Office of Access and Learning Accommodation:

Baylor University and the Office of Access and Learning Accommodation (OALA) are committed to ensuring equal access in all aspects of the college experience. OALA works with personnel from all areas of the University, especially faculty and administration, to determine how students with disabilities will meet academic requirements.

If you are considering working with OALA, please set up an appointment with Associate Dean Patricia Wilson first. To set up an appointment, please contact her assistant, Meredith Meyer, at Meredith E Meyer@baylor.edu or at 254.710.1911.

Veterans Resources:

Benefits: Baylor University participates in a number of Veterans Education Benefit Programs. You are eligible for payments under the Post-9/11 GI Bill, MGIB-AD, MGIB-SR, VEAP, or DEA programs. However, Baylor Law no longer offers the Yellow Ribbon program.

As soon as you have decided that you are attending any law school, contact the VA so that they can certify your eligibility for benefits. Once you are an admitted student, our Veterans Coordinator in the Office of the Registrar will work with you. Please contact Jessica Alford at va_benefits@baylor.edu or at 254.710.8241, and she will help you at any step along the way. She will particularly need to work with you after you have registered for classes.

Timeline: For a timeline of the process for obtaining your Post-9/11 GI Bill benefits, visit <http://www.baylor.edu/registrar/index.php?id=93415>.

For other frequently asked questions about veterans benefits, visit <http://www.baylor.edu/registrar/index.php?id=84460>.

VETS: The Veteran Educational and Transitional Services Center is a center on campus that provides veterans with resources to help them succeed in law school. See <http://www.baylor.edu/vets> for more information.

Veterans of Baylor: Veterans of Baylor is a student organization on the Baylor campus. It includes undergraduate, graduate, and professional students. The members of that organization hold frequent meetings and honor Baylor veterans and their families. If you are interested in the organization, contact Kevin Davis, Kevin.Davis@baylor.edu, who is the faculty advisor for the organization.

Military & Veterans Legal Society: The Baylor Military & Veterans Legal Society is a group dedicated to promoting scholarly discussion of the military justice system, national security, veterans affairs, and other related topics affecting law students, legal professionals, and current, former, or prospective members of the armed forces of the United States of America. Secondly, the Society hopes to foster the professional development of its members by organizing military and civilian career panels, hosting topically relevant debates, coordinating physical fitness events, and building social ties between its members, the Baylor Law community, and the citizens of the greater Waco area. Finally, it strives to provide support to current and former members of our armed forces through fundraisers and community service events.
