Welcome!
You are part of a special group of people who, in the next several months, will help the Center for Family and Community Ministries shape and develop a series of studies for the church focused on community ministries that address poverty. Thank you for your interest in this work, which we believe has the potential to transform both individuals in our congregations and in our communities.

The Strengthening Congregational Community Ministries project is funded by a grant from Christ Is Our Salvation. We are deeply indebted to Katy, Paul and Shirley Piper for their commitment to creating sustainable community ministries.

The mission of the Center for Family and Community Ministries (CFCM) is to strengthen ministries designed to serve families and communities. CFCM seeks to provide research, continuing education, and resource development to support and enhance the work of congregations and denominational agencies with families and communities. Since its founding in 1997, the CFCM has been blessed with an exceptional staff. Diana Garland, founding director, led the Center until 2005 when she appointed Dr. Jon Singletary to be director. With varied backgrounds and gifts, the diversity, energy and passion that each person brings to the Center is commonly focused on creating strong families, communities and congregations.
