Scope and Content

The John Dowdy papers span the period of his life from the mid-1920s to 1986. While the bulk of the papers are from his congressional years, 1952-1972, there are also considerable materials in the Personal and Political series pertaining to his years as a court reporter and District Attorney (1935-1952). Another series Trial and Imprisonment dates mainly from 1970 to 1974 with a few letters written as early as 1965 and as late as 1978.

Dowdy's Congressional papers (1952-1972) contain government files for office administration, agencies and commissions, departments, committees, correspondence, and legislation. Points of interest include the District of Columbia Committee files, the Judiciary Committee files, and the extensive correspondence related to urban renewal.

The correspondence comes from every state and usually deals with governmental overspending and scandals related to local projects.

Dowdy's Personal papers contain information about his family, his court reporter and legal files, along with media materials with 3" reel-to-reel tapes, 12" vinyl records, 16 mm film, cassettes, and video tapes. Some of the material has been digitized and captured on DVD and/or made into mp3 files. It is rounded out with campaign material, including speeches he gave on the campaign trail and at numerous civic meetings and events. Publications in this series show Dowdy's conservative roots.

The Trial and Imprisonment series contains legal documents related to the trial, including appeals, FBI and defense reports, personalities, proceedings, and a complete trial transcript. A large portion of the series is supportive correspondence from people in Dowdy's district, Texas, and throughout the U.S. Of special note is the journal (restricted) Dowdy wrote while serving his time in prison.

Administrative/Biographical History

John Vernard Dowdy was born in Waco, McLennan County, Texas, on February 11, 1912. He spent his early years in Rusk, Texas, and graduated from high school in Henderson, Texas, in 1928. He attended the College of Marshall (now East Texas Baptist University) from 1929 to 1931.

In the spring of 1932, Dowdy began working in a law office at Center, Texas, as a secretary, and in August became the official court reporter of the newly established 123rd Judicial District of Texas. From January 1, 1937, to January 1, 1945, he served as court reporter of the 3rd Judicial District in Athens, Texas. During this time, he was admitted to the bar and began practicing law in 1940. He was elected District Attorney of the 3rd Judicial District in 1944 and took office on January 1, 1945, serving eight years until his election to Congress in 1952.

Dowdy was elected as a Democrat to the 82nd Congress to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Tom Pickett. In the House, he served on the House Administration Committee and the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, serving as chairman of the Postal Operations Subcommittee in 1955 and 1956. He later served on the Judiciary and District of Columbia committees.

As a member of the Judiciary Committee, he authored legislation for protecting National Defense facilities; amended criminal laws to embrace air piracy; empowered postal authorities to police the mails; and proposed reforms in the control of obscene, pornographic, and subversive literature.

Dowdy was elected to ten Congresses serving from September 23, 1952, to January 3, 1973. However, his years of service were not without controversy. On March 31, 1970, he was indicted by a federal grand jury in Baltimore, Maryland, on charges of conspiracy, perjury and promoting bribery. The indictment charged that Dowdy allegedly accepted a $25,000 bribe on September 22, 1965, to intervene in a federal investigation of Monarch Construction Company of Silver Springs, Maryland.

Consequently, Dowdy was arraigned on the indictments on April 10, 1970. The trial began November 8, 1971, and he was convicted of eight counts on December 30, 1971. Subsequently, he announced his retirement from Congress on January 18, 1972 and began a six-month prison sentence on January 18, 1974.

In documents donated by his family following his death in 1995, tapes, correspondence, and trial transcripts indicate that Dowdy may have been set up by those who opposed his conservative stance to urban renewal. These extensive documents are open to researchers.

Archival Arrangement

The John Dowdy papers are arranged in eight series: Administrative, Agencies and Commissions, Departments, Committees, Correspondence, Legislative, Personal, and Trial. The collection was re-processed in 2017-2018 and an Administrative series was added.

Series 1: Administrative. 1939-1984, undated

Administrative/Biographical History

The Administrative series contains correspondence with requests, invitations, congratulations and condolences. Material chronicles Dowdy's visits to the counties he represented, as well as his voting record. Alpha files round out the General subseries. The Post Offices subseries is organized by city and county, then year. News clippings, newsletters, news releases, broadcast scripts, both radio and television, make up the Press/Media subseries. Dowdy's work on rivers within his district, especially the Trinity River, make up the bulk of the Projects subseries. The State of Texas subseries contains correspondence and subject files on education, employment, public welfare and redistricting.

Series 2: Agencies and Commissions. 1952-1984, undated

Administrative/Biographical History

Every congressional collection contains numerous files from government agencies and commissions. Dowdy's papers were no exception, but he personally seems to have had no particular involvement in any of them. These files contain general information a congressman would receive from federal offices. Also included are several folders under Executive Offices of the President. Publications which were not substantial enough to be removed for cataloging are listed not only in this section but throughout the finding aid. These files are organized alphabetically by agency or commission name.

Series 3: Committees. 1952-1972, undated

Administrative/Biographical History

During his twenty years of service, Dowdy took his committee assignments seriously. He served for four years on the Post Office and Civil Service Committee and then sixteen years on the Judiciary Committee and its District of Columbia Sub-committee. He eventually became Chairman of this subcommittee spearheading an investigation into corruption of urban renewal projects in Washington, DC.

This section is divided into twenty-one committee sub-series. Over half of these materials, however, deal with only four committees: District of Columbia, Education and Labor, Judiciary, and Ways and Means. The arrangement is alphabetical by committee or subcommittee and then chronological within the subseries.

Series 4: Departments. 1945-1972, undated

Administrative/Biographical History

Department records reflect government issues and programs as they interface with congress, the congressman, and his constituents. Considering that a large portion of Dowdy's constituents lived in rural areas of East Texas, there are 8.5 lin. ft. devoted to Agriculture. An equal number of files are devoted to Defense, which is also an important topic to East Texans. There are numerous smaller publications listed under HEW and more substantial publications have been removed and cataloged. Other departments represented in this series include Commerce, HUD, Interior, Justice, Labor, Post Office, State, Transportation, and Treasury. Files are in alphabetical order by department and within each subseries.

Series 5: Legislation. 1952-1972

Administrative/Biographical History

Divided into 12 subseries consisting of General materials and items pertaining to each of the 11 Congresses in which Dowdy served. The 83rd through the 92nd Congresses subseries each have Sponsored Bills (by number) and Topical (alpha) section, although the 82nd has only Topical. These records contain correspondence, and publications concerning legislative issues of general interest to constituents from Dowdy's 11th district. The first sub-series is an alphabetical legislative subject file of outstanding issues from Aging and Animals to Wages and Welfare. The Urban Renewal files in this section contain letters from every state as well as the District of Columbia and deals mainly with scandals and overspending in local Urban Renewal projects.

Administrative/Biographical History

This series is arranged in three subseries: general, outgoing and politicians. The majority of the series is outgoing mail from Dowdy in reply to his constituents. They demonstrate the number and variety of issues important to the people of the 11th District. The first two series are arranged chronologically, while the last is alphabetical by politician or VIP.

Administrative/Biographical History

This large series has been arranged into eight subseries: General, Court Reporter, Legal, Media, Opinion Ballots & Questionnaires, Political, Publications, and Speeches. The General subseries includes 3-D items, appointment calendars and guest registers from his congressional office, articles, awards, biographical information, personal correspondence, family information and correspondence, Presidential invitations, programs, and a large set of Bible Study index cards centered on the New Testament. Correspondence begins as early as 1930 when Dowdy was in college. One file contains correspondence following the death of Dowdy's first wife in 1943. Dowdy kept all of the condolence and flower cards from this sad occasion, and these items were included in the papers given to the BCPM following his death. A sampling of these have been retained. The Dowdy family files include letters from his children, Carol Sue and Skip (John Jr.), from the time they could write. Dowdy's second wife, known simply by her initials, J.D., was also politically active both before and throughout their marriage. The Personal files document their relationship from the 1940's until her death in 1992. There are invitations to the Eisenhower, Johnson, and Nixon inaugurations as well as invitations from the President and First Lady dating from 1953 to the Reagans in 1984.

The first subseries begins with Dowdy's non-elective job as a Court Reporter and contains transcripts from court cases both typed or in shorthand from as early as 1926.

The next subseries has been designated Legal, although it is unclear what Dowdy's criteria was for placing files here. Each file is numbered beginning in 1935 and includes personal as well as legal records. There are tax records, divorce proceedings, murder trial cases, bill collection files, insurance papers, how-to-raise-chickens booklets, and wills. The original order and numbers have been retained. These numbered files end in 1952 when Dowdy was elected to Congress.

Dowdy's career spanned a time of technological revolution in the media industry. His media materials begin with 3" reel-to-reel tapes, 12" vinyl records, and 16 mm film, but ends with cassettes and video tapes. Some of the material has been digitized and captured on DVD and made into mp3 files. Materials are arranged by format: audio, video, and photographs.

As a U. S. Representative, Dowdy had to run for election every two years. The Political subseries documents Dowdy's campaigns for Congress from his first in 1952 to his last in 1970 after he was indicted. Correspondence with individuals and organizations in the district are filed alphabetically by county within each campaign. This section is supplemented with campaign ads and campaign expense records along with letters of support and congratulations.

The Questionnaires and Opinion Ballots subseries contains surveys returned by constituents and other completed by Dowdy for the National Federation of Independent Businesses (NFIB).

The Publications subseries contains material from various conservative organizations which were supportive of Dowdy's legal troubles with the government. Many of these saw Dowdy as a hero and victim of a corrupt government. Foremost among these was Liberty Lobby. Some other groups include Americans for Constitutional Action, Committee to Restore the Constitution, Defenders of the American Constitution, John Birch Society, and Texas Committee for the Constitution.

The Speeches subseries begins in 1942, three years prior to his election as local District Attorney, and end in 1986, fourteen years after he retired from Congress. Most of them were given at special events or before service organizations such as Kiwanis or Lion's Clubs. House floor speeches/Remarks are also included here. His thematic materials centered around law and order, God and country, and government corruption such as in the urban renewal scandal. Following the dated speeches are approximately sixty undated speeches and speech research. This series is in good condition.

Administrative/Biographical History

On March 31, 1970, Dowdy was indicted by a federal grand jury in Baltimore, Maryland on charges of conspiracy, perjury, and promoting bribery. The government alleged that on September 22, 1965, Dowdy accepted $25,000 as a bribe to intervene in the federal investigation of Monarch Construction Company of Silver Springs, Maryland. On April 10, 1970, Dowdy was arraigned on the indictment. In spite of the government case, Dowdy was elected to his tenth term in November 1970.

The trial began on November 8, 1971, and on December 30, 1971, Dowdy was convicted on two counts of conspiracy, one count of transporting a bribe over state lines, and five counts of perjury. In 1973, however, the Fourth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Richmond, Virginia, overturned the bribery and conspiracy convictions. The Washington Observer and Liberty Lobby contended that Dowdy was a victim of a "vicious frame-up by the Justice Department in collaboration with a clique of housing racketeers. The ulterior motive was to stop Dowdy's subcommittee investigation of housing and urban renewal frauds." [Washington Observer, April 15, 1973] Nevertheless, Dowdy began serving a six-month prison term on January 28, 1974, and was released early in June 1974. He then retired to his home in Athens, Texas where he died in 1995.

This series is presented alphabetically by type and includes appeals, articles, attorney correspondence, FBI and defense investigative reports, the grand jury indictment, and various legal proceedings, and the complete trial transcripts. Correspondence from 1964 to 1978 includes letters in support of Dowdy and against the government. In addition, Dowdy received hundreds of letters during the six months he was in prison, mostly handwritten, not only from East Texas constituents but also from people throughout the United States. Trial exhibits are in numbered order as presented by his defense attorneys. There are personality files for people related to the trial, including Dowdy's accusers: Myrvin Clark, Nathan Cohen, and High McGee. Dowdy wrote a prison journal (restricted) that is found here along with his Statement to the House in 1972 following his conviction. Also found here are tapes and telephone transcripts of Dowdy talking to the men who testified against him reportedly admitting to Dowdy that he never did anything wrong. This series is in good condition.
