Inaugural Worthington Lecture Series
Program

Tuesday, April 14:

4:00 p.m.  Tea with undergraduates from Brooks College: Host, Dr. Doug Henry, Master of Brooks College “Why Justice Matters”

7:30 p.m.  Public Lecture: “Speaking up for the Wronged” (Cashion Seminar Room, 5th Floor Cashion)

Wednesday, April 15:

8:00-9:15 a.m.  Breakfast with Faculty/Staff who are reading Wolterstorff’s book, Educating for Shalom: Essays on Christian Higher Education (McMullen Faculty Center)

4:30 p.m.  “Advice to Would-Be Christian Scholars,” Host: Dr. Darin Davis, Interim Director of the Institute for Faith and Learning, Alexander Reading Room

5:30 p.m.  Reception: Alexander Reading Room

Thursday, April 16:

2:00-5:00 p.m.  Workshop on Justice: Rights and Wrongs - Treasure Room, Armstrong-Browning Library
Overview of Justice: Rights and Wrongs  Dr. Nicholas Wolterstorff
Respondents/Presenters:
David Echelberger and Heidi Chamberlin, Graduate Students (Phil)
Mike Cantrell, Graduate Student (Phil)
Joel Schwartz, Graduate Student (Phil)

After each presentation, Dr. Wolterstorff will comment briefly, and questions will be taken from the floor, directed principally to Dr. Wolterstorff.

5:00 – Reception - Cox Reception Room, Armstrong-Browning Library

Friday, April 17:

2:30-5:30 p.m.  Workshop on Justice in Love - Treasure Room, Armstrong-Browning Library
Overview of Justice in Love - Dr. Nicholas Wolterstorff
Respondent/Presenters:
Dr. Stephen Evans, Department of Philosophy
Dr. Alex Pruss, Department of Philosophy
Dr. Todd Buras, Department of Philosophy

After each presentation, Dr. Wolterstorff will comment briefly, and questions will be taken from the floor, directed to presenters and Dr. Wolterstorff.

If you have questions, please contact Michael_Beaty@baylor.edu or Marilyn_McKinney@baylor.edu