

HIS 1300: The U.S. in Global Perspective

Spring 2021

List of Course Descriptions

The U.S. in Global Perspective: Formation of Racial Identities – Varghese

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the ways in which racial identities were created and shaped in the United States.

HIS 1300-01	MWF 8:00-8:50 (F2F)
HIS 1300-02	MWF 9:05-9:55 (F2F)
HIS 1300-03	MWF 10:10-11:00 (F2F)
HIS 1300-10	MWF 3:35-4:25 (F2F)
HIS 1300-11	MWF 4:40-5:30 (F2F)

The U.S. in Global Perspective: American Influences in Global Context – Smith

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored will include colonization and slavery, immigration and assimilation, industrialization, and globalization, with special focus on the global influences of American political, cultural, economic, and social ideas, actions, and events.

HIS 1300-03	MWF 9:05-9:55 (F2F)
HIS 1300-04	MWF 10:10-11:00 (F2F)
HIS 1300-06	MWF 12:20-1:10 (F2F)

The U.S. in Global Perspective: Science, Technology, & Medicine – Turpin

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to interactions between the U.S. and the wider world in the areas of science, technology, and medicine.

HIS 1300-18	MWF 9:05-9:55 (F2F)	*large section
-------------	---------------------	----------------

The U.S. in Global Perspective: “To the Shores of Tripoli”: A History of the US in the Middle East – Ramsey

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the history of the US in the Middle East.

HIS 1300-07	MWF 1:25-2:15 (F2F)
-------------	---------------------

The U.S. in Global Perspective: The U.S. Civil War – Roach

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the global context and repercussions of the U.S. Civil War.

HIS 1300-08	MWF 2:30-3:20 (F2F)
-------------	---------------------

The U.S. in Global Perspective: War, Peace, & Gender in the Global North – Jug

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to change in international relations and the political and social life of the U.S. and Great Powers of Eurasia.

HIS 1300-09	MWF 3:35-4:25 (F2F)
-------------	---------------------

The U.S. in Global Perspective: International Relations – Wingerd

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to U.S. foreign policy, diplomacy, and relationships with other societies.

HIS 1300-12	MW 1:00-2:15 (F2F)
-------------	--------------------

HIS 1300-14 MW 2:30-3:45 (F2F)
HIS 1300-19 TR 12:30-1:45 (F2F)

The U.S. in Global Perspective: Empires, Ideas, Immigrants, & Economies – Lacy

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the ways shifts in power and technology have influenced foreign policy and trade.

HIS 1300-13 MW 1:00-2:15 Online Synchronous

The U.S. in Global Perspective: Babes, Boomers, & Bright Young Things – deGraffenried

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to children's history & the evolving history of childhood in the modern era.

HIS 1300-15 TR 8:00-9:15 (F2F)

The U.S. in Global Perspective: Nature and the Hunt – Hill

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the social, economic, and environmental history of the U.S. with a focus on hunting cultures in global context.

HIS 1300-16 TR 9:30-10:45 (F2F)
HIS 1300-17 TR 11-12:15 (F2F)
HIS 1300-29 online

The U.S. in Global Perspective: The Transatlantic Slave Trade – Elder

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the impact of the transatlantic slave trade on early America.

HIS 1300-20 TR 2:00-3:15 p.m. (F2F) *large section

The U.S. in Global Perspective: A Nation of Immigrants - Poor

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to immigration and national identity.

HIS 1300-21 HIS 1300-22 HIS 1300-23 online asynchronous

The U.S. in Global Perspective: Race & Ethnicity in Global Context – Morera

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to colonies, global imperialism, and world economies.

HIS 1300-24 online asynchronous

The U.S. in Global Perspective: Anti-Catholicism in America – Gutacker

Introduction to the history of the United States within a global context from 1776 to the present. Examines the ways a distinctly American society developed within larger patterns of world history. Themes explored may include nationalism; imperialism; revolution; concepts of democracy, freedom, and equality; migration and immigration; industrialization and economic systems; and global conflict, with special attention to the history of anti-Catholicism in the United States and its global context.

HIS 1300-25 HIS 1300-26 HIS 1300-27 HIS 1300-28 online asynchronous
