

William Noonan
U.S. Secret Service
Senior Cyber Advisor
Special Agent in Charge
Dallas Field Office

William Noonan is a Senior Executive and federal law enforcement special agent with over 25 years of experience with the U.S. Secret Service, focusing equally on both the protective and investigative responsibilities of the agency.

Mr. Noonan recently assumed responsibilities as the Special Agent in Charge of the Secret Service's Dallas Field Office, which is responsible for all Secret Service activities in the North Texas District, which spans from Midland to the West, to Waco, and to Tyler in the East. Previously, Mr. Noonan served as the Deputy Special Agent in Charge of the Secret Service's Criminal Investigative Division, Cyber Operations, where he oversaw the Service's cyber mission portfolio to include, the Cyber Intelligence Section, the Critical Systems Protection Program, Electronic Crimes Task Forces, and the National Cyber Forensics Institute, the Secret Service's partnerships with U.S. CERT and the National Cyber Investigative Joint Task Force, and other cyber programs.

Prior to this position, his Secret Service assignments were to the Criminal Investigative Division as the supervisor of the Cyber Investigation Branch and Regions Section, the New York Field Office as the supervisor of the Credit Card Fraud Squad, the James J. Rowley Training Center as a senior instructor, the Vice Presidential Protective Division during both the Clinton and Bush Administrations and a Secret Service Field Office in the Midwest.

Throughout his career, he initiated and managed high profile transnational fraud investigations which involved network intrusions and the theft of data, information and intellectual property from financial institutions and government systems. He began his Secret Service career investigating financial, electronic, and identity theft investigations.