1. COVID Update

Students:

Baylor Law faculty and staff look forward to welcoming you back to campus next week. We have been busy preparing for the beginning of the academic year with hopes that Baylor Law would fully return to “normal” when we could see your face and shake your hand. Like you, we are disappointed with the upsurge of COVID, the disruption it continues to cause in our professional and personal lives, and the uncertainty of the coming days. Here we are again. We will get through this together.

Below is information about Baylor Law’s Fall 2021 COVID-related policies. Thank you for reviewing these policies closely and for your commitment to maintaining a safe environment for all members of the Baylor Law community. Your cooperation and leadership on this issue are vital to our success this year.

Online Attendance Policy
The faculty implemented the attached policy to address attendance issues for students with COVID symptoms, a positive COVID test, or those required to quarantine due to COVID exposure. Please note the following:

- This policy only relates to COVID-related absences.
- Students must submit all requests to attend class online for COVID-related reasons via this form, not by contacting their professor.
- Faculty members do not have the discretion to allow online attendance for reasons other than the COVID-related illnesses that the attached policy addresses.
- As always, faculty members may address other absences and attendance issues as the faculty member sees fit under the circumstances.

Testing
If you are unvaccinated or do not have an exemption due to a positive test within the past 180 days, you will be required to test twice weekly on main campus. The University will no longer test at the law center.

Vaccinations
The CDC reports that the three COVID vaccines authorized for emergency use by the FDA are safe and highly effective in reducing the spread of the virus and in decreasing the possibility of serious illness and hospitalization. Please consider getting the COVID vaccine to protect yourself and others in our community against severe illness. Baylor University Health Services offers all three vaccines to students and their spouses and dependents.

If you have received the vaccine but have not reported your vaccination status to the University, please share this information as soon as possible to avoid the twice-weekly testing requirement. See www.baylor.edu/vaccine.

Face Masks

This fall, we have a full building, and often will not have space to adequately social distance. All students, faculty, and staff must wear a face mask in the Sheila and Walter Umphrey Law Center until 6:00 p.m. each day. Beginning at 6:00 p.m., when many faculty, staff, and students have left the building, individuals may choose not to wear a face mask when social distancing is possible. Please note that if you have a class that meets at 6:00 or later, you are still required to wear a face mask in the classroom during academic instruction.

If you have questions or concerns, please contact me or Associate Dean Patricia Wilson. We are eager to address any concerns you have about returning to campus and to help all Baylor Law students navigate the year safely.

All the best,
Angela

Parking Update – Texas Sports Hall of Fame lot available as overflow

Starting on Monday, August 2, 2021, parking permits for the 2021-22 academic year will be available on the Baylor Parking Services Website: https://www.baylor.edu/dps/index.php?id=973230. Parking permits for the entire year will be $365. Permits are limited, so I recommend that you do not wait to purchase a permit if you want one.

As in the past, Baylor Parking Services has created a “law school only” option to keep other Baylor students from using our lot. If you would rather not purchase a permit, you can also park at the Ferrell Center or McLane Stadium for free and walk to the law school.

In an effort to expand the number of spots available for law students, Baylor Parking Services has worked out a deal with the Texas Sports Hall of Fame to use their parking lot (other than a few reserved spots for TSHOF visitors – look for signs designating these spots) as an overflow lot for the law school. This means that if you have a Baylor parking permit and find the lot immediately adjacent to the law school full, please check the TSHOF lot to see if there are spots available.

Finally, parking at the law school needs to be in a regular space. It is a towable offense to be parked in the grass or in the drive lane along a curb.

If you have any questions, comments, or concerns, please contact Dean Rispoli.

Baylor Law
ACCESS TO JUSTICE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM - FALL 2021

Program Overview

The Access to Justice Internship Program has a two-fold purpose: to provide a unique opportunity for law student interns with non-profit civil legal aid providers located in areas without a local law school, and to provide on-going support for law students who complete unpaid internships with non-profit civil legal aid providers located in urban areas.

The goals are to encourage students to help address the legal problems of underserved individuals and communities and to educate future attorneys about those problems. Each law student will provide direct legal services to low-income clients under the supervision of accomplished lawyers, while learning about access to justice matters, legal decision-making, advocacy skills, attorney-client relationships, and legal institutions. Each supervising attorney will provide the law student with a variety of experiences and assignments, including significant research and writing.

During the academic year 2021-2022, the Commission will provide approximately 2 to 4 internships to law students. The academic year internship will be for one of the following time frames: Fall (September – December 2021) or Spring (January – May 2022). Fall interns may apply for continued funding for the spring semester during the spring application period.

Academic year interns will receive a stipend of $3,500 per semester for 200 hours of work. Students will receive payment directly from the Texas Access to Justice Commission and will be issued a 1099 at the end of the year. The stipend is considered taxable income and students are responsible for ascertaining their own tax liability.

Each prospective intern will need to contact his/her desired legal aid organization to secure placement and must include the organization’s name and the supervising attorney on his/her application.

Internship participants will be recognized on the Commission’s website, in press releases, print publications, and in local law school media releases.

Program Detail

To be considered for an internship, each student must:

1. Complete and submit the attached application to the Commission. Applications for the Fall 2021 (September – December 2021) internship are due no later than 12pm, Friday, September 3, and must include:

   a. the intended legal aid organization at which the internship will be completed (application Section D); and

   b. a statement from the legal aid staff attorney agreeing to host the student as an intern (application Section G).

2. Complete 200 hours of work by December 31, 2021.

3. Commit to submit on or before 12pm, January 7, 2022, an end-of-internship 1,000-word essay that details his/her internship experience. The essay may be used by the respective law school to highlight the internship experience and will be published as a news release in connection with the annual Pro Bono Week celebration, as well as other places as the Commission sees fit.

4. Authorize the Commission to monitor how participation in the ATJIP has influenced his/her career (including but not limited to include periodic contact to review employment, pro bono involvement/activities, support of ATJ initiatives).

To be considered for an internship, each organization must:

1. Develop an internship position that provides the law student significant work on legal issues for a minimum of 200 hours.

2. Designate an attorney with a minimum of three years of experience who will be responsible for supervising and working with the student intern for the duration of his/her internship and communicating with Commission staff.

3. Upon selection of the supervising attorney, duties are as follows:
   a. Supervisors should ensure that each student receives an orientation about the mission of the office workplace policies and procedures, resources available, and confidentiality of information, documents and files. Supervisors are asked to provide training materials or a list of suggested readings to students.
   b. Students should be assigned to do significant legal work. Supervisors are encouraged to assign tasks based on their needs, keeping in mind that some projects and/or opportunities for observation are more suited to student objectives than others. Supervisors are asked to plan challenging, varied assignments, including substantive legal research and writing.
   c. Supervisors are responsible for monitoring and evaluating the student. If students receive work from several people, supervisors should be aware of the assignments and resolve any conflicts that arise. Students may occasionally work with non-lawyer professionals, but the student's work must be primarily legal in nature. Students are to meet regularly with his/her supervisor to discuss cases, proceedings, clients, professional responsibility issues, and activities the student has observed. Such interactions help the student develop insight into the role of lawyers.
   d. Supervisors will be asked to complete a brief survey at the end of the internship to evaluate the ATJIP as it relates to the student experience.

Available Placement Offices:
Potential interns will need to apply directly to the legal aid organization with which they want to work. The potential intern will complete Sections A – F, plus supporting documentation, and the supervising attorney will fill out Section G of the application. Selected students will be announced by Wednesday, September 8, 2021.

1. The Store remains open 8 am-5 pm, Monday-Friday, but is now located in the lobby area of the McLane Student Life Center (SLC). Students who have recently utilized The Store were notified of our continued services email, text, and through social media posts.
2. Virtually connecting via our social media outlets for the latest news. Follow us on Facebook through The Store, or follow us on Instagram @TheStoreBU.
3. Students who are struggling to get food, please contact The Store team at thestore@baylor.edu. We will work with you to determine a plan of action based on your specific circumstances.
As we encounter the rapidly changing events caused by the coronavirus (COVID-19), the Student Success Initiatives team will be supporting the prevention efforts as outlined by Baylor University officials: https://www.baylor.edu/coronavirus.

To learn more, visit: https://www.baylor.edu/ssi/index.php?id=947350.

It's on us to prevent.
It's on us to intervene.
It's on us to care.

Please be sure to take the Title IX Online Course. Through the course, students, faculty and staff learned about building healthy relationships, preventing sex-based discrimination and intervening safely should they become bystanders in an unhealthy situation.

It is important that everyone is aware of the Title IX policies and understand their role in supporting those who encounter sexual or gender-based harassment.
