Hello Division Colleagues,

Fall is officially upon us (September 22nd) and although it was not officially a snow day, we all woke up to find a fair amount of white across campus. We hope you all made it to class and thank you for being considerate of the weather to get your students there.

IMPACT
This weekend was a busy week for our remaining staff professional development events this semester. Dr. Byron Johnson, the Distinguished Professor of Social Sciences at Baylor, presented to us on the topic of “Global Flourishing” which truly astounded the work they are doing and it was a joy to hear him speak.

Yesterday we had the pleasure of hosting Dr. Byron Johnson for our first Staff Life Professional Development Event of the semester. Dr. Johnson is the (founding) Director of the Institute for the Studies of Religion, and a great resource to our staff and students. To learn more about his work and information about the work they do, ways students can get involved, and even job and internship opportunities. One of the most notable and visible aspects of Missions Week was the Habitat for Humanity home build. If you missed it, don’t fret, we recorded the talk and it is available (right beside “We’re Hiring”) or click HERE.

This past week was topped off by a decisive football win against Texas State. 2,000 people attended across the two show times. The weekend was capped off by a decisive football win against Texas State.

Two weekends ago we welcomed parents, siblings, grandparents, and more to Family Weekend at Baylor. Campus was a buzz all weekend as families took in a little snapshot of their student’s Baylor experience. Thanks to all who came out for Family Weekend at Baylor. Campus was a buzz all weekend as families

FACING FRAGILITY
America’s Youth and Their Future
October 11, 9 a.m. (CT)

The Baylor in Washington team is sponsoring a panel conversation about America’s Youth and Their Future. The event will take place in-person at the National Press Club and over livestream. This important topic is directly relevant to our discussions this year on Human Flourishing.

To view past Spotlight E-mails, click HERE.

MOMENTS
This past weekend, as a part of Missions Emphasis Week, Baylor students built a house on Fountain Mall.

COMING UP
For an updated professional development opportunity on Human Flourishing, check out this great opportunity from Baylor in Washington: The Baylor in Washington team is sponsoring a panel conversation about America’s Youth and Their Future.

For an updated professional development opportunity on Human Flourishing, check out this great opportunity from Baylor in Washington: