ASSOCIATE DEAN FOR BACCALAUREATE STUDIES 2001 – 2010

Classes taught in the Baccalaureate Program include Social Policy, Human Behavior and the Social Environment II, and Social Work Practice III. Classes taught in the wider Baylor University program, including Chapel Fridays and BU New Beginnings 1100, both for entering freshmen and transfer students.

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR 1997 - 1999

Eastern College (now University) St. Davids, Pennsylvania

Classes taught included social work research, human diversity and social interaction, human need and social response, practice, social welfare policy, and families and children. Created and taught an elective in basic human need: hunger and homelessness.

Selected as the Professor of the Year by the university student body for 1997-98 and 1998-99.*

Selected as the faculty elected Moderator of the Faculty Senate, 1998-1999.*

ADJUNCT PROFESSOR 1992 – 1997

Eastern University St. Davids, Pennsylvania

Classes taught included human behavior, diversity, research, and social welfare policy. Created and taught an elective course in church social work.

PRESIDENT/CEO 1993 – 1997

Greater Philadelphia Food Bank Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Served as the Chief Executive Officer of this nonprofit social service agency. Gave oversight to an annual budget of nearly $1.7 million; provided general oversight to a staff of 37 and a Board of Directors; monitored, educated, trained, and established outreach opportunities to 700 charitable agencies that fed the needy; served as a public speaker on issues surrounding poverty, including hunger; integrated services with those in the wider social agency network; formulated the public and written presentation of the work of the Food Bank in creating an awareness of the needy persons in society; and served as the official representative and the public face of the Food Bank. Moved this agency from a deficit of $200,000 to a surplus of $500,000 within four years.

Served on the National Committee to establish Best Practices in Food Banking. Served on a National Committee established by the Second Harvest CEO to create a curriculum for Executive Directors related specifically to the areas of administration, training, supervision, and networking.*

HOME MISSIONARY 1973 - 1993

North American Mission Board Atlanta, Georgia

Served as an appointed missionary, assigned to work in southeastern Pennsylvania, including Philadelphia, PA, and Camden, NJ, through the Social Ministry Department. Initial duties were centered on establishing a church and community ministry program within a congregational building but without an existing congregation. Duties in this direct service and then later, administratively, included teaching congregations to address the needs of community residents. This was accomplished by educating and training church members in how to implement non-traditional ministries such as the following: literacy classes, self-support groups, skills training classes; hunger ministries; pregnancy ministries; drug and alcohol training, age-level programs such as programs for senior adults and preschoolers, after school tutoring, recreational programs, establishing health clinics, ministering to the needy and many more. In addition to these activities, congregations were taught how to work with persons with special needs such as AIDS. Congregations were taught how to be holistic in their practical application of living their faith through daily events and relationships. Additionally, networking was taught related to working with social work agencies and other institutions in meeting human needs.

*Chosen as the first recipient of the Clovis A. Brantley Award for Outstanding Service in Christian Social Ministries in the United States, 1983.

TEACHER, ENGLISH AND BUSINESS EDUCATION 1970 – 1973
Bristol Township Independent School District Levittown, Pennsylvania
Classes taught included English and business education. Sponsored the school newspaper; helped establish the work-study program for needy students; created and taught an elective course in World Religions.

TEACHER, ENGLISH AND BUSINESS EDUCATION 1967 – 1968
Pittsburg Independent School District Pittsburg, Texas
Classes taught included English and business education. Co-sponsored the school newspaper.

Social & economic justice issues

Current Research/Scholarship Interests:

Book—Congregational Social Work—w/Diana Garland. We conducted 51 qualitative interviews with social workers who are working in and with congregations and then coded their information. We received a grant for $24,530 from the Louisville Institute to conduct the research for this book, which was published in 2014 as a seminal work on this topic.

Co-principal investigator and Director of a 3 year, $1.2 million CCM (Congregational Community Ministries) grant project from the CIOS Foundation to assist congregations in identifying and implementing church and community ministries, to train students as interns and consultants in working vocationally in congregational community ministries, and to teach a course in urban missions at Truett Seminary. Additionally, this grant enabled the creation of a new journal, Journal of Family and Community Ministry.

*Article in Baylor Line: Magazine of Baylor Alumni Association (Fall, 2006) focuses on my involvement with this grant—Reaching out: School of Social Work receives $1.1 million grant to assist churches.

Faculty Director, Baylor's Shepherd Poverty Initiative. At Baylor, this is the Baylor Interdisciplinary Poverty Initiative (BIPI). This is a groundbreaking strategic plan for an interdisciplinary poverty studies program that is designed to create a catalyst for social change around issues of poverty, civic engagement, and social and economic justice. *Article in Baylor Magazine: Engaging Poverty—Addressing the Issues of a Global Crisis by Starting across the Street (Spring, 2009) focuses on my involvement and the wider Baylor campus's involvement with issues of poverty. A Minor in Poverty Studies and Social Justice was created and is housed in the Baylor School of Social Work. A grant for $150,000 was given to start the Baylor Interdisciplinary Poverty Initiative.

Associate Director of a 30 months, $2.1 million FASTEN (Faith & Service Technical Education Network; funded by the Pew Charitable Trusts) research project to identify effective practices of social services programs that are operated by faith-based organizations (including congregations) that address challenges created by urban poverty; a specific focus of the project is to document models of multi-sector collaborative partnerships.

Literacy—working with the L.E.A.F. program (Learning English Among Friends) in partnership with the Baptist General Convention of Texas (BGCT), the School of Education, and the School of Social Work. This program is based on Family Literacy and collaborations between universities and communities to empower people in need, focusing on Hispanic families in South Waco. Grants received--$10,000 from Allergan, $30,000 from the Baylor/ Waco Foundation, and $45,000 from the Rapoport Foundation.

CityCore Initiative—Principal Investigator of a $42,000 research initiative in collaboration with the BGCT to research opportunities for individual and community transformation through the creation and establishment of instruments for asset mapping and needs assessment for congregations located within the city core.

Lilly Foundation Fellow—selected as a Lilly Foundation Fellow for the Summer, 2001. Studied at Samford University in Birmingham, Alabama on the seminar topic: Spirituality and Social Justice: Lessons Learned from the Civil Rights Movement. *Article in Baylor Magazine (Sept/Oct, 2002)—focuses on my involvement in justice issues through an article entitled Lessons Learned from the Civil Rights Movement.
