History Detectives

Mondays at 8:00 p.m. starting June 22nd

A PBS audience favorite, critical success and armchair historians' must-see, HISTORY DETECTIVES debuts its seventh season on Monday, June 22, 2009, 8:00-9:00 p.m., and will continue throughout the summer on KWBU-TV Mondays, following ANTIQUES ROADSHOW.

Returning this season are the four History Detectives:

- Wesley Cowan, independent appraiser and auctioneer;
- Elyse Luray, independent appraiser and expert in art history;
- Gwendolyn Wright, historian and professor of architecture, Columbia University; and
- Tuku Zuberi, professor of sociology and the director of the Center for Africana Studies at the University of Pennsylvania.

Joining the team this season is new guest co-host Eduardo Pagán, professor of history at Arizona State University. For his first story, Professor Pagán investigates Francisco "Pancho" Villa's reputed raid on the town of Columbus, New Mexico.

Season seven of HISTORY DETECTIVES features a broad range of historical periods, multiple cultures and fascinating personalities. Among the questions the detectives will answer this summer are:

- Did John Wilkes Booth's father once threaten to kill President Andrew Jackson?
- Did Thomas Edison build a device for communicating with the dead?
- Why were tiny babies exhibited at the 1933 Chicago World's Fair?
- Was a gun handed down through two generations of prominent Chicago families used by Al Capone's gang during the St. Valentine's Day Massacre?
- Why did President Millard Fillmore pardon an unknown Indian convicted of murdering a St. Louis trader?

HISTORY DETECTIVES is truly interactive television: three-quarters of the items featured on the series are culled from thousands of viewers' submissions and chosen for their potential historical significance. Of these, close to 30 items a season are investigated by the History Detectives, who travel coast-to-coast using forensic technology and detective work to uncover an item's origin, validity and worth. Bottom line — is it the real thing or a fake?

This summer, the History Detectives will prove once again that an object found in an attic or backyard might be anything but ordinary.

Brazos Valley Public Broadcasting Foundation

Governing Board Feature: Kris Kaiser Olson

You've heard the tag line "KWBU brings the world to Waco and Waco to the world." Yes, it's a hugely ambitious task, but one that our public broadcasting board and staff believe in.

Through the years, I have had the privilege to serve on local and state boards of directors and to volunteer with many organizations. Each focuses on an important issue. Each has a place in the local fabric that helps make the Waco area our home. But none has the potential for impact like that of public broadcasting.

Charlie and I consider it an honor to give financial support to KWBU-FM and -TV. And it is my pleasure to give time and energy to our local public broadcasting stations as a board member for the Brazos Valley Public Broadcasting Foundation. I do this to help ensure that KWBU reflects the diversity and complexity of Central Texas and remains true to its mission.

The informed conversations that KWBU programming nurtures among its listeners/viewers proves that supporting KWBU provides Waco with a mechanism for enlightening fellow citizens on the issues of the day.

Central Texas needs public broadcasting. Please join me in supporting KWBU to ensure that it continues.

Kris Kaiser Olson retired in 2008 as executive director of Parents for Public Schools of Waco. Prior to that, she was the communications director for the national office of Parents for Public Schools. Kris grew up in Waco, attended Waco public schools and earned a B. S. in Education, Communication Disorders from Baylor University. Her work as an advocate for children and families spans board service with organizations such as Texans Care for Children, the McLennan Community College Foundation, the Advocacy Center for Crime Victims and Children, Communities In Schools of the Heart of Texas, the Waco Independent School District Board of Trustees, the Waco Symphony Association and the Greater Waco Chamber of Commerce.

Kris has served on many advisory committees including the National Forum to Accelerate Middle Grades Reform; the Texas Parent Information Resource Center Advisory Committee; Citizens for Better Schools; and the Southwest Educational Development Laboratory's National Center for Family and Community Connections with Schools and the Texas Comprehensive Center.

Kris has received numerous distinctions and awards, including the Waco Family Y Pathfinder Award for Public Service; Junior League's Excellence in Voluntarism Award; CableVision/Fox Sports Southwest/Baylor University Athletics' Hometown Hero; Waco Conference of Christians and Jews' Family of the Year; and Texas Association for Gifted and Talented Parent of the Year for Region XII.

Kris is married to Charles D. Olson, an attorney, and they have two adult daughters who live in Austin. She and her husband started Bosque Falls Vineyards as an "empty nest" project and Kris now spends time there and with her father, Kurt Kaiser, writing his memoirs.

ENTERTAINMENT ACTS NEEDED FOR WACO CULTURAL ARTSFEST

Children's acts lasting 30-minutes to one-hour are invited to perform on the KWBU Kids' Stage during the ArtsFest at Indian Springs Park in downtown Waco.

Saturday Marathons in June on Create™ TV

Spend your Saturdays with themed marathons

Create™ TV's Saturdays are filled with a full day of how-to programs focusing on a specific theme. Explore a country, from history to food. Prepare for a holiday, from traditions to recipes. There's a Create Saturday to fit any lifestyle. See marathon descriptions below.

June 6: I Do!

The month of June was made for weddings. Go ahead and take the plunge. Our lifestyle experts will be with you every step of the way. Julia Child, the Grand Dame of cooking, will show you how to make the perfect three tiered wedding cake. Who needs a wedding planner when you have Katie Brown, to help you with everything from invitations, to food for the reception? After the nuptials it's off to the honeymoon! Globe trekkers Burt Wolf, Rudy Maxa and Rick Steves will take you to the most romantic getaways. So say I do on Saturday, June 6th.

June 13: Surf and Turf

What can be better than the combination of our favorite foods, meat and seafood, served on one plate? Our Create chefs will show why this combination of delectable treats from the land and ocean is a preferred dish for many! With their diverse cooking specialties, Mary Ann Esposito, Andreas Viestad, Ming Tsai and Rick Bayless will make you mouth water when they put their personal spin on surf and turf!

June 20: Make:

Today we honor Dad with an all day marathon of Make:. Let dad loose in his workshop where he can combine his love of gadgets, technology and working with his hands to develop the next great invention. The self proclaimed weekend "do it yourself" warrior in your Dad will appreciate the detailed step by step episodes filled with outrageous and ingenious contraptions. The next time you hear dad tinkering in his workshop, leave him alone – because the next Thomas Edison is busy at work!

June 27: Take it Outside

There's more room out than in... So take the fun outside! Chef Rick Bayless is ready to dazzle you with an outdoor cocktail party. Enjoy the beauty of the garden at P. Allen Smith's garden party. Go for a picnic with Katie Brown or to a clambake with Todd English. It's summertime, and why should you stay cooped up in the house? Laugh and enjoy yourself with family and friends in the hot weather.

V-me: Zero to Sixty in Under Two Years

Just two short years after its launch in March, 2007 - a powerful content offer and an innovative distribution strategy tied to the digital transition have catapulted the V-me TV network to the top rank of America's Hispanic TV options.

In 35 U.S. markets, V-me is both a free over-the-air digital broadcast and a basic digital cable channel, as a result of its partnership with public television stations.

As a result, V-me's fresh mix of world quality pre-school, lifestyle, music, current affairs and entertainment in Spanish now reaches nearly 8 million Hispanic homes - 60 percent of all Hispanics - and more than 50 million U.S. TV Homes in total.

After the official digital switchover in June, V-me's Hispanic penetration will reach 70 percent, rising to 80 percent by the end of 2009, where it joins Univision, Telemundo and Telefutera as the only Hispanic Networks with more than 80 percent penetration.

About V-me

V-me, one of America's largest Spanish networks, entertains and informs Latino families in Spanish with primetime drama, music, sports, current affairs and Latin cinema, along with world class kids, food, lifestyle and nature. The 24-hour network, partnered with public television, is America's largest Spanish digital channel. V-me is the first venture of the media production and distribution company, V-me Media Inc. To find out more visit VmeTV.com

V-me can be found on over-the-air digital channel 34.4, Time Warner Cable channel 459 and Grande Communications channel 189.
