Monday Healthy Tip from Monday Campaigns

How do you feel after a vigorous workout? (Besides sweaty?) If you've ever felt buzzed, you're like many who have experienced the so-called "runner's high." Scientists have been studying this post-workout sensation for years, and it may have a more complicated explanation. High-impact workouts do have an intoxicating effect on the brain, so when you get into high gear this Monday, make sure you get your brain in gear, too! Visit www.moveitmonday.org/runners-high-truth-myth.

TUESDAY
