, Trick or Treat will be replayed on Friday, October 31.
